Social and behaviour change interventions for contraception and family planning World Health Organization,2025-06-29 This social and behaviour change interventions for contraception and family planning implementation guidance for policy makers and programme managers was developed to support policy makers and programme managers in advocating for implementing managing and understanding the potential impact of social and behaviour change SBC interventions to improve contraceptive and family planning FP outcomes The guidance has two sections Section one makes the case for implementing and scaling SBC interventions to contribute to the achievement of contraceptive and family planning outcomes This section will help users promote SBC interventions as part of a comprehensive national strategy to improve reproductive health outcomes It further provides a clear rationale for integrating SBC interventions into national policies and programmes to achieve critical commitments and national policy goals Section two describes a comprehensive process for designing implementing evaluating and scaling SBC interventions This section will help users to integrate and scale evidence based SBC interventions as a part of national programmes The Handbook of Behavior Change Martin S. Hagger,Linda D. Cameron,Kyra Hamilton,Nelli Hankonen,Taru Lintunen,2020-07-15 Social problems in many domains including health education social relationships and the workplace have their origins in human behavior The documented links between behavior and social problems have compelled governments and organizations to prioritize and mobilize efforts to develop effective evidence based means to promote adaptive behavior change In recognition of this impetus The Handbook of Behavior Change provides comprehensive coverage of contemporary theory research and practice on behavior change It summarizes current evidence based approaches to behavior change in chapters authored by leading theorists researchers and practitioners from multiple disciplines including psychology sociology behavioral science economics philosophy and implementation science It is the go to resource for researchers students practitioners and policy makers looking for current knowledge on behavior change and guidance on how to develop effective interventions to change behavior Locus of Control: Antecedents, Consequences and Interventions Using Rotter's Definition Yasmin Iles-Caven,Steve Nowicki,Ari Kalechstein,2021-09-07 Person-Job Fit Changes As A Consequence Of Public Management Reforms In Self-Governmental Units Omar Scharifi,2016-08-22 The research is based on the assumption that management reforms cause changes in municipal administration and its person job fit The theoretical description of the problem is possible by drawing on Edward s 1991 person job fit theorem Literature on modernisation concepts as e g the New Public Management NPM shows a general awareness of reforms consequences on the personnel The human capital theory delivers explanations for the incentive to react of both the organisation s executive level as well as the employees in case management reforms cause a discrepancy in person job fit The conducted empirical studies confirm that management reforms do result in changes with impact on the person job fit The literature research brought evidence that NPM has only been adopted partially Since the transformation some reforms and changes in legislation have laid the foundation for a self governmental administration that scores compared to the EU standard as relatively modern The investigated Polish municipalities react on the changes in the person job fit For example employees do learn in a self organised way The administration reacts on the discrepancies mainly by recruiting new staff and by reallocating the tasks Training is not applied systematically as means to problem solving and is available in many cases only in the context of externally financed projects and even then not oriented towards individual needs Changes do have enormous consequences for the personnel management of municipal administration They change the requirements for the job holders substantially and the administrations seem not able to react on the changes in a way that the personnel is enabled to meet the requirements Unclear is if such an objective seems feasible if one considers the extreme dimensions of change that spread between the paradigms of socialist administration and modernisation concepts in the sense of NPM

Positive Behavior Support for People with Developmental Disabilities

Edward G. Carr, 1999 This book prepared in response to a request from the United States Department of Education Office of Special Education Programs reviews the published literature on positive behavior interventions and uses this database to provide four main content areas for research Positive behavior support PBS is defined as an approach for dealing with problem behavior that focuses on the remediation of deficient contexts such as environmental conditions and or behavioral repertoires that by functional assessment are documented to be the source of the problem The research published on PBS between 1985 and 1996 n 107 articles was reviewed with respect to four categories of variables demographics assessment practices intervention strategies and outcomes Results indicated that 1 PBS is widely applicable to people with serious problem behavior 2 the field is growing rapidly overall but especially in the use of assessment and in interventions that focus on correcting environmental deficiencies 3 using stringent criteria of success PBS is effective in reducing problem behavior in one half to two thirds of cases 4 success rates nearly double when intervention is based on a prior functional assessment and 5 consumer needs that emphasize comprehensive lifestyle support long term change practicality and relevance and direct support for consumers themselves are inadequately addressed by the research base Recommendations are made for bridging the research to practice gap Contains more than 300 references Author CR

