Dreaming Of Africa:

Day Dreaming in Africa Nina Bestelink, 2006-10-27 This book is a collection of poems and prose written over a number of years. It is inspired by the unmistakable magic of Africa. Each page paints a picture of life in Botswana from the vivid unforgettable sunsets and the clownish wildebeest to the stately grace of the elephant and the unrealized beauty of the spider. Through all seasons and even the occasional drought, living in Africa truly is a unique and unparalleled experience.

Dreaming, Religion and Society in Africa M.C. Jedrej, Rosalind Shaw, 2023-11-20 The contributors to this investigation of dreaming in a diversity of African cultures and settings have each approached the matter with a respect for an indigenous discourse which does not necessarily subscribe to Western evaluations of the objective and subjective. The matter of dreaming is not so much a psychological constant as ultimately sociological and historical. Dream discourse as a strategy deploys contingencies in the elaboration of social relationships and the defence, restoration and promotion of identities. Dreaming is therefore prominent in such critical settings as sickness and healing, artistic inspiration and craftwork, election to religious office, conversion to Islam or Christianity.

I Dreamed of Africa Kuki Gallmann, 2007-10-30 Gallmann gives the enthralling story of a woman's life in Africa: the story of a powerful romance and paralyzing sorrow and of Africa itself, a land of passionate beauty haunted by mystery and danger. 8 in color.

African Psychology Augustine Nwoye, 2022 One of the most unprecedented developments in the history of the scientific study of psychology in postcolonial Africa is the recent welcome inclusion of the study of African psychology within the psychology degree curriculum of some foreword thinking African universities. In each of those universities such as the University of KwaZulu Natal in South Africa and Kenyatta University in Nairobi, Kenya, East Africa, there now exists a gradual entrenchment of the African derived psychology in the curricular provisions of their psychology degree programmes. With particular reference to the University of KwaZulu Natal in South Africa, for instance, a number of African psychology based modules have recently been developed, approved and incorporated into the list of modules for psychology degree students at the undergraduate Honours and the Master's degree levels. See University of KwaZulu Natal College of Humanities Handbook 2018.

African Folklore Philip M. Peek, Kwesi Yankah, 2004-03-01 Written by an international team of experts, this is the first work of its kind to offer comprehensive coverage of folklore throughout the African continent. Over 300 entries provide in-depth examinations of individual African countries, ethnic groups, religious practices, artistic genres, and numerous other concepts related to folklore. Featuring original field photographs, a comprehensive index, and thorough cross-references, African Folklore: An Encyclopedia is an indispensable resource for any library's folklore or African studies collection. Also includes seven maps.

Through a Glass Darkly Ronald Hoffman, Mechal Sobel, Fredrika J. Teute, 2012-12-01 These thirteen original essays are provocative explorations in the construction and representation of self in America's colonial and early republican eras.
