The Reciprocal Modular Brain in Economics and Politics Gerald A. Cory Jr.,2012-12-06 The present work is an extension of my doctoral thesis done at Stanford in the early 1970s In one clear sense it responds to the call for consilience by Edward O Wilson I agree with Wilson that there is a pressing need in the sciences today for the unification of the social with the natural sciences I consider the present work to proceed from the perspective of behavioral ecology specifically a subfield which I choose to call interpersonal behavioral ecology th Ecology as a general field has emerged in the last quarter of the 20 century as a major theme of concern as we have become increasingly aware that we must preserve the planet whose limited resources we share with all other earthly creatures Interpersonal behavioral ecology however focuses not on the physical environment but upon our social environment It concerns our interpersonal behavioral interactions at all levels from simple dyadic one to one personal interactions to our larger even global social economic and political interactions Interpersonal behavioral ecology as I see it then is concerned with our behavior toward each other from the most obvious behaviors of war between nations to excessive competition exploitation crime abuse and even to the ways in which we interact with each other as individuals in the family in our social lives in the workplace and in the marketplace The Consilient Brain Gerald A. Cory Jr.,2012-12-06 The present work is the third in a series constituting an extension of my doctoral thesis done at Stanford in the early 1970s Like the earlier works The Reciprocal Modular Brain in Economics and Politics Shaping the Rational and Moral Basis of Organization Exchange and Choice Kluwer Academic/Plenum Publishing 1999 and Toward Consilience The Bioneurological Basis of Behavior Thought Experience and Language Kluwer Academic/Plenum Publishing 2000 it may also be considered to respond to the call for consilience by Edward O Wilson I agree with Wilson that there is a pressing need in the sciences today for the unification of the social with the natural sciences I consider the present work to proceed from the perspective of behavioral ecology specifically a subfield which I choose to call interpersonal behavioral ecology Ecology as a general field has emerged in the last quarter of the 20th century as a major theme of concern as we have become increasingly aware that we must preserve the planet whose limited resources we share with all other earthly creatures Interpersonal behavioral ecology however focuses not on the physical environment but upon our social environment It concerns our interpersonal behavioral interactions at all levels from simple dyadic one to one personal interactions to our larger even global social economic and political interactions Price Dynamics in

Equilibrium Models Jan Tuinstra,2012-12-06 A long standing unsolved problem in economic theory is how economic equilibria are attained Price Dynamics in Equilibrium Models The Search for Equilibrium and the Emergence of Endogenous Fluctuations considers a number of adjustment processes in different economic models and investigates their dynamical behaviour Two important themes arising in this context are bounded rationality and nonlinear dynamics Important sub themes of the book are the following how do boundedly rational agents interact with their environment and does this interaction in some sense lead to rational outcomes which may or may not correspond to equilibria The second sub theme deals with the consequences of the nonlinear dynamical nature of many adjustment processes The results presented in this volume indicate that endogenous fluctuations are the rule rather than the exception in the search for equilibrium The book uses the theory of nonlinear dynamics to analyze the dynamics of the different economic models Due to the complexity of most of the models an important role is played by computational methods In particular at regular instances the models are analyzed by numerical simulations and some computer assisted proofs are provided It also covers a wide range of dynamical models from economic theory Most of these models merge the theory of nonlinear economic dynamics with the theory of bounded rationality The book is written for anyone with an interest in economic theory in general and bounded rationality and endogenous fluctuations in particular It is entirely self contained and accessible to readers with only a limited knowledge of economic theory

Game and Economic Theory Sergiu Hart, Abraham Neyman, 1995 Outstanding works showing the application of game theory to economic theory

Multilateralism Versus Regionalism Meine Pieter van Dijk, Sandro Sideri, 2005-06-28 The issue of regionalism versus multilateral agreements such as the Uruguay Round remains a crucial one as is argued in the first five chapters of this volume

Copyright Versus Open Access Marc Scheufen, 2014-12-29 This book addresses the recent debate about copyright law and its impact on the distribution of scientific knowledge from an economic perspective The focus is on the question whether a copyright regime or an open access regime is better suited to the norms and organizational structure in a purely global science community The book undertakes a thorough economic analysis of the academic journal market and showcases consequences of a regime change It also takes account of the Digital Divide debate reflecting issues in developing countries Finally a comprehensive analysis of legal action in the light of international Intellectual Property IP agreements offers prospects on the future of academic publishing

The Handbook of Experimental Economics John H. Kagel, Alvin E. Roth, 2020-05-05 This book which comprises eight chapters presents a comprehensive critical survey of the results and methods of laboratory experiments in economics The first chapter provides an introduction to experimental economics as a whole with the remaining chapters providing surveys by leading practitioners in areas of economics that have seen a concentration of experiments public goods coordination problems bargaining industrial organization asset markets auctions and individual decision making The work aims both to help specialists set an agenda for future research and to provide nonspecialists with a critical review of work completed to date Its focus is on elucidating the role of experimental studies as a progressive research tool so that wherever possible emphasis is on series of experiments that build on one another The contributors to the volume Colin Camerer Charles A Holt John H Kagel John O Ledyard Jack Ochs Alvin E Roth and Shyam Sunder adopt a particular methodological point of view the way to learn how to design and conduct experiments is to consider how good experiments grow organically out of the issues and hypotheses they are designed to investigate

Risk, Uncertainty and Rational Action Carlo C. Jaeger, Thomas Webler, Eugene A. Rosa, Orwin

Renn,2013-11-05 Risk as we now know it is a wholly new phenomenon the by product of our ever more complex and powerful technologies In business policy making and in everyday life it demands a new way of looking at technological and environmental uncertainty In this definitive volume four of the world s leading risk researchers present a fundamental critique of the prevailing approaches to understanding and managing risk the rational actor paradigm They show how risk studies must incorporate the competing interests values and rationalities of those involved and find a balance of trust and acceptable risk Their work points to a comprehensive and significant new theory of risk and uncertainty and of the decision making process they require The implications for social political and environmental theory and practice are enormous Winner of the 2000 2002 Outstanding Publication Award of the Section on Environment and Technology of the American Sociological Association How Economics Became a Mathematical Science E.
