Dreaming Of Paradise:

Sibyl of Cornwall: a Poetical Tale, the Land's End, St. Michael's Mount, and Other Poems Nicholas Michell, 1869

Hashish Dreaming Elias Sassooun, 2012-03-27 A novel that isn't a real novel a novel that really is the rambling of a disjointed 21st century dude exhibiting cerebral symptoms caused by inhaling the hashish haze overhead Being stoned to release the inner self reaching that higher state of consciousness and then gaining a real understanding that's what that's what we have We also have the opportunity to dig deep into the tender bowels of an individual's psyche and unearth the inner dimensions of the idea Unearthing it all unearthing the mind's fertile crescent in which action transpires and action inspires to set an action hero into orbit Who is this action hero Merely the neurotic who sits alone in a corner thinking thoughts about modern life and exactly where they fit into it Experimentation with the mind by letting the mind go by not trying to contain it by letting it be honest and forthright that is what Hashish Dreaming is all about It's nothing more and nothing less than that

Dreaming of Cockaigne Herman Pleij, 2003-07-02 Imagine a dreamland where roasted pigs wander about with knives in their backs to make carving easy where grilled geese fly directly into one's mouth where cooked fish jump out of the water and land at one's feet The weather is always mild the wine flows freely sex is readily available and all people enjoy eternal youth Such is Cockaigne Portrayed in legend oral history and art this imaginary land became the most pervasive collective dream of medieval times an earthly paradise that served to counter the suffering and frustration of daily existence and to allay anxieties about an increasingly elusive heavenly paradise Illustrated with extraordinary artwork from the Middle Ages Herman Pleij's Dreaming of Cockaigne is a spirited account of this lost paradise and the world that brought it to life Pleij takes three important texts as his starting points for an inspired of the panorama of ideas dreams popular religion and literary and artistic creation present in the late Middle Ages What emerges is a well defined picture of the era furnished with a wealth of detail from all of Europe as well as Asia and America Pleij draws upon his thorough knowledge of medieval European literature art history and folklore to describe the fantasies that fed the tales of Cockaigne and their connections to the central obsessions of medieval life

The Nightly Act of Dreaming Ryan Curtis Friesen, 2019-05-28 The search for a shared practice of storytelling around which a popular study of cognitive narratology might form need look no further than our nightly experience of dreams Dreams and memories are inseparable complicating and building upon one another reminding us that knowledge of ourselves based on our memories relies upon fictionalized narratives we create for ourselves

Psychologists refer to confabulation the creation of false or distorted memories about oneself and the world we inhabit albeit without any conscious intention to deceive This process and narrative inherent in the dreamlife of all people is at odds with the daily menu of cultural myths and politicized fictions fed to the Western world through print and social media and for which there is constant divisiveness and disagreement Cognitive Narratology and the Shared Identity of Myth uses insights gained from the scientific study of dreaming to explain how the shared experience of dreamlife can work in service to the common good Primary texts and literary works chosen for their influence on contemporary thinking provide a rationale and historical background From Artemidorus a professional diviner and Aristotle to the Church fathers Tertullian St Augustine Gregory of Nyssa Sinesius of Cyrene to The Wanderer Old English poem and Chaucers Book of the Duchess to Coleridges writings and R L Stevensons A Chapter on Dreams and to twentieth century dream theory and dream use in film The purpose is to enable readers through subjective self analysis to recognize what they share with their fellow dreamers shared identity in formation of a shared act of dreaming creation is a universal across centuries and throughout Western culture albeit currently misrepresented and rarely acted upon That's Raven Talk Mareike Neuhaus,2011 Annotation A reading strategy for orality in North American Indigenous literatures that is grounded in Indigenous linguistic traditions Animal
