Changing Faces Sean J. Marshall, 2012-06 I came into this world Sean John Marshall I am twenty seven years old and was born and raised in Colorado Springs Colorado I am a fine artist author a proud father of one beautiful baby girl and an all around entrepreneur But all of my pursuits came to an abrupt halt when I was consumed by a life of crime For so long I became a part of a problem Growing up in and around the streets I've caused much destruction in my lifetime I've been a part of gang violence sold drugs and was involved in countless thefts and armed robberies Now my life's focus is to inspire teach uplift and mend I now use life's experiences to grow and learn I feel obligated to pass on all the insight and knowledge I've obtained throughout the years to whoever I can By doing so people can learn from my mistakes and use me as an example because I've seen darker truths that people need not witness themselves I've walked rocky paths on which those can only stumble And if by sharing my views on paper and pouring my heart out through a pen can inspire or save just one life if by writing I can prevent someone from making some of the same mistakes I've made I will have done my part I will have at least saved one soul from having to suffer the afflictions I've faced And for that reason alone I write And for that reason alone I'll forever share my truths Colophon Changing Faces George Tscherny, 2004-10-28 Perception is fragile and easily

The Changing Faces of Ireland Merike Darmody, Naomi Tyrrell, Steve Song, 2011-10-22 Before the economic boom of the 1990s Ireland was known as a nation of emigrants The past fifteen years however have seen the transformation of Ireland from a country of net emigration to one of net immigration on a scale and at a pace unprecedented in comparative context As a result Irish society has become more diverse in terms of nationality language ethnicity and religious affiliation and these changes are now clearly reflected in the composition of both primary and secondary schools presenting these with challenges as well as opportunities Despite the increased number of ethnically diverse immigrant children and young people in the Ireland currently there is a paucity of information about aspects of their lives in Ireland This book is aimed at contributing to this gap in knowledge This edited collection will be of interest to researchers in the fields of migration studies childhood studies education studies human geography sociology applied social studies social work health studies and psychology It will also be a useful resource to educators social workers youth workers and community members working with or preparing to work with children with immigrant and ethnic minority backgrounds in Ireland

The Changing Faces of Citizenship Joyce Marie Mushaben, 2008-10-01 In contrast to most migration studies that focus on specific foreigner groups in Germany this study simultaneously compares and contrasts the legal political social and economic opportunity structures facing diverse categories of the ethnic minorities who have settled in the country since the 1950s It reveals the contradictory and usually self defeating nature of German policies intended to keep migrants out allegedly in order to preserve a German Leitkultur with which very few of its own citizens still identify The main barriers to effective integration and socioeconomic revitalization in general sooner lie in the country's obsolete labor market regulations and bureaucratic procedures Drawing on local case studies personal interviews and national surveys the author describes the human faces behind official citizenship and integration practices in Germany and in doing so demonstrates that average citizens are much more multi cultural than they realize

Appearance, Discrimination and the Media Diana Garrisi, Laima Janciute, Jacob Johanssen, 2018-07-27 The portrayal of disfigurement in the UK media must change This policy brief is based on recent research that found a general negative and sensationalised attitude towards disfigurement in the media Disfigurement is a condition that can affect anyone at any time in life regardless their social or demographic background due to accidents or health conditions or be congenital In the UK one in 111 people have facial disfigurements In order to improve the ways in which media portray disfigurement this policy brief argues that media should move away from sensationalised coverage on disfigurement and focus instead on the lived experiences of individuals with this condition It recommends strengthening diversity oriented editorial practices and training as well as media literacy education In addition it addresses the lack of guidelines on the portrayal of disfigurement and urges regulatory bodies to be more efficient in handling complaints Changing Faces of Socialism Mizanur Rahman Khan,1989

Disfigurement Lise Deguire,Miriam Jaffe,2025-09-01 Disfigurement Understanding Visible Difference is a collection of essays which brings together an all star cast of researchers clinicians advocates and activists around the world many of whom have lived experience with disfigurement Seeking to reduce stigma around disfigurement they explore the experience of looking different including interventions to help with social integration social media issues and prejudice towards physical difference The collection serves as a call for activism and offers a direction for future research This book responds to the three themes prevalent in the literature on disfigurement 1 the psychosocial aspects of body image and identity 2 interventions and 3 representations of disfigurement In section one the book explores the psychosocial aspects of body image and identity among people with disfigurement Section two looks at interventions including those involving social media In response to this misrepresentation section three offers the voices of people who are helping to change public opinions through media and activism This book is invaluable reading for all clinicians researchers activists people with disfigurement and those who care about them Disfigurement Understanding Visible Difference is a crucial resource for students of disability studies social work and health psychology Saving Face Heather Laine Talley,2014-08-15 Winner Body and Embodiment Award presented by the American Sociological Association Imagine yourself without a face the task seems impossible The face is a core feature of our physical identity Our face is how others identify us and how we think of our self Yet human faces are also functionally essential as mechanisms for communication and as a means of eating breathing and seeing For these reasons facial disfigurement can endanger our fundamental notions of self and identity or even be life threatening at worse Precisely because it is so difficult to conceal our faces the disfigured face compromises appearance status and perhaps our very way of being in the world In Saving Face sociologist Heather Laine Talley examines the cultural meaning and social significance of interventions aimed at repairing faces defined as disfigured Using ethnography participant observation content analysis interviews and autoethnography Talley explores four sites in which a range of faces are repaired face transplantation facial feminization surgery the reality show Extreme Makeover and the international charitable organization Operation Smile Throughout she considers how efforts focused on repair sometimes intensify the stigma associated with disfigurement Drawing upon experiences volunteering at a camp for children with severe burns Talley also considers alternative interventions and everyday practices that both challenge stigma and help those seen as disfigured negotiate outsider status Talley delves into the promise and limits of facial surgery continually examining how we might understand appearance as a facet of privilege and a dimension of inequality Ultimately she argues that facial work is not simply a conglomeration of reconstructive techniques aimed at the human face but rather that appearance interventions are increasingly treated as lifesaving work Especially at a time when aesthetic technologies carrying greater risk are emerging and when discrimination based on appearance is rampant this important book challenges us to think critically about how we see the human face Changes Faces is about Enabling Everyone to Face Disfigurement with Confidence Changing Faces (Organisation),2007 Pack containing various documents produced by Changing Faces Face Politics Jenny Edkins,2015-04-10 The face is central to contemporary politics In Deleuze and Guattari s work on faciality we find an assertion that the face is a particular politics and dismantling the face is also a politics This book explores the politics of such diverse issues as images and faces in photographs and portraits expressive faces psychology and neuroscience face recognition face blindness facial injury disfigurement and face transplants through questions such as What it might mean to dismantle the face and what politics this might entail in practical terms What sort of a politics is it Is it already taking place Is it a politics that is to be desired a better politics a progressive politics The book opens up a vast field of further research that needs to be taken forward to begin to address the politics of the face more fully and to elaborate the alternative forms of personhood and politics that dismantling the face opens to view The book will be agenda setting for scholars located in the field of international politics in particular but cognate areas as well who want to pursue the implications of face politics for the crucial questions of subjectivity sovereignty and personhood Policing the National Body Jael Silliman,Jael Miriam Silliman,Anannya Bhattacharjee,2002 This anthology explores the ways in which women of color are monitored criminalized and regulated Women and Leadership around the World Faith Wambura Ngunjiri,Susan R.
