Challenge Of Facework Cross Cultur:

The Challenge of Facework Stella Ting-Toomey,1994-01-01 This book addresses the cross cultural variations in the conceptions of face and facework from a multidisciplinary communication perspective Facework represents one of the most important theoretical concepts available to us in contemporary communication literature as it encompasses a dynamic network of cross cultural social cognitive affective interpersonal interactional and identity issues The book serves a dual purpose to raise issues and to extend some of the current ideas in face and facework research in the cross cultural and interpersonal communication settings and to illuminate some specific directions for future research into the face and facework management process Face and facework are presented in conjunction with phenomena such as politeness request interaction embarrassment conflict business negotiation and international diplomacy The Challenge of Facework Stella Ting-Toomey,1994-05-24 This book addresses the cross cultural variations in the conceptions of face and facework from a multidisciplinary communication perspective Facework represents one of the most important theoretical concepts available to us in contemporary communication literature as it encompasses a dynamic network of cross cultural social cognitive affective interpersonal interactional and identity issues The book serves a dual purpose to raise issues and to extend some of the current ideas in face and facework research in the cross cultural and interpersonal communication settings and to illuminate some specific directions for future research into the face and facework management process Face and facework are presented in conjunction with phenomena such as politeness request interaction embarrassment conflict business negotiation and international diplomacy Communication in Personal Relationships Across Cultures William B. Gudykunst,Stella Ting-Toomey,Tsukasa Nishida,1996-08-07 Filling the void in interpersonal and intercultural communication Communication in Personal Relationships Across Cultures examines the communication practices of non Western cultures The international cast of contributors assembled here leaves behind the biases typical of most research and theorizing done in this area of communication and enables the reader to develop a thorough understanding of how people communicate in non Western societies Chapters focus on communication practices in China Japan Korea Mexico Brazil Iran Africa and totalitarian societies Through both emic and etic approaches this groundbreaking volume explores how members of a culture understand their own communication and compares the similarities and differences of specific aspects of communication across cultures Covering all major theories in this expanding field and suggesting areas for future research this engaging collection will interest both students and professionals in communication psychology and sociology The Conflict and Culture Reader Pat K. Chew,2001 In any conflict the players seem to invariably view that conflict through the filter of their own cultural experiences This collection of essays draws on a variety of disciplines to analyze fundamental assumptions about how conflict arises and how it is resolved Conflict Management and Intercultural Communication Xiaodong Dai,Guo-Ming Chen,2022-11-15 Conflict management and harmony building are two key issues of intercultural communication research and merit particular attention in the globally interconnected world In the expanded second edition the book explores the effective ways to manage intercultural conflict and develop intercultural harmony and takes an interdisciplinary approach to address the two issues The book begins with the theoretical perspectives on conflict management and harmony building It examines intercultural communication ethics diversity and inclusion conflict resolution conflict face negotiation and intercultural competence It presents both Western and non Western perspectives The book then addresses in its second section conflict management and harmony building in specific contexts These include communication in intergenerational relationships multinational corporations and virtual spaces and covers a range of national cultures including the USA Japan Germany and China Drawing on the current research findings this book covers the major theoretical perspectives and provides for a wide range of discussions on intercultural conflict management It is a crucial reference for teachers students researchers and practitioners alike

The Handbook of Intercultural Discourse and Communication Christina Bratt Paulston, Scott F. Kiesling, Elizabeth S. Rangel, 2014-09-15 The Handbook of Intercultural Discourse and Communication Intercultural discourse and communication is emerging as an important area of research in a highly globalized and connected world where language and culture contact is frequent and cultural misunderstandings and misconceptions abound The handbook contains contributions from established scholars and up and coming researchers from a range of subfields to survey the theoretical perspectives and applied work in this burgeoning area of linguistics This timely volume features first a part that introduces the background detailing the scope and topics of the field followed by one that describes four different theoretical approaches and their basic research questions from Ethnography of Speaking and John Gumperz's Interactional Sociolinguistics to Critical Approaches and Postmodernism The third part Interactional Discourse Features describes and explains the features of talk that are frequently studied in cross cultural research such as turn taking and politeness The volume also includes a section on Interactional Discourse sites examining cross cultural communication such as Greek Turkish discourse The final part considers a variety of domains in which interaction takes place such as Translation Business Law Medicine Education and Religion

Working at the Interface of Cultures Michael Harris Bond, 2015-07-30 Behind the mask of objective science lie the dynamics of what happens to scientists who go to live and work in another culture Those who work and study in an alien culture often find themselves changed in ways that affect their scientific work How does this challenge stimulate provoke suggest and inspire advances and novelty in their theories methods and instruments Originally published in 1997 each of the essays in this title explores these issues through the experiences of a distinguished practitioner describing the process of intellectual growth and development Chosen for their extensive experience with people holding a different worldview the authors have all achieved renown for their contributions to the social science of culture

The Self-Conscious Emotions Jessica L. Tracy, Richard W. Robins, June Price Tangney, 2013-11-27 Timely and authoritative this volume reviews the breadth of current knowledge on the self conscious emotions and their role in psychological and social functioning Leading investigators approach the subject from multiple levels of analysis ranging from basic brain mechanisms to complex social processes Chapters present compelling advances in research on the most fundamental self conscious emotions embarrassment guilt humiliation pride and shame Addressed are neural and evolutionary mechanisms developmental processes cultural differences and similarities and influences on a wide array of social behaviors and personality processes A unique chapter on assessment describes and evaluates the full range of available measures     The Global Intercultural Communication Reader Molefi Kete Asante,Yoshitaka Miike,Jing

Yin,2013-06-26 The Global Intercultural Communication Reader is the first anthology to take a distinctly non Eurocentric approach to the study of culture and communication In this expanded second edition editors Molefi Kete Asante Yoshitaka Miike and Jing Yin bring together thirty two essential readings for students of cross cultural intercultural and international communication This stand out collection aims to broaden and deepen the scope of the field by placing an emphasis on diversity including work from authors across the globe examining the processes and politics of intercultural communication from critical historical and indigenous perspectives The collection covers a wide range of topics the emergence and evolution of the field issues and challenges in cross cultural and intercultural inquiry cultural wisdom and communication practices in context identity and intercultural competence in a multicultural society the effects of globalization and ethical considerations Many readings first appeared outside the mainstream Western academy and offer diverse theoretical lenses on culture and communication practices in the world community Organized into five themed sections for easy classroom use The Global Intercultural Communication Reader includes a detailed bibliography that will be a crucial resource for today s students of intercultural communication     Pragmatism and the Problem of Race Bill E. Lawson,Donald F. Koch,2004-04-21 A collection of essays examining a pragmatic approach to racism How should pragmatists respond to and contribute to the resolution of one of America s greatest and most enduring problems Given that the most important thinkers of the pragmatist movement Charles S Peirce William James John Dewey and George Herbert Mead said little about the problem of race how does their distinctly American way of thinking confront the hardship and brutality that characterizes the experience of many African Americans in this country In twelve thoughtful and provocative essays contemporary American pragmatists connect ideas with action and theory with practice to come to terms with this seemingly intractable problem Exploring themes such as racism and social change the value of the concept of race the role of education in ameliorating racism and the place of democracy in dealing with the tragedy of race the voices gathered in this volume consider how pragmatism can focus new attention on the problem of race Contributors are Michael Eldridge Eddie S Glaude Jr Judith M Green D Micah Hester Donald F Koch Bill E Lawson David E McClean Gregory F Pappas Scott L Pratt Alfred E Prettyman John R Shook Paul C Taylor and Cornel West     Conflict in Personal Relationships Dudley D. Cahn,2013-12-16 In keeping with a broad conception of interpersonal conflict this book is organized into two parts The first focuses on conflict on different types of couple relationships homosexual cross cultural dating but violent engaged and married and group relationships student peers parents and their young children and adult children and their aging parents The chapters not only review past research on conflict in some relationships but also take a significant step forward in introducing a variety of other relationship types for future research on conflict These chapters also offer evidence that conflict is experienced differently in different types of interpersonal relationships The second part of this book describes basic underlying principles and programs for dealing with interpersonal conflicts Chapters in this section discuss patterns of argument in everyday life issues associated with competence in interpersonal conflict and mediation as a form of intervention for resolution

