Resources in Education ,1999-10 Morphosyntactic change in Late Modern Swedish Ida Larsson, Erik M. Petzell, 2022-03-16 This volume explores morphosyntactic change in the Late Modern Swedish period from the 18th century and onwards This period is interesting for a number of reasons This is when Swedish is established as a national standard language New genres emerge and the written language becomes more generally available to all speakers We also sometimes find diverging developments in the different North Germanic languages and some of the much discussed differences between Danish Norwegian and Swedish are established during this period In addition during the 19th and 20th centuries the traditional dialects undergo more dramatic changes than ever Yet the Late Modern Swedish period has previously received fairly little attention in the syntactic literature This volume aims to remedy this with studies that cover several different grammatical domains including case and verbal syntax word order and agreement and grammaticalization in the nominal domain The study by Cecilia Falk investigates the possibility of promoting an indirect object to subject in a passive that emerges during the period A chapter by Fredrik Valdeson studies change in the use of ditransitive verbs from a constructional perspective Three chapters are concerned with word order change The study by Ida Larsson and Björn Lundquist investigates the development of a strict word order in particle constructions Adrian Sangfelt studies the possibility of having adverbials and other constituents between the separate verbal heads in complex VPs in the final stages of the shift from OV to VO order Erik M Petzell investigates embedded verb placement and agreement morphology in the Viskadalian dialect which on the surface seems to contradict the Rich Agreement Hypothesis Mikael Kalm discusses the emergence of different kinds of adverbial infinitival clauses in the standard written language compared to vðalian Finally the study by Lars Olof Delsing is concerned with a case of grammaticalization in the nominal domain specifically the development of the gradable adjectives mycket much and lite little into quantifiers

Bemba-Speaking Women of Zambia in a Century of Religious Change (1892-1992) Hugo F. Hinfelaar, 2025-02-10 Bemba Speaking Women of Zambia traces the often painful religious changes that have occurred among the Bemba speaking women of Zambia since the last decade of the 19th century It argues that the religious tenets of the traditional domestic cult had already been undermined by the centralising tendencies of the merchant princes before the arrival of the missionaries who based their church structures on the concept of the Bemba hierarchy The body of the book describes with great authority the creative redress of the women as channelled through independent Christian movements and through the mission churches themselves These chapters are especially important as it is shown in the last part of the book that these genuine reactions of the women could well offer material for genuine inculturation

Language Creation and Language Change Michel DeGraff, 1999 Research on creolization language change and language acquisition has been converging toward a triangulation of the constraints along which grammatical systems develop within individual speakers and viewed externally across generations of speakers The originality of this volume is in its comparison of various sorts of language development from a number of linguistic theoretic and empirical perspectives using data from both speech and gestural modalities and from a diversity of acquisition environments In turn this comparison yields fresh insights on the mental bases of language creation The book is organized into five parts creolization and acquisition acquisition under exceptional circumstances language processing and syntactic change parameter setting in acquisition and through creolization and language change and a concluding part integrating the contributors observations and proposals into a series of commentaries on the state of the art in our understanding of language development its role in creolization and diachrony and implications for linguistic theory Contributors Dany Adone Derek Bickerton Adrienne Bruyn Marie Coppola Michel DeGraff Viviane D prez Alison Henry Judy Kegl David Lightfoot John S Lumsden Salikoko S Mufwene Pieter Muysken Elissa L Newport Luigi Rizzi Ian Roberts Ann Senghas Rex A Sprouse Denise

Tangney Anne Vainikka Barbara S Vance Maaïke Verrips Attracting and Keeping the Best Teachers Anna Sullivan, Bruce Johnson, Michele Simons, 2019-08-26 This book challenges dominant thinking about early career teachers and their work. It offers an in depth and critical analysis of policies concerning the work of early career teachers and how they are supported during this critical period when they are highly vulnerable to leaving the profession. Moreover the book provides examples from actual practice that illustrate how to help early career teachers make a successful transition into the profession. These practices promote early career teachers development and help the profession as a whole to capitalize on the new knowledge and skills that these teachers bring to their classrooms and their students. The book is divided into two main parts. Part 1 deals with the difficult to define process of retaining early career teachers and its respective chapters consider this broad issue from an international perspective. They explore how policies and practices have an impact on what happens in schools and what it means to be a teacher and to teach. In turn Part 2 focuses on the need to reconsider the policies and practices that create the problem of early career teachers and offers alternative ways forward. Each chapter addresses a specific aspect of the early career teacher retention issue contributing to a greater understanding of how we can rethink the work of early career teachers so that they can more successfully transition into the profession. Bilingual Education and Social Change Rebecca Diane Freeman, 1998 A general introduction to bilingualism bilingual education and minority education in the United States and an ethnographic discursive analytic study of how one successful dual language programme challenges mainstream US educational programmes that discriminate against minority students and the languages they speak. Implications for research practice and practice in other school and community contexts are emphasized. ESEA Framework for Change United States. Congress. Senate. Multilingualism, Education and Change Jean Jacques Weber, 2009 This is a book about language and education in one of the smallest European Union member states Luxembourg. It presents the results of an ethnographic study of code switching and language ideologies among transnational luso descendant youngsters attending a number of youth centres in Luxembourg city. It offers a comprehensive description of the processes of construction and negotiation of new emergent identities and ethnicities. The author considers the implications of these results for language in education policy including the EU policy of multilingualism. He criticizes mother tongue education and advocates instead the use of literacy bridges. Clearly argued and widely applicable this book is essential reading for students and researchers interested in multilingualism migration and education. Changing Teaching, Changing Times Jonathan Clark, Cedric J. Linder, 2006 This is the story of a science teacher and her work in an over crowded and under resourced township secondary school in contemporary South Africa While set firmly in the present it is also a journey into the past shedding fresh light on how the legacy of apartheid education continues to have a major influence on teaching and learning in South Africa The book has a compelling story line with extensively referenced notes at the end of each chapter It is intended for a wide audience which includes general readers policy makers teacher educators researchers and most importantly practitioners in the field For while it reminds us of the powerful constraining role that both context and students play in mediating a teacher s practice it also attests to the power of individual agency As such it is a celebration of the actions of an ordinary teacher whose willingness to leave the well worn paths of familiar practice stands as a beacon of possibility for contexts which seem so often to be devoid of hope
