Clarke, 2002-09-11 What is the place of Eastern thought Buddhism Taoism Hinduism Confucianism in the Western intellectual tradition Oriental Enlightenment shows how despite current talk of globalization there is still a reluctance to accept that the West could have borrowed anything of significance from the East and explores a critique of the orientalist view that we must regard any study of the East through the lens of Western colonialism and domination Oriental Enlightenment provides a lucid introduction to the fascination Eastern thought has exerted on Western minds since the Renaissance

The Re-Enchantment of the West Christopher Partridge, 2005-03-04 As a book about emergent spirituality in the contemporary West it focuses on the nature evolution and significance of new forms of religion and alternative spiritualities Part One of the book provides the theoretical background and guides the reader through some of the principal debates After an overview of the secularization thesis which argues that the West is becoming increasingly disenchanted the second chapter turns to the sociological analysis of new religions and alternative spiritualities Particular attention is given to the ideas of the sociologist of religion Ernst Troeltsch especially his enigmatic analysis of the emergence mystical religion which presciently provides helpful insights into understanding the contemporary alternative religious milieu Against sociologists such as Bryan Wilson and Steve Bruce this and the subsequent chapter argues that rather than being insignificant new forms of spirituality are actually proving to be a significant part of Western re enchantment Chapter 3 constructs a general theory of the re enchantment of the West Chris Partridge argues that Western Society is permeated by a broad occulture by which he means a reservoir of ideas beliefs theories and practices to which new religions unorthodox spiritualities film and popular music all draw attention This re enchantment of the West should not be seen as a superficial secondary development in the shadow of Christianity In many ways it is a religious phenomenom in its own right Partridge s arguments in this regard are well put and I warmly welcome this timely book Mikhael Rothstein University of Copenhagen Denmark Proceedings of the Tenth Seminar of the IATS, 2003. Volume 2: Tibetan Borderlands ,2006-08-01 Since the occupation of Tibet by the Peoples Republic of China in 1959 former border principalities and feudatories of the former realm of the Dalai Lama have broken away and have developed sociopolitical and economic bonds with other states Sikkim Bhutan Ladakh and the Tibeto Burman speaking regions of Burma Nepal and others have all developed strong ethnic identities apart from Tibet Eleven well known scholars working in these borderlands of Tibet present in this volume aspects of their current historical linguistic and ethnographic research Originally presented at the Oxford University meeting of the International Association of Tibetan Studies in 2003 the volume provides a unique panoply of cultural diversity within the contemporary Tibeto Burman speaking world Illustrated with introduction Steps toward a Tibetan Understanding of Purity James E. Occult Roots of Religious Studies Yves Mühlematter, Helmut Zander, 2021-06-08 The historiographers of religious studies have written the history of this discipline primarily as a rationalization of ideological most prominently theological and phenomenological ideas first through the establishment of comparative philological and sociological methods and secondly through the demand for intentional neutrality This interpretation caused important roots in occult esoteric traditions to be repressed This process of purification Latour is not to be equated with the origin of the academic studies De facto the elimination of idealistic theories took time and only happened later One example concerning the early entanglement is Tibetology where many researchers and respected chair holders were influenced by theosophical ideas or were even members of the Theosophical Society Similarly the emergence of comparatistics cannot be understood without taking into account perennialist ideas of esoteric provenance which hold that all religions have a common origin In this perspective it is not only the history of religious studies which must be revisited but also the partial shaping of religious studies by these traditions insofar as it saw itself as a counter model to occult ideas
