Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing Ruth Elder, Katie Evans, Debra Nizette, 2008-11-07 This new edition focuses on practice in mental health and psychiatric care

integrating theory and the realities of practice Mental wellness is featured as a concept and the consideration of a range of psychosocial factors helps students contextualise mental illness and psychiatric disorders The Time of the Therapeutic Communities Liam Clarke, 2004 From the 1950s onwards different movements have contributed to Therapeutic Communities TCs This book follows these post war changes to the present day and discusses the influence they had on the practice of psychiatry Providing a thorough analysis of the emergence and progression of TCs this book is essential reading for anyone in the field

Nurses and Nursing Pádraig Ó Lúanaigh, 2017-04-21 This textbook draws on international contributors with a range of backgrounds to explore engage with and challenge readers in understanding the many aspects and elements that inform and influence contemporary nursing practice With a focus to the future this book explores the challenges facing health services and presents the arguments for a nursing contribution and influence in ensuring safe and quality care Readers are supported to explore how as individuals they can shape their personal nursing identity and practice The structure of the text is based on the belief that an individual nurse s professional identity is developed through an interaction between their personal attributes and the influences of the profession itself Reflecting this approach the authors engage in a conversation with the reader rather than simply presenting a series of facts and information Organised around a series of topical and pertinent questions and drawing on perspectives from policy education and practice the book explores a diverse range of topics such as how historical and popular media representations of nursing hold back nursing practice today the opportunities presented through education and nursing role development to increase the nursing contribution to health services the economic and political influences on nursing and health care how the professional regulation of nurses and core values informs your practice ways to define and develop your own strong nursing identity Central chapter questions provide ideal triggers for group discussions in class or online and equally as discussion topics between colleagues to support ongoing professional development There is an emphasis throughout Nurses and Nursing on challenging thinking to recast nursing practice for the future by encouraging the reader to explore and create their emerging nursing identity or re examine previously long held views This text supports the reader to better understand health care nursing and most importantly themselves as nurses

Psychiatric Nursing Skills Graham Dexter, Michael Wash, 2013-12-01 In this book we have attempted to identify skills which are needed by the psychiatric nurse and in doing so to identify a body of knowledge unique to the professional psychiatric nurse The book has been written to demonstrate the basis of a skills approach for both the experienced and the inexperienced nurse to build upon for we believe that psychiatric nurses due to both their training and their particular mixture of interests are well equipped to be in the forefront of psychiatry as a developing art and science We hope that this book in some small way helps this development Some of the more recent advances in psychiatric nursing have been reinforced by the publication of a training syllabus for mental nurses English and Welsh National Boards 1982 This document highlights the need for a change from a medical model to a social model and from a task oriented learning experience to a skills approach We have attempted to reflect this change in emphasis by including such aspects as personal development and self aware ness human sexuality the nursing process and counselling skills Reading Mental Health Nursing: Education, Research, Ethnicity and Power Liam Clarke,2007-10-25 This title is directed primarily towards health care professionals outside of the United States It examines some of the ideology and professional issues surrounding the theory and practice of mental health nursing The author supplies an analysis that goes beyond normal factual texts drawing on a wide range of orthodox and unorthodox professional literature from several disciplines Dr Clarke analyses five areas race ethnicity education ethics research and violence in his distinctive style The results are enlightening and practitioners of all levels are challenged to review how they think about mental health practice Analysis of key subjects relevant to mental health practitioners at all levels Provocative style to promote further debate Wide range of references and further reading to stimulate wider study Brings together a comprehensive range of topics in one volume to encourage understanding of broad context of practice European Psychiatric/Mental Health Nursing in the 21st Century José Carlos Santos,John R. Cutcliffe,2018-02-01 This groundbreaking first volume of the Series has a number of features that set it apart from other books on this subject Firstly it focuses on interpersonal humanistic and ecological views and approaches to P MH nursing Secondly it highlights patient client centered approaches and mental health service user involvement Lastly it is a genuinely European P MH nursing textbook the first of its kind largely written by mental health scholars from Europe although it also includes contributions from North America and Australia New Zealand Focusing on clinical practical issues theory and empirical findings it adopts an evidence based or evidence informed approach Each contribution presents the state of the art of P MH nursing in Europe so that it can be transferred to and implemented by P MH nurses and the broader mental health care community around the globe As such it will be the first genuinely 21st century European Psychiatric Mental Health Nursing book Therapeutic Skills for Mental Health Nurses Nicola Evans,Ben Hannigan,2016-07-16 Most specialist mental health care is provided by nurses who use face to face helping skills with a wide range of people in a variety of contexts This book puts therapeutic skills at the heart of the nurse s role with one central aim to equip you with knowledge to use in your practice thus improving your ability to deliver care This book Will enable you to strengthen your core therapeutic skills and broaden your knowledge to include other practical therapeutic approaches Collates in one place information on a range of therapeutic approaches from person centred counselling motivational interviewing and solution focused approaches through to day to day skills of challenging unhelpful thoughts de escalating difficult situations working with families and problem solving Demonstrates application of theory to practice through a variety of practical examples Features reader activities to facilitate personal growth and learning Includes a chapter exploring clinical supervision and how this makes practice more effective Each chapter is grounded in authentic clinical experiences and focuses on equipping the reader to develop confidence in their client facing skills This text is an essential purchase for all mental health nurse students as well as qualified nurses Whilst the essential therapeutic component of mental health nursing is the nurse themselves it is also essential that they have knowledge and competencies to offer the client This valuable book offers the reader an introduction to a wide range of approaches that are considered helpful evidence based and effective Modern mental health nursing requires much of its practitioners this book will help inform and support that endeavour Ian Hulatt Mental Health Adviser Royal College of Nursing UK This is a timely book which addresses head on questions about what mental health nurses can do to be effective with their patients At last we have a book that mental health nurses can draw on to understand why and how various therapeutic approaches are used The range is from cognitive behavioural therapy to psychodynamic approaches to mindfulness with others in between Each chapter is written by an expert and each offers concrete examples of what it involved in each of the approaches These examples are imperative if readers are to understand how to use interventions in their everyday work This ground breaking book will be compulsory reading for everyone involved in the care of those with mental health problems A wonderful book Philip Burnard Emeritus Professor of Nursing Cardiff University UK
