Technology Rivalry Between the USA and China Peter C.Y. Chow, 2025-02-19 This book addresses the geopolitics and geoeconomics of technological rivalry between the world's two great powers the USA and China It focuses on the semiconductor industry which owing to its dual use in civilian and defence sectors is critical to economic and national security interests A diverse set of contributions from renowned scholars span wide ranging topics to holistically analyze contemporary USA China national security through a technological lens the shifting trade and technology policy in the USA the Chip 4 alliance as an industrial cartel technology sanctions and the voice of high tech industry in the USA the race for digital sovereignty in the Gulf region and in Africa Japan's grand strategy vis vis semiconductors a critical assessment of China's achievement on its self sufficiency and effort in reducing its reliance on foreign supplies the significance and the strategy of Taiwan's semiconductor in the future as well as how Taiwan can advance its national security through its status as a powerhouse of semiconductors Korea's semiconductor policy in response to international technology rivalry India's pursuit of semiconductors and a close investigation of decoupling and hostility between the two great powers U. S. Export Control and Nonproliferation Policy and the Role and Responsibility of the Department of Defense Strom Thurmond, 2001-02 Hearing held to determine whether there are measures that can be taken to strengthen DoD's role in the export license review process Dr Mitchel B Wallerstein Former Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Counterproliferation Policy Gary Milhollin Executive Director Wisconsin Project for Nuclear Arms Control S. 1712, Export Administration Act of 1999 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, 2003 Arms Trade and Economic Development Jurgen Brauer, Paul Dunne, 2004-08-02 With the US invasion of Iraq the issue of arms trading is once again at the forefront of world events Arms importing countries often ask their suppliers to offset the cost by reinvesting some of the money in their country Trading with the Enemy Hugo Meijer, 2016 In light of the intertwining logics of military competition and economic interdependence at play in US China relations Trading with the Enemy examines how the United States has balanced its potentially conflicting national security and economic interests in its relationship with the People's Republic of China PRC To do so Hugo Meijer investigates a strategically sensitive yet under explored facet of US China relations the making of American export control policy on military related technology transfers to China since 1979 Trading with the Enemy is the first monograph on this dimension of the US China relationship in the post Cold War Based on 199 interviews declassified documents and diplomatic cables leaked by Wikileaks two major findings emerge from this book First the US is no longer able to apply a strategy of military technology containment of China in the same way it did with the Soviet Union during the Cold War This is because of the erosion of its capacity to restrict the transfer of military related technology to the PRC Secondly a growing number of actors in Washington have reassessed the nexus between national security and economic interests at stake in the US China relationship by moving beyond the Cold War trade off between the two in order to maintain American military preeminence vis vis its strategic rivals By focusing on how states manage the heterogeneous and potentially competing security and economic interests at stake in a bilateral relationship this book seeks to shed light on the evolving character of interstate rivalry in a globalized economy where rivals in the military realm are also economically interdependent A Revitalized ACDA in the Post-cold War World United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs. Subcommittee on International Security, International Organizations, and Human Rights, 1994 International Economic Review, 1994 U.S. Export Control and Nonproliferation Policy and the Role and Responsibility of the Department of Defense United States.
