Nelson, 2000-07-24 In this volume published in 2000 leading scholars analyze in a series of essays and commentaries how newly industrializing countries NICs particularly those in East Asia have transformed themselves from technologically backward and poor to relatively modern and affluent economies over the past thirty years The contributors provide interesting theoretical perspectives and offer insights into the process of technological progress at both the macro and micro levels in these countries The essays review how firms particularly those in electronics and automobiles have dynamically accumulated technological capabilities at the micro level how public policies have shaped the process of technological progress at the national level and what problems some of these countries face today at both levels In addition the volume provides a comparison of East Asian NICs with their Latin American counterparts The discussion also offers useful lessons for policies in other developing countries American Quaker Resistance to War, 1917-1973 Isaac Barnes May, 2022-07-04 This historical survey of Quakers in the United States examines their responses to war during World War I World War II and the early Cold War including the Korean and Vietnam conflicts with particular focus on the social political legal and theological aspects of the Quaker peace testimony Quakers responded to these conflicts in a variety of ways ranging from pacifism to support for military action The boundaries and constraints of Quaker beliefs about violent conflict and the meaning of the peace testimony were determined by debates within the Religious Society of Friends Isaac Barnes May asserts that Quakers reactions to war in the twentieth century should also be understood as closely related to Quakerism's relationship to state power The choice to accommodate or resist government pressure worked alongside internal forces to shape Quakerism in the United States Ultimately May argues that there is no single pattern of Quaker response to modern war Dynamic International Oil Markets C. van der Linde, 2013-03-14 Writing this book would have been impossible without the help of certain institutions and persons For a gas producing and oil processing country like the Netherlands there was surprisingly very little publicly available research material Public libraries collections contained with a certain degree of inconsistency little of the more specialised sources I would therefore like to express my gratitude towards Royal Dutch Shell and especially the library staff in The Hague for allowing me to use the company's library

thanking them for their assistance in finding and supplying the required data I am also grateful for the financial assistance of the Nederlandse organisatie voor wetenschappelijk onderzoek NWO and the Faculty of Law of the University of Leiden They provided the financial means to work a crucial month in the very well equipped library of the Oxford Institute for Energy Studies I am indebted to the staff of the Oxford Institute for Energy Studies and particularly to Robert Mabro and Jeremy Turk for their comments support and friendship After I spent a month in the Institute in July 1989 I was able to return for two five month periods in 1990 and 1991 For both periods the Oxford Institute and the Leiden Law Faculty provided me with the necessary means I would also like to express special gratitude to some people who have been a great support and supplied me with valuable comments at various stages of the study