Brief Interventions for Risky

Drinkers Antoni Gual, Peter Anderson, Hugo López-Pelayo, Jillian Reynolds, 2016-06-29 Alcohol is the sixth leading risk factor for disability and premature death all over the world and one of the leading causes of premature mortality in western societies it is a leading risk factor for death in young and middle age males Heavy drinking accounts for about two thirds of the burden of disease attributable to alcohol In the early 1980s screening and brief interventions SBI in primary health care settings were proposed as effective strategies to identify risky drinkers and to help them reduce their drinking Since then a growing body of evidence including several meta analysis and Cochrane reviews has shown the efficacy and effectiveness of SBI in primary health settings However demonstrating the effectiveness of SBI has not been insufficient to facilitate its general implementation in the routines of primary health care physicians and in fact the dissemination of SBI has proven to be a difficult business Qualitative and quantitative research has identified most of the facilitators and barriers for its implementation and publicly funded research has been earmarked to address the dissemination problems worldwide Some examples are the World Health Organization Phase III and Phase IV studies on the identification and management of alcohol related problems in primary care EU funded projects PHEPA AMPHORA ODHIN BISTAIRS the UK SIPS trials and the SBIRT developments sponsored by the Substance Abuse what length should they be is there a need for booster sessions is there added value of a motivational approach These questions together with other relevant aspects of SBI need ongoing research In recent years SBIs have been tested in settings other than primary health care including hospitals accident and emergency rooms criminal justice colleges and universities social services and pharmacies In some of those areas the evidence is scarce for example pharmacies while in others it is very promising for example students and hospitals New technologies have also offered the possibility of online tools and in the last few years different digital based applications have been tested successfully as new ways to deliver effective SBIs to larger amounts of people Brief interventions have also spread to drugs other than alcohol This book aims to be an update of the state of the art of brief advice It is a compilation of articles published by some of the most relevant researchers in the field in Frontiers in Psychiatry between 2014 and 2016

The psychological process of stereotyping: Content, forming, internalizing, mechanisms, effects, and interventions

Baoshan Zhang, Magdalena Zawisza, Fangfang Wen, Junhua Dang, Fengqing Zhao, 2023-02-06 Stereotype is a pervasive and persistent human tendency that stems from a basic cognitive need to categorize simplify and process the complex world This tendency is a precondition for social bias prejudice and discrimination Previous research has mainly focused on the content psychological mechanisms and intervention strategies of negative stereotypes as well as the stereotype threat phenomenon induced by an evaluative context where a negative in group stereotype could be confirmed However there is a lack of research examining the psychological process of forming and internalizing social stereotypes the neurocognitive mechanisms of stereotypes and the interventions including potential neurocognitive interventions addressing the consequences of negative stereotypes Furthermore as per the Behavioral Immune System BIS theory the very presence of a pathogen is likely to increase stereotyping across various social categories especially in those with a heightened perception of vulnerability to disease Thus stereotypes can be enhanced in the context of pathogen exposure such as the current outbreak of COVID 19 pandemic People exposed to the virus are more likely to suffer from personal and institutional stereotypes and discrimination which may cause negative consequences to personal and social well being Therefore in the current context of global Covid 19 pandemic it is necessary to investigate the increasing biases driven by stereotypes regarding viewing pathogens as a threat which holds across different social categories Specifically what constitutes and shapes stereotypes towards people living in epidemic areas What are the consequences of these short term shaped stereotypes What is the relationship between the consequences of these stereotypes and traditional stereotypes i e stereotypes towards race gender and age Will these short term stereotypes interact with traditional stereotypes to exacerbate discrimination or will the recategorization based on the short term stereotypes during Covid 19 pandemic allow people to ignore the traditional inferior social identity and in turn to promote social integration among different groups And how can we prevent the increasing tendency of relying on stereotypes and instead increase pro social behaviors in the Covid 19 context The current Research Topic focuses on understanding the psychological process of forming and internalizing social stereotypes the neurocognitive mechanisms of stereotypes as well as interventions including potential neurocognitive interventions regarding the consequences of negative stereotypes And we also aim to gather the latest research investigating the broad psychological process of social stereotyping with an emphasis on the implications under the Covid 19 context That is this Research Topic is also interested in the negative stereotypes specific to Covid 19 pandemic as well as relevant preventative interventions aimed at people perceived as at higher Covid 19 exposure risk Theoretical and empirical research from psychology sociology and related fields is welcome Examples of possible themes for manuscripts include but are not limited to the following topics The content of stereotypes Social categorization and discrimination based on stereotypes Traditional stereotypes and their consequences The psychological process of social stereotype formation and internalization The mechanisms including neurocognitive mechanisms of stereotypes and its consequences The stereotype neutralizing interventions including neurocognitive intervention strategies towards negative stereotypes The psychological process of stereotypes during Covid 19 pandemic The social group categorization and social cohesion during Covid 19 pandemic The interactions between traditional stereotypes towards social groups seen as inferior in the dominant culture and the short term stereotypes during Covid 19 pandemic The strategies of tackling stereotypes in Covid 19 pandemic
