Trends and Prospects

The paper studies global developments and world politics in the late 20th – early 21st centuries that contributed to the post-Cold War transformations of international system. It argues that the international system has undergone significant transformations for a short historical period, and has shifted from a bipolar to unipolar and then to multipolar world order. The contemporary multipolar world order is more unstable and unpredictable than its two previous forms. A further direction of the international system development will be greatly determined by the global community's response on Russia and ISIS' challenges.

Key words: international system, world politics, post-Cold War period, the U.S. global leadership, regional integration, Ukraine crisis

For the last 25 years, the international system has undergone fundamental transformations. The most evident of them include the end of the bipolar world order and shaping the new one, a shift in the U.S. role in the global affairs, emerging of new centers of power, diffuse of power among different state and non-state actors, regional integration processes, a growing role of leading developing nations in the global economy and politics, a return to ideological confrontation and a struggle between different developmental models, a rise of nationalism and untraditional security threats, including terrorism and militant extremism. The speed of the transformations is unprecedented, largely because of globalization process and dynamic technological changes that are distinctive features of the present époque.

In modern and contemporary history, fundamental transformations of international system proceeded from the results of great wars. Thus, the establishment of the Westphalia international system was the result of the 1618-1648 Thirty years war, the 19th century Vienna system proceeded from the allies victory over Napoleon, the Versailles-Washington system fixed the results of the World War I as well as Yalta system played the same part for the post-World War II international relations.

Contemporary transformations do not fit the scheme. They started in the late 1980s together with M. Gorbachov's reforms and the "new thinking" policy. These developments stopped

Arms Trade Problems And Prospects In The Post Cold War World:

The Arms Trade, Security and Conflict Paul Levine, Ron Smith, 2003-05-15 An area of huge concern to many people around the world the economics of the Arms Industry are a vital strand that needs to be understood This volume brings together contributors from all over the globe and focuses on this important area

Arms Trade: Problems and Prospects in the Post-Cold War World: The Annals of The American Academy of Political and Social Science, Volume 535 Robert E. Harkavy, 1994

Arms Transfers, Neutrality and Britain's Role in the Cold War Marco Wyss, 2012-10-12 Marco Wyss examines the extensive Anglo Swiss armaments relationship between 1945 and 1958 in light of their bilateral relations and thereby assesses the role of arms transfers neutrality and Britain as well as the two countries relationship during the Cold War

Taking Aim at the Arms Trade Doctor Anna Stavrianakis, 2013-07-18 Taking Aim at The Arms Trade NGOs Global Civil Society and the World Military Order takes a critical look at the ways in which NGOs portray the arms trade as a problem of international politics and the strategies they use to effect change NGOs have been pivotal in bringing the suffering caused by the arms trade to public attention documenting its negative impact on human rights conflict security and development around the world and pushing for measures to control or eradicate the trade Overall however their activity has helped sideline debate on Northern military predominance while facilitating intervention in the South based on liberal understandings of the arms trade conflict development and human rights They thus contribute to the perpetuation of a hierarchical world military order and the construction of the South as a site of Northern benevolence and intervention Stavrianakis exposes the tensions inherent in NGOs engagement with the arms trade and argues for a re examination of dominant assumptions about NGOs as global civil society actors

The Arms Trade Robert E. Harkavy, Stephanie G. Neuman, 1994 The contributions presented here will we hope provide a panoramic perspective on most of the important aspects of arms transfers Some such as those on supplier markets or on arms control represent the latest thinking and information on subjects that have long been the focus of attention in the arms trade literature Others such as the contributions on financing and intelligence represent initial attempts at opening up new areas of inquiry

Preface

Global and Regional Approaches to Arms Control in the Middle East Gamal M. Selim, 2013-07-11 Since the end of the Cold War the Middle East has been the focus of various projects for the establishment of arms control including CBMs regimes Whereas some of these projects were initiated at the global level others were discussed and debated at the regional level This book analyses the global and regional dynamics of arms control in the Middle East in the post Cold War era It examines American and European arms control projects the contexts in which they were presented the reactions of major regional actors and their impacts on arms control efforts in the region It assesses Arab perceptions of the motivations for and constraints on establishing arms control regimes It also explores the prospects of regional arms control in the context of the ongoing Arab Spring with its ramifications for Arab regional politics and provides a new perspective on arms control in the Middle East

This volume enriches the ongoing discourse which to date has been dominated by mainly Western perspectives Ibss: Political Science: 1994 British Library of Political and Economic Science at the London School of Economics, 1995-12-08 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences

Weapons Proliferation in the 1990s Brad Roberts, 1995 The proliferation of weapons of mass destruction has emerged as a major topic of international security in the post Cold War world This compendium of articles published in The Washington Quarterly between 1991 and 1995 describes the changing nature of the problem discusses new trends in nonproliferation and counterproliferation policy identifies new arms control challenges at the regional and global levels and concludes by addressing the global politics of proliferation

Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy Timothy D. Hoyt, 2017-07-05 Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy re examines military industrialization in the developing world focusing on policy making in producer states and the impact of security perceptions on such policy making Timothy D Hoyt reassesses the role of regional state sub systems in international relations and recent historical studies of international technology and arms transfers Looking at Israel Iraq and India the three most powerful regional powers in the Cold War era he presents an expert analysis of the three sided phenomena of the regional hegemony the regional competitor and the small over achiever This new book breaks away from existing literature on military industries in the developing world which has focused on their economic and development costs and benefits These past studies have used primitive methodologies that focus on the production of complete weapons systems a misleading gauge in a world of growing international defense cooperation They have also ignored empirical evidence of the impact of local military industrial production on Cold War regional conflict and of the defence planning and concerns that drove development of indigenous military industries in key regional powers This new text delivers an incisive new perspective

Moral Issues in International Affairs Bill McSweeney, 2016-07-27 A number of eminent international scholars have come together in this volume to address the question of morality in international affairs and to explore some of the central normative issues which arise in the context of European integration The essays examine the general question of morality and address specific areas of concern in the proposals for further integration

The Politics and Economics of Defence Industries Efraim Inbar, Ben Zion Zilberfarb, 2013-09-13 This volume provides a policy relevant analysis of the complex web of contemporary economic trends political developments and strategic considerations that are shaping the contours of the new post Cold War world market for weaponry

Arms Trade and Europe Paul Cornish, 1995-03-12 Focusing on conventional weapons rather than nuclear biological and chemical ones this book draws attention to important differences within the EU between the trade in finished weapons and the technology used to make them It examines West European efforts since 1945 to manage both sides of conventional defence related trade and the political industrial technological and conceptual obstacles to effective multilateral co ordination and regulation The book argues that in current European and international circumstances recent EU initiatives have limited prospects and may prove to be counterproductive Under the Counter and Over the Border Mark Phythian, 2013-03-09 Although the illicit arms trade has evolved over recent years despite the end of the Cold War it appears to be as vibrant as ever From Bosnia and Kosovo to Angola and Sierra Leone illicit arms flows have played a key role in areas of contemporary instability and violence Against this background this volume brings together studies of several key issues relating to this trade the changing nature of the illicit arms trade the origins of the Iran Contra affair the flow of illicit arms from post communist Russia the role of France in arming the genocide in Rwanda the question of the role of private security companies in areas of instability and the prospects of controlling the illicit trade in small arms This timely volume will be essential reading for courses in Criminology War and Peace Studies International Politics and African and other Area Studies which deal with arms trafficking and conflict issues Old Issues and New Strategies in Arms Control and Verification James Brown, 1995 This volume is based on papers commissioned for and presented at the Fifth Annual International Arms Control and Verification Conference held by the John

G Tower Center for Political Studies of Southern Methodist University Dallas Texas Post-Cold War Security Issues in the Asia-Pacific Region Colin McInnes, Mark Rolls, 2013-07-23 The Asia Pacific region presents a challenge to international security in the post Cold War era Doubts as to the US military commitment concern with Japan s security aspirations build up of military capabilities and the nuclear ambitions of North Korea have further heightened tension Technology and Security in the 21st Century Amitav Mallik, 2004 The Global Arms Trade Andrew T. H. Tan, 2014-05-22 The Global Arms Trade is a timely comprehensive and in depth study of this topic a phenomenon which has continued to flourish despite the end of the Cold War and the preoccupation with global terrorism after 11 September 2001 It provides a clear description and analysis of the demand for and supply of modern weapons systems and assess key issues of concern This book will be especially useful to scholars policy analysts those in the arms industry defence professionals students of international relations and security studies media professionals government officials and those generally interested in the arms trade

Cascade of Arms Andrew J. Pierre, 1997-11-01 With the post cold war emphasis on the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction the neglected dimension has been the spread of advanced conventional arms Yet these are the arms most likely to be used in conflict They present the greatest diversion from economic and social development and are the centerpiece of regional security balances This book examines the policies and practices of the major arms supplying nations looks at the impact of weapons purchases on the principal recipient regions and the possibilities for regional arms control and dissects the economics of arms exports for the producer nations in both the developing and industrialized worlds The book thoroughly discusses the opportunities for and obstacles to achieving multilateral restraint on arms In addition to the editor contributors are Ian Anthony Stockholm International Peace Research Institute Nicole Ball Overseas Development Council Julian Cooper University of Birmingham Lawrence Freedman and Martin Navias King s College London Rodney Jones Policy Architects
