Women's Activism, Feminism, and Social Justice Margaret A. McLaren, 2019 A wide range of issues besieges women globally including economic exploitation sexist oppression racial ethnic and caste oppression and cultural imperialism This book builds a feminist social justice framework from practices of women's activism in India to understand and work to overcome these injustices The feminist social justice framework provides an alternative to mainstream philosophical frameworks that promote global gender justice for example universal human rights economic projects such as microfinance and cosmopolitanism McLaren demonstrates that these frameworks are bound by a commitment to individualism and an abstract sense of universalism that belies their root neo liberalism Arguing that these frameworks emphasize individualism over interdependence similarity over diversity and individual success over collective capacity McLaren draws on the work of Rabindranath Tagore to develop the concept of relational cosmopolitanism Relational cosmopolitanism prioritizes our connections while crucially acknowledging the reality of power differences Extending Iris Young's theory of political responsibility McLaren shows how Fair Trade connects to the economic solidarity movement The Self Employed Women's Association and MarketPlace India empower women through access to livelihoods as well as fostering leadership capabilities that allow them to challenge structural injustice through political and social activism Their struggles to resist economic exploitation and gender oppression through collective action show the vital importance of challenging individualist approaches to achieving gender justice The book is a rallying call for a shift in our thinking and practice towards re imagining the possibilities for justice from a relational framework from independence to interdependence from identity to intersectionality and from interest to socio political imagination ENVISIONING THE CHANGING DIMENSIONS OF WOMEN'S RIGHTS: ISSUES AND CHALLENGES TRISHLA SINGH, MUDITA

and provide them with a sense of empowering commonality Although the plasticity afforded identity has freed up rigid definitions and guidelines for affiliation some believe that nebulous demarcations of identity may deprive women of a solid position from which to effectively contest centers of power Bringing together articles by well known authors and theorists such as Audre Lorde June Jordan Daphne Patai Barbara Smith Marilyn Frye Shane Phelan Leila J Rupp Hazel Carby and Adrienne Rich with lesser known writers and scholars this broad based anthology ranges widely from personal narratives to empirical research The book unpacks issues of race class gender ethnicity sexuality disability and age contributing a m lange of sharp lively perspectives to current debate In a postmodern era of feminism how do women come to identify organize and mobilize themselves within a complex global network of relationships Identity Politics in the Women s Movement offers critical examination of the inescapable role of identity in academic and activist feminism and the opportunities challenges and conflicts identity politics pose

Quality of sexual and reproductive health care: strengths, gaps, and challenges for midwifery care Ramon Escuriet,Lorena Binfa , Loreto Pantoja,2025-02-18 Poor quality of sexual and reproductive care SRC persists despite countries commitments to international conferences The challenges posed by the COVID 19 pandemic reversed trends in maternal and neonatal mortality and contraception rates increasing unmet family planning needs and gender based violence Evidence shows that midwifery care has made an essential contribution to the development of high quality services in maternal and childcare The introduction of midwifery professionals trained according to international standards and integrated into the health system can provide around 90% of primary health care for women and newborns including family planning These skilled professionals can save lives and improve the health and well being of women and newborn infants at a scale unmatched by other health interventions Evidence identified 56 outcomes improved by the full scope of midwifery The weight of sexual and reproductive health on general health and wellbeing has a greater impact on women particularly those that are neglected to receive high quality SRC Providing high quality SRC demands more humanized and integrated efficient and effective services with a greater emphasis on quality both from a technical perspective and from the user experience Despite all the efforts the quality of SRC is still a challenge globally research is needed to identify best practices addressing quality care tailored to individuals implementation of models of care that enhance both well being and safety optimization of physiological processes during childbirth as well as validation of outcomes measures

Trends and Challenges in Management R. Rajkumar, Dr.M. Ganesh Babu, Ms. J. Lydia, Ms. N. Kogila,2014 Ageing, Corporeality and Embodiment Chris Gilleard,Paul Higgs,2013-05-15 Ageing Corporeality and Embodiment outlines and develops an argument about the emergence of a new ageing during the second half of the twentieth century and its realisation through the processes of embodiment The authors argue that ageing as a unitary social process and agedness as a distinct social location have lost much of their purchase on the social imagination Instead this work asserts that later life has become as much a field for not becoming old as of old age The volume locates the origins of this transformation in the cultural ferment of the 1960s when new forms of embodiment concerned with identity and the care of the self arose as mass phenomena Over time these new forms of embodiment have been extended changing the traditional relationship between body age and society by making struggles over the care of the self central to the cultures of later life
