Changing The Educational Landscape Philosophy Women And Curriculum:

Changing the Educational Landscape Jane Roland Martin, 2017 Changing the Educational Landscape is a collection of the best known and best loved essays by the renowned feminist philosopher of education Jane Roland Martin. Trained as an analytic philosopher at a time before women or feminist ideas were welcome in the field, Martin brought a philosopher's detachment to her earliest efforts at revolutionizing the curriculum. Her later essays on women and gender further showcase the tremendous intellectual energy she brought to the field of feminist educational theory. Martin explores the challenges and contradictions posed by the very concept of women's education and also recognizes how the presence of women necessitates the rearticulation of not only the curriculum but also the standard ideologies in education. It traces the theme of gender and education, comparing Macaulay's ideas to those of her contemporaries Jean Jacques Rousseau, Hester Chapone, and St. Phanie de Genlis. In the process, it presents a clear picture of the eighteenth-century quarrel that debates the interassociation among gender, education, and intellectual attainment. This book intends to initiate an informed conversation with contemporary readers about Macaulay's work on education within its own historical context so that fair assessments of her work can be made. It also argues that any complete history of the philosophy of education must include Macaulay's work. Women's Studies Quarterly (28: 3-4) Nancy Hoffman, Nitza Hidalgo, Ellen Silber, 2000 Groundbreaking volume provides positive strategies for eliminating gender bias in middle school and high school classrooms. Encyclopedia of Educational Theory and Philosophy D. Drawing together a team of international scholars, this invaluable reference examines the global landscape of all the key theories and the theorists behind them and presents them in the context needed to understand their strengths and weaknesses. Pedagogy, Oppression and Transformation in a 'Post-Critical' Climate Andrew O'Shea, Maeve O'Brien, 2011-09-22 Provides a reflection and reevaluation on Freire's central
