Martin Johns,Walter De La Mare,1945 Presenting America's World Tamar Y. Rothenberg,2016-12-05 National Geographic magazine is probably the most visible and popular expression of geography in the USA Presenting America's World presents a critical analysis of the world portrayed by National Geographic from its formative years in the nineteenth century through to 1945 It situates the National Geographic Society's development within the context of a new American overseas expansionism interrogates the magazine as America's ubiquitous source of wholesome exotica and erotica examines the ways in which it framed the world for its millions of readers and questions its participation in the cultural work of US global hegemony The book argues that National Geographic successfully employed strategies of innocence a contradictory stance of representation which simultaneously asserts innocence either the innocence of just watching or the innocence of altruistic behaviour while naturalizing Western hegemony Presenting America's World not only considers the world that National Geographic presented to its readers but also examines the magazine's own institutional world of writers photographers and editors Particular attention is paid to Gilbert H Grosvenor the magazine's editor for over 50 years Maynard Owen Williams a writer and photographer who worked on nearly 100 articles from 1919 to 1960 and Harriet Chalmers Adams a freelancer explorer and Pan American activist who contributed 21 articles Information Arts Stephen Wilson,2003-02-28 An introduction to the work and ideas of artists who use and even influence science and technology A new breed of contemporary artist engages science and technology not just to adopt the vocabulary and gizmos but to explore and comment on the content agendas and possibilities Indeed proposes Stephen Wilson the role of the artist is not only to interpret and to spread scientific knowledge but to be an active partner in determining the direction of research Years ago C P Snow wrote about the two cultures of science and the humanities these developments may finally help to change the outlook of those who view science and technology as separate from the general culture In this rich compendium Wilson offers the first comprehensive survey of international artists who incorporate concepts and research from mathematics the physical sciences biology kinetics telecommunications and experimental digital systems such as artificial intelligence and ubiquitous computing In addition to visual documentation and statements by the artists Wilson examines relevant art theoretical writings and explores emerging scientific and technological research likely to be culturally significant in the future He also provides lists of resources including organizations publications conferences museums research centers and Web sites

Drawing as a Way of Knowing in Art and Science Gemma Anderson-Tempini, 2017-10-01 In recent history the arts and sciences have often been considered opposing fields of study but a growing trend in drawing research is beginning to bridge this divide Gemma Anderson's Drawing as a Way of Knowing in Art and Science introduces tested ways in which drawing as a research practice can enhance morphological insight specifically within the natural sciences mathematics and art Inspired and informed by collaboration with contemporary scientists and Goethe's studies of morphology as well as the work of artist Paul Klee this book presents drawing as a means of developing and disseminating knowledge and of understanding and engaging with the diversity of natural and theoretical forms such as animal vegetable mineral and four dimensional shapes Anderson shows that drawing can offer a means of scientific discovery and can be integral to the creation of new knowledge in science as well as in the arts

The Shock of Recognition Lewis Pyenson, 2020-10-12 In The Shock of Recognition Lewis Pyenson uses a method called Historical Complementarity to identify the motif of non figurative abstraction in modern art and science He identifies the motif in Picasso's and Einstein's educational environments He shows how this motif in domestic furnishing and in urban lighting set the stage for Picasso's and Einstein's professional success before 1914 He applies his method to intellectual life in Argentina using it to address that nation's focus on an inventory of the natural world until the 1940s its adoption of non figurative art and nuclear physics in the middle of the twentieth century and attention to landscape painting and the wonder of nature at the end of the century

C. Day-Lewis: The Golden Bridle Albert Gelpi, Bernard O'Donoghue, 2018-01-26 C Day Lewis was a major figure in British poetry and culture from the 1930s until his death in 1972 The Golden Bridle Selected Prose takes its title from the myth of Bellerophon and the golden bridle of Pegasus which Day Lewis invoked on several occasions as a metaphor for the creative process Day Lewis as poet is then the organizing idea of this anthology and the selections indicate the scope and range of his vital engagement with English life and letters Organised into four parts the volume illustrates Day Lewis's reflections on the role and function of poetry in society and culture the creative process and the workings of the imagination as well as the nature of poetic truth and its relation to science poets who were of particular importance to Day Lewis and the poetic process in relation to the composition of several of his own poems The notes indicate the particular source circumstances and central issues of each piece to provide a brief intellectual biography and critical account of this eminent poet's development and standing

Rousseau,1991 Perspectives on Methodology in Consumer Research David Brinberg,Richard J. Lutz,2012-12-06

Methodological advances in consumer behavior are increasing rapidly We can characterize these advances by work in two logically separate but functionally related areas a the philosophical underpinnings of our methods and b the analytic strategies for examining the phenomena of interest in the field An important aspect in communicating these advances is the demonstration of their use on focal problems in consumer behavior Current research strategies and analytic techniques in the field of consumer research reflect the dominant logical empiricist epistemology The development of new epistemologies e g scientific relativism hypothetical realism however is likely to modify the dominant logical empiricist approach and is also likely to influence the analytic strategies used to conduct research For instance with the increased awareness of scientific relativism and hypothetical realism greater emphasis is anticipated for idiographic rather than nomothetic designs for observational rather than experimental designs for process rather than static analyses and for more sophisticated techniques for summarizing findings across studies The major theme underlying this volume is that conceptual analytic and substantive diversity are essential for consumer behavior research to advance Collectively the chapters we present in this volume are a diverse set of perspectives for the study of consumer behavior This volume is organized into three parts 1 philosophical orientations toward consumer behavior research 2 analytic strategies for consumer behavior research and 3 applications of these orientations and strategies to current research areas Journal of the Society of Architectural Historians Society of Architectural Historians,1946 Includes special issues The Publishers Weekly ,1887 Hölderlin's "Ars poetica" Emery Edward George,2019-01-14 No detailed description available for Hölderlin's Ars poetica Catalog of the Avery Memorial Architectural Library of Columbia University Avery Library,1958 Vistas in Astronomy Arthur Beer,2016-06-03 Vistas in Astronomy Volume 1 Co operation and Organization History and Philosophy Dynamics Theoretical Astrophysics Instruments Radio Astronomy Solar Physics brings together the ideas that form the structural units of what is known about astronomy This book is organized into seven sections encompassing 93 chapters Section I provides a summary of the significant contributions of international cooperation and various astronomy related organizations in the advancement of astronomy Section II highlights the historical developments in astronomy from the early studies of the Egyptians to the formulation of philosophical concepts of cosmology Sections III and IV describes the dynamic and theoretical aspects of astrophysics These sections consider research studies on stellar dynamics atmospheres and magnetic fields as well as the formation of condensation in a gaseous nebula Part V is devoted to the developments in telescope optics and mirrors spectrographs electronic calculating machines and photometers while Section VI examines the field of radio astronomy Part VII looks into solar physics related studies including the structure and movements of sunspots eclipse observation and spectroscopic investigations of the solar corona This book is of great value to astronomers astrophysicists solar physicists and researchers in the allied fields Catalog of the Avery Memorial Architectural Library of Columbia University:
