Changing The Way We Prepare Educational Leaders The Danforth Experience:

Changing the Way We Prepare Educational Leaders Mike M. Milstein, 1993-05-28 Educational practitioners in America have become disillusioned with university preparation programmes that fail to prepare them for the realities of the workplace This volume summarizes the knowledge gained from five of the programmes instigated by the Danforth Foundation in its efforts to stimulate new approaches to the training of educational leaders The ramifications of what has been learned is discussed and an analysis of future issues for American schools is provided Handbook of Research on the Education of School Leaders , Preparing School Leaders for the 21st Century Stephan Gerhard Huber, 2004-08-02 The quality and success of schools depend upon school leadership Increasingly in many countries worldwide this belief has led to designing and implementing appropriate training and development programs for educational leaders In an international comparative research project current school leader training and development programs in fifteen countries across Europe Asia Australia and North America are analyzed compared and discussed Preparing School Leaders for the 21st Century provides insights and constructive ideas for those planning and carrying out school leadership development in different countries and those conducting research in this field Part one in the book reflects on roles tasks competences and conceptions of school leadership exploring the changing context in which school leaders find themselves focusing on the new demands on the school leaders and suitable leadership theories Part two provides a comparative discussion of the various leadership development models identifying similarities and differences based on a set of criteria selected and going beyond a mere juxtaposition In describing common issues and challenges it also looks for common solutions and considers what the different countries might be able to learn from each other and successfully transfer Part three identifies current international trends deduced from these programs Nineteen recommendations for designing future programs are outlined and instructive examples of best and promising practice are given Part four comprises well structured country reports which provide information about the education system and school system of those countries about recent changes and their impact on school leadership about the overall school leader training and development approach Reshaping the Landscape of School Leadership Development Philip Hallinger, 2003-01-01 Reshaping the Landscape of School Leadership Development A Global Perspective traces developments in this arena as they evolved since 1980 The book is comprised of chapters authored by the leading scholars in the fields of educational leadership and school leadership development from the United States Canada Europe Asia and Australia The vol Leading Learning/Learning Leading: A Retrospective on a Life's Work Robert Starratt, 2017-06-26 Internationally recognized for his writing on educational leadership and the ethics of educational leadership Robert J Starratt brings together a thoughtfully crafted selection of his writing representing key aspects of his life and work leading to his current thinking on the convergence of school leadership the professional ethics of educators and the integrity of the teaching learning process This retrospective reveals Starratt s enduring work as probing the foundational intelligibility of the teaching learning process and its connection to human development of both students and teachers. It exhibits his efforts to focus the leadership of the teaching learning process on a combination of cognitive insight into the intelligibility of the world, affective dwelling in the particulars of that intelligibility, and the responsibilities one's relationships with the particular might suggest. A new introduction contextualises Starratt's work against key developments in the field. The unique collection of chapters develops various themes from human resource development to the complexity of curriculum change and from ethical analysis of school organizational structures to the complex dramas in students' personal lives and in the classroom. The book chronicles Starratt's contributions to the field and his role as a leading scholar who has played a key part in the development of leadership and ethics in education over the course of his career. Leading Learning Learning Leading will be of global interest to education leaders and researchers engaged in the field of educational leadership and ethical education. The Jossey-Bass Reader on Educational Leadership Jossey-Bass Publishers, 2012-06-14

This expanded and thoroughly updated edition of the popular anthology assembles the best book excerpts, articles, and reports that define and drive the field of educational leadership today. Filled with critical insights from respected authors, education researchers, and expert practitioners, this comprehensive volume features twenty-six chapters in six primary areas of interest: Principles of Leadership, Moral Leadership, Culture and Change, Standards and Systems, Diversity and Leadership, and the Future of Leadership. The Politics of Leadership George J. Petersen, Lance Fusarelli, 2006-07-01

The primary contribution of this book is not its advocacy of a specific position but rather its objective analysis of cogent topics. The content prompts us to consider governance in relation to quality education and to ponder alternative policy strategies that have yet to be fully evaluated. As a young doctoral student more than a few years ago, William Van Til, an eminent scholar and a mentor, reminded me almost daily that members of the education profession had a moral responsibility to address the most difficult questions about education and democracy. These enduring queries, he argued, extended to determining how this critical social service should be organized and controlled and to determining the appropriate roles for administrators and teachers. Those in our profession who fail to heed his advice by remaining indifferent to these philosophical dilemmas should consider Plato's long-standing warning: One of the penalties for refusing to participate in politics is that you end up being governed by your inferiors. Developing School Leaders in the Pacific Narsamma Lingam, Govinda Ishwar Lingam, 2023-08-31

This book provides detailed insights on the training and development for Pacific Island school leaders. It draws extensively on original empirical research that explores school leaders' perceptions of how leadership and management training impacted their professional practices and how these practices in turn impacted the dynamics of school operations. This book addresses a critical need to understand how to support leadership development for all Pacific schools but especially in schools that are faced with the increasing challenges of learning and teaching conditions. In small island developing states in the Pacific region, school leaders face a myriad of challenges due to limited human and material resources and a fragile economic base.

Written by Pacific Islander authors this book provides insights from different countries in the Pacific Islands It shows how contextual challenges can exert enormous pressure on school leaders who are leading and managing schools without any leadership preparation Given the importance of effective leadership practices and its impact on student learning outcomes this book aims to be a source of reference for practitioners and educational authorities who have a vested interest in the provision of quality education in the Pacific region and beyond Resources in Education ,1995-10 Principals of Dynamic Schools Sharon F. Rallis, Ellen B. Goldring, 2000-04-15 The second edition continues with Sharon Rallis and Ellen Goldring providing lively and inspiring views of school leadership that is both grounded in reality and compellingly hopeful that this reality can be redefined for the better This book packs more useful ideas about what leadership is and how it works in successfully restructuring schools than any other book now available The authors speak to this topic with a voice that is as passionate and sensitive as it is reasoned and authoritative Rallis and Goldring tell a story based on their extensive case studies and survey studies and on a thorough overview of the research of others They define anew what it means for principals to be in charge The principals they studied were much less concerned with controlling what people did and how they did it and much more concerned with controlling the conditions that enabled others to function in ways that increased the likelihood shared goals would be reached Rallis and Goldring describe and illustrate the behavior of these new principals and the forces that shape their activities Breaking into the All-Male Club Norma T. Mertz, 2009-03-05 Winner of the 2011 Critics Choice Award presented by the American Educational Studies Association These are the inspiring and illuminating stories of women professors who first broke into the exclusive all male academic club of educational administration Women of this pioneering generation tell how they overcame daunting challenges traumas the naiveté of others sexual harassment and retaliation as well as how they encountered unexpected kindness and support along the way Their difficult paths complex choices and triumphs are revealed through the experiences of the first black woman professor in educational administration a fight to the death for tenure a genteel southerner's confrontation with the aloof North and a brash northerner's survival of the cultural complexities of the South These stories speak not simply to women but to all trailblazers in the workplace and to those still facing discrimination and relegated to outsider status Jsl Vol 6-N1 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP, 1996-01-01 The Journal of School Leadership is broadening the conversation about schools and leadership and is currently accepting manuscripts We welcome manuscripts based on cutting edge research from a wide variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological orientations The editorial team is particularly interested in working with international authors authors from traditionally marginalized populations and in work that is relevant to practitioners around the world Growing numbers of educators and professors look to the six bimonthly issues to deal with problems directly related to contemporary school leadership practice teach courses on school leadership and policy use as a quality reference in writing articles about school leadership and improvement Jsl Vol 6-N3 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL
