English and Development Elizabeth J. Erling, Philip Seargeant, 2013-05-16 This book investigates the relationship between English and personal and national development as this is both discursively promoted particularly through language policy and practically realized in developing societies It addresses the effects that the increased use of English and the promotion of English language education are having in developmental contexts and their impact on broader educational issues on local language ecologies and on questions of cultural identity It investigates these issues by drawing together a series of original

Cinema of Small Nations Mette Hjort, 2007-11-21 Within cinema studies there has emerged a significant body of scholarship on the idea of National Cinema but there has been a tendency to focus on the major national cinemas Less developed within this field is the analysis of what we might term minor or small national cinemas despite the increasing significance of these small entities with the international domain of moving image production distribution and consumption The Cinema of Small Nations is the first major analysis of small national cinemas comprising twelve case studies of small national and sub national cinemas from around the world including Ireland Denmark Iceland Scotland Bulgaria Tunisia

Burkina Faso Cuba Singapore Taiwan Hong Kong and New Zealand Written by an array of distinguished and emerging scholars each of the case studies provides a detailed analysis of the particular cinema in question with an emphasis on the last decade considering both institutional and textual issues relevant to the national dimension of each cinema While each chapter contains an in depth analysis of the particular cinema in question the book as a whole provides the basis for a broader and more properly comparative understanding of small or minor national cinemas particularly with regard to structural constraints and possibilities the impact of globalization and internationalisation and the role played by economic and cultural factors in small nation contexts

Communities of Imagination Catherine Diamond, 2016-11-30 Asian theatre is usually studied from the perspective of the major traditions of China Japan India and Indonesia Now in this wide ranging look at the contemporary theatre scene in Southeast Asia Catherine Diamond shows that performance in some of the lesser known theatre traditions offers a vivid and fascinating picture of the rapidly changing societies in the region Diamond examines how traditional modern and contemporary dramatic works with their interconnected styles stories and ideas are being presented for local audiences She not only places performances in their historical and cultural contexts but also connects them to the social political linguistic and religious movements of the last two decades Each chapter addresses theatre in a different country and highlights performances exhibiting the unique conditions and concerns of a particular place and time Most performances revolve in some manner around contemporary modernity questioning what it means for good or ill to be a part of the globalized world Chapters are grouped by three general and overlapping themes The first which includes Thailand Vietnam and Bali is characterized by the increased participation of women in the performing arts not only as performers but also as playwrights and directors Cambodia Singapore and Myanmar are linked by a shared concern with the effects of censorship on theatre production A third group the Philippines Laos and Malaysia is distinguished by a focus on nationalism theatres are either contributing to official versions of historical and political events or creating alternative narratives that challenge those interpretations Communities of Imagination shows the many influences of the past and how the past continues to affect cultural perceptions It addresses major trends suggesting why they have developed and why they are popular with the public It also underscores how theatre continues to attract new practitioners and reflect the changing aspirations and anxieties of societies in immediate and provocative ways even as it is being marginalized by television film and the internet The book will be of interest to students and scholars of theatre and performance Asian literature Southeast Asian studies cultural studies and gender studies Travelers wishing to attend local performances as part of their experience abroad will find it an essential reference to theatres of the region