About Face Christopher L. Flanders, 2011-03-07 For Thais face is a fact writes Flanders However whether in theology evangelism or issues involving sin salvation or atonement Thai Christians and missionaries alike seem either uninterested in or possibly incapable of addressing issues related to face This glaring incongruity between the value of face for Thais and the lack of intentional engagement within the Thai Christian community is deeply troubling Surely such a lack of careful attention to face is a dangerous posture Uncritical views of face furtively attaching to the theology of the Thai church are potentially detrimental for its life and mission Such seems to be an unavoidable situation without proper attention to face Additionally to ignore face is to run the risk of missing valuable cultural resources implicit in the Thai experience of face for the critical task of authentic Thai theological reflection This lack of engagement with face raises critical issues with which we must wrestle How is it that such a central sociocultural issue has not been a more significant part of the Thai Christian vocabulary or experience How pervasive are these negative attitudes regarding face What lies behind them Might this lack of self conscious engagement with face have any relationship to the persistent Thai perception of Christianity as a foreign Western religion How should Christians understand this notion of face and how it relates to the ways we understand and proclaim the gospel

Cross-Cultural and Intercultural Communication William B. Gudykunst, 2003-04-18 This book has the chapters from the Handbook of International and Intercultural Communication Second Edition relating to the structure and growth of cross cultural and intercultural communication With an expanded forward by William Gudykunst it is an invaluable resource for students and lecturers of communications studies

Negotiating multiple identities Kiyoko Sueda, 2014-05-05 This book uses a post modern approach to explore how Japanese returnee students kikokushijo and former returnees who work in Japanese industry negotiate multiple identities Methodological triangulation is used to study inner perception of face emotional state and the dynamics of negotiating multiple layering of identities The work considers the relationship between face and identities and the function of the affective aspects of face shame and pride in identity negotiation Readers will discover how Japanese returnees deal with shame and pride in face threatening or face promoting situations that affect their identity negotiation Many such returnees stayed abroad because of their parents jobs and the author explores variations among them in terms of how they identify with their identity as a returnee We discover how there are multiple levels of identities instead of identity as a singular Two phases of research carried out across ten years and involving some participants in both phases are explored in this work Although the participants in the research are Japanese returnees the findings drawn from the study have implications for others who spend an extensive period of time overseas who migrate from one place to another or who have multiple cultural backgrounds The book incorporates ideas from Western and Eastern literature on intercultural communication sociology and social psychology and it blends both micro and macro analysis This book is recommended for scholars educators students and practitioners who seek to understand better how people negotiate their multiple identities in this globalising world

New Directions in Group Communication Lawrence R. Frey, 2002 New Directions in Group Communication takes as its mission the setting of the agenda for the study of group communication in the future It does so by presenting work that scholars have not previously explored in the current small group communication literature Part I focuses on new theoretical and conceptual directions both presenting new views and extending current positions Part II examines new research methodologies while Part III looks at antecedent factors affecting group communication Parts IV and V of the text provide insight into both group communication process and practices Part VI covers different group communication contexts including communication patterns in top management teams

