Racial Difference and the Colonial Wars of 19th Century Southeast Asia Farish Ahmad-Noor, Peter-Brian Ramsay Carey, 2025-10-01 The colonisation of Southeast Asia was a long and often violent process where numerous military campaigns were waged by the colonial powers across the region The notion of racial difference was crucial in many of these wars as native Southeast Asian societies were often framed in negative terms as savage and backward communities that needed to be subdued and civilised This collection of critical essays focuses on the colonial construction of race and looks at how the colonial wars in 19th century Southeast Asia were rationalised via recourse to theories of racial difference making race a significant factor in the wars of Empire Looking at the colonial wars in Java Borneo Siam the Philippines the Malay Peninsula and other parts of Southeast Asia the essays examine the manner in which the idea of racial difference was weaponised by the colonising powers and how forms of local resistance often worked through such colonial structures of identity politics

Japan's Peace-Building Diplomacy in Asia Peng Er Lam, 2009-06-02 The conventional portrayal of Japan s role in international affairs is of a passive political player which despite its position as the world s second largest economic power punches below its weight on the world stage its foreign policy driven by Washington mercantilism and constrained by domestic pacifism This book examines Japan s emerging identity as an important participant in conflict prevention and peace building in Southeast and South Asia demonstrating that Japan has increasingly sought a positive and active political role commensurate with its economic pre eminence The book considers Japanese involvement in many of the region s most serious recent conflicts including Japan s part in the brokering and maintaining of peace in Cambodia which in 1992 saw the first dispatch of troops abroad by Tokyo since the end of World War II and the attempts to bring peace to Aceh Sri Lanka East Timor and Mindanao The Japanese example when compared with other countries prominent in the fields of conflict prevention suggests that Tokyo given its pacifist strategic culture relies on diplomacy and Official Development Assistance rather than peace enforcement through military means Overall this book provides a lucid appraisal of Japan s overall foreign policy as well as its new role in conflict prevention and peace building analysing the reasons behind this shift towards an active international role and assessing the degree of success it has enjoyed
