The Management of Eating Disorders and Obesity David J. Goldstein, 1999-08-09 The mission of the Nutrition and Health Series of books is to provide health professionals with texts that are considered essential because each book includes 1 a synthesis of the state of the science 2 timely in depth reviews by the leading researchers in their respective fields 3 extensive up to date fully annotated reference list 4 a detailed index 5 relevant tables and figures 6 identification of paradigm shifts and their consequences 7 virtually no overlap of information between chapters but targeted interchapter referrals 8 suggestions of areas for future research and 9 balanced data driven answers to patients questions which are based on the totality of evidence rather than the findings of any single study The series volumes are not the outcome of a symposium Instead each editor has the potential to examine a chosen area with a broad perspective both in subject matter as well as choice of chapter authors The international perspective especially with regard to public health initiatives is emphasized where appropriate The editors whose training are both research and practice oriented have the opportunity to develop a primary objective for their books definite the scope and focus and invite leading international authorities to be part of their initiative The authors are encouraged to provide an overview of the field discuss their own research and relate their research findings to potential human health consequences