Politeness in Language Richard J. Watts, Sachiko Ide, Konrad Ehlich, 2008-08-22 The second edition of this collection of 13 original papers contains an updated introductory section detailing the significance that the original articles published in 1992 have for the further development of research into linguistic politeness into the 21st century The original articles focus on the phenomenon of politeness in language They present the most important problems in developing a theory of linguistic politeness which must deal with the crucial differences between lay notions of politeness in different cultures and the term politeness as a concept within a theory of linguistic politeness The universal validity of the term itself is called into question as are models such as those developed by Brown and Levinson Lakoff and Leech New approaches are suggested In addition to this theoretical discussion an empirical section presents a number of case studies and research projects in linguistic politeness These show what has been achieved within current models and what still remains to be done in particular with reference to cross cultural studies in politeness and differences between a Western and a non Western approach to the subject The publication of this second edition demonstrates that the significance of the collection is just as salient in the first decade of the new millennium as it was at the beginning of the 1990s

Handbook of Asian Management Kwok Leung, Steven White, 2007-05-08 Our understanding of management in Asia has not kept pace with the demands of managers and students The Handbook of Asian Management provides in depth critical reviews of central topics in strategy and organizational behavior research in Asian contexts Leading scholars take stock of what has been learned and give clear directions towards greater rigor and relevance for research in this region

The Handbook of Negotiation and Culture Michele J. Gelfand, Jeanne M. Brett, 2004 In the global marketplace negotiation frequently takes place across cultural boundaries yet negotiation theory has traditionally been grounded in Western culture This book which provides an in depth review of the field of negotiation theory expands current thinking to include cross cultural perspectives The contents of the book reflect the diversity of negotiation research negotiator cognition motivation emotion communication power and disputing intergroup relationships third parties justice technology and social dilemmas and provides new insight into negotiation theory questioning assumptions expanding constructs and identifying limits not apparent from working exclusively within one culture The book is organized in three sections and pairs chapters on negotiation theory with chapters on culture The first part emphasizes psychological processes cognition motivation and emotion Part II examines the negotiation process The third part emphasizes the social context of negotiation A final chapter synthesizes the main themes of the book to illustrate how scholars and practitioners can capitalize on the synergy between culture and negotiation research

Handbook of Communication and Aging Research Jon F. Nussbaum, Justine Coupland, 2004-04-12 This second edition of the Handbook of Communication and Aging Research captures the ever changing and expanding domain of aging research Since it was first recognized that there is more to social aging than demography gerontology has needed a communication perspective Like the first edition this handbook sets out to demonstrate that aging is not only an individual process but an interactive one The study of communication can lead to an understanding of what it means to grow old We may age physiologically and chronologically but our social aging how we behave as social actors toward others and even how we align ourselves with or come to understand the signs of difference or change as we age are phenomena achieved primarily through communication experiences Synthesizing the vast amount of research that has been published on communication and aging in numerous international outlets over the last three decades the book s contributors include scholars from North America and the United Kingdom who are active researchers in the perspectives covered in their particular chapter Many of the chapters work to deny earlier images of aging as involving normative decrement to provide a picture of aging as a process of development involving positive choices and providing new opportunities A recurring theme in many chapters is that of the heterogeneity of the group of people who are variously categorized as older aged elderly or over 65 The contributors review the literature analytically in a way that reveals not only current theoretical and methodological approaches to communication and aging research but also sets the future agenda This handbook will be of great interest to scholars and researchers in gerontology developmental psychology and communication and in this updated edition will continue to play a key role in the study of communication and aging

Handbook of Intercultural Training Dan Landis, Janet Bennett, Janet Marie Bennett, Milton J. Bennett, 2004 This handbook deals with the question of how people can best live and work with others who come from very different cultural backgrounds Handbook of Intercultural Training provides an overview of current trends and issues in the field of intercultural training Contributors represent a wide range of disciplines including psychology interpersonal communication human resource management international management anthropology social work and education Twenty four chapters all new to this edition cover an array of topics including training for specific contexts instrumentation and methods and training design
