Drugs of Abuse, Immunity, and Infections Herman Friedman, Thomas W. Klein, Steven Specter, 1995-12-18 During the past few decades drugs of abuse including marijuana cocaine opiates and alcohol have been studied in detail by biomedical scientists in terms of their effects on the neurophysiology and psychological responses of individuals Research over the last few years has provided increased knowledge about possible mechanisms by which such drugs increase the likelihood of infections in humans and experimental animals In Drugs of Abuse Immunity and Infections prominent investigators review important new information concerning the effects of recreational drugs on susceptibility to infection by microorganisms The volume examines the effects of drugs such as cocaine morphine marijuana and opiates on immunity in humans and animals It covers the molecular and cellular mechanisms of drug induced immunosuppression and describes the overall enhanced susceptibility to infection in recreational drug users It discusses the alteration of susceptibility to the retrovirus that causes the acquired immunodeficiency syndrome AIDS and the consensus that drugs of abuse may serve as a possible cofactor in the progression of AIDS Drugs of Abuse Immunity and Infections also includes important information concerning public health aspects of drugs of abuse and infection

Drugs of Abuse, Immunity, and Immunodeficiency Herman Friedman, Thomas W. Klein, Steven Specter, 2012-12-06 This volume is based on the program of the International Conference on Drugs of Abuse Immunity and Immunodeficiency held in Clearwater Beach Florida It was sponsored by the University of South Florida College of Medicine with the support of the National Institute on Drug Abuse During the past few decades drugs of abuse including marijuana cocaine opiates and alcohol have been studied by biomedical scientists in terms of the systemic effects of the drugs as well as alterations in neurophysiology and the psychology More recently the scope of such investigations has been broadened to include alterations within the immune system and the influence of altered immunity on physiological and psychological consequences of drug abuse In this regard participants in the Clearwater Beach conference provided new information concerning both basic and clinical aspects of drugs of abuse and immunity especially immunodeficiency Advances have been made in recent years in understanding the nature and mechanisms regulating the immune response and the mechanisms by which drugs may influence immune responses In particular the emergence of psychoneuroimmunology as a new discipline has heightened interest in immune responses influenced by psychoactive drugs This has resulted in interdisciplinary investigations involving clinical and basic scientists including microbiologists immunologists physiologists psychiatrists oncologists and others The recreational use of the above mentioned drugs by large numbers of individuals has aroused serious concern about the consequences of this activity

Drugs of Abuse, Immunity, and AIDS Pawel Migula, T.W. Klein, S. Specter, 2012-12-06 This volume is based on the program of the Second International Conference on Drugs of Abuse Immunity and AIDS held in Clearwater Beach FL in June 1992 The Conference was supported in part by the University of South Florida College of Medicine with financial assistance from the National Institute on Drug

Abuse The focus of this conference was the effects of drugs of abuse on immunity It is now widely recognized that psychoactive drugs of abuse including marijuana cocaine and opiates as well as alcohol have marked effects in an individual including effects on their nervous system and behavior In the past two decades the scope of studies concerning the effects of some drugs of abuse have also involved investigations of alterations of various physiologic parameters including effects on the immune system and the influence of such immune alterations on normal physiological responses In this regard participants in this Second International Conference provided newer information concerning both basic and clinical aspects of drugs of abuse and immunity especially immunodeficiencies In this regard advances have been made in recent years concerning the nature and mechanisms whereby the immune system is regulated and the possible mechanisms by which drugs of abuse influence such immune systems In particular the emergence of psychoneuroimmunology as a new discipline the last decade has heightened interest in the immune responses influenced by psychoactive drugs This has resulted in interdisciplinary investigations involving both clinical and basic scientists including microbiologists immunologists physiologists psychiatrists oncologists psychologists etc
