Come Out Come Out Whoever You Are explains why so many different groups gravitate toward the term coming out By focusing on the personal and political resonance of coming out it provides a novel way to understand how identity politics work in America today Dream of the Bird Tattoo Juan J. Morales, 2025-02-18 In this brilliantly rendered collection the author's fourth Juan J. Morales explores love and grief after the death of his father Morales weaves his father's personality his childhood in Puerto Rico and his service in the US military with his own interest in life after death In these poems he guides the reader through ghost hunts conversations with mediums a series of dreams in which he and his father work through his father's crossing over together and his ultimate acceptance of this monumental loss Dream of the Bird Tattoo beautifully showcases how our loved ones continue to live on in our memories and actions God and Dreams John Pratt Bingham, 2010-01-01 At one time when an individual wanted a direct personal experience of God that person turned to his or her dreams The early third century Christian defender of the faith Tertullian observed Is it not known to all people that the dream is the most usual way that God reveals himself to man Yet by the eleventh century King William II of England states They are not good Christians that regard dreams Why did this reversal of opinion occur not only in Christian thinking but in Jewish and Islamic attitudes also God and Dreams Is There a Connection traces the historic connection between God and dreams and examines why this shift happened While particular attention is given to Jewish Christian and Islamic thought several secular disciplines are discussed also After investigating the different points of view an argument is made that the connection between God and dreams still exists Contemporary Indigenous Cosmologies and Pragmatics Françoise Dussart, Sylvie Poirier, 2022-03-07 In this timely collection the authors examine Indigenous peoples' negotiations with different cosmologies in a globalized world Dussart and Poirier outline a sophisticated theory of change that accounts for the complexity of Indigenous peoples' engagement with Christianity and other cosmologies their own colonial experiences as well as their ongoing relationships to place and kin The contributors offer fine grained ethnographic studies that highlight the complex and pragmatic ways in which Indigenous peoples enact their cosmologies and articulate their identity as forms of affirmation This collection is a major contribution to the anthropology of religion religious studies and Indigenous studies worldwide Contributors Anne Marie Colpron Robert R. Croteau Françoise Dussart Ingrid Hall Laurent J. Rime Françoise Laugrand C. James MacKenzie Caroline Nepton Hotte Ksenia Pimenova Sylvie Poirier Kathryn Rountree Antonella Tassinari Petronella Vaarzon Morel THE KEY TO DREAMS or Dialogue with the Good GOD Alexandre Grothendieck, The Book As we have seen Grothendieck is the author of a considerable body of mathematical work But he is also the author of significant literary works Among them is R S which was published by Gallimard in January 2022 after having been widely distributed on the internet since Grothendieck first wrote the text in 1986 Amounting to more than 1 900 pages the book deals with many subjects the author's journey as a mathematician his passions his illusions and disillusiones the process of creation and a thousand other topics It also includes long passages on Yin and Yang feminine and masculine ways of doing mathematics the mother the father and child dreams and so on A large part of the text is devoted to a revelation he is said to have experienced in 1976 and a long period of meditation that followed It is a kind of self analysis tinged it has to be said with a certain degree of paranoia A recurring theme is the sense of betrayal he felt toward his former students which is manifested in his work being ignored and forgotten The words funeral deceased hearse massacre and gravedigger and so on quickly become omnipresent after their appearance in the table of contents More generally the book denounces a loss of ethics among the entire mathematical community Grothendieck explains to the reader that mathematics was better before that is prior to 1960 as if the older generation was irreproachable In fact on the contrary it can be said that mathematicians have become much more honest since the 1990s The source of this miracle has a name arXiv It is now becoming ever more difficult to appropriate the ideas of others although of course it is still possible to some degree The institution of mathematics itself has also been greatly improved or at least has been greatly transformed The system of mandarins that dominated French mathematics until the 1970s from which Grothendieck did not experience any difficulties and about whom he does not say a word has practically disappeared Grothendieck who is very self critical throughout the text sometimes ponders whether he might have been arrogant or even contemptuous of those around him during his heyday in the 1960s and 1970s Despite these concerns it is clear that he cares little about ingratiating himself with his readers Instead he offers a book of more than 1 900 pages while in response to a question about the IHES library in its early days he remarks We don't read books we write them 18 R S contains many contradictions that are only partly corrected by a series of Notes some of which despite being of particular importance are not included in this new edition Addressing these contradictions properly would undoubtedly have required the text to be completely rewritten Grothendieck is not paralyzed by any sense of false modesty The thing that struck me is that I do not remember having known even from the allusions of friends or colleagues who are better versed in history of a mathematician apart from myself who contributed such a multiplicity of innovative ideas not more or less disjointed from one another but as part of a vast unifying vision as was the case for Newton and for Einstein in physics and cosmology and for Darwin and for Pasteur in biology 19 Elsewhere he writes It would seem that as a servant of a vast unifying vision born in me I am one of a kind in the history of mathematics from its origin to the present day 20 Although the writing style is not lacking in inspiration it is nonetheless uneven and sometimes deliberately familiar Grothendieck is not le duc de Saint Simon The following analysis will focus only on the content concerning mathematics and the world of mathematicians In the text Grothendieck complains at length that his ideas have been plundered by his former students without reference to their master or that they have simply been erased and forgotten These assertions are not always supported by solid arguments or precise references But above all it is the nature of discoveries to be trivialized and their author forgotten and all the more so when the underlying ideas are often in hindsight obvious Grothendieck's reproaches are addressed to all his pupils and particularly to Deligne whose name is almost always preceded by the words my friend insinuating my former friend and to Verdier It is quite possible to imagine that Deligne was only lightly involved with Grothendieck's authorship of the motives or that the Verdier duality already mentioned could just as well be called the Grothendieck duality But otherwise everyone knows that it was Grothendieck who invented schemes motives Grothendieck topologies topoi and above all that he imposed the functorial point of view via the six operations and the derived categories Everyone knows that it is thanks to the machinery devised by Grothendieck that Deligne was able to prove Andr Weil's last conjecture In support of his claims about the total loss of ethics in the mathematical community from the 1970s onwards Grothendieck's entire argument is based on the unique testimony of one and only one mathematician who came to see him several times at his home in the countryside It is common practice in ethnology to rely on an informant from the group being studied and who speaks the language The problem is that the informant may not always be all that reliable and can in fact say anything Here it is an even worse situation since the informant declares himself to be the first person affected by the story he is going to tell namely the Riemann Hilbert R H correspondence

Narrating War and Peace in Africa Solimar Otero, 2010 Narrating War and Peace in Africa interrogates conventional representations of Africa and African culture mainly in the twentieth and early twenty first centuries with an emphasis on portrayals of conflict and peace While Africa has experienced political and social turbulence throughout its history more recent conflicts seem to reinforce the myth of barbarism across the continent in Nigeria Rwanda Somalia Sierra Leone Uganda Kenya Mozambique Chad South Africa Zimbabwe and Sudan The essays in this volume address reductive and stereotypical assumptions of postcolonial violence as tribal in nature and offer instead various perspectives across disciplinary boundaries that foster a less fetishized more contextualized understanding of African war peace and memory Through their geographical historical and cultural scope and diversity the chapters in Narrating War and Peace in Africa aim to challenge negative stereotypes that abound in relation to Africa in general and to its wars and conflicts in particular encouraging a shift to more balanced and nuanced representations of the continent and its political and social climates Contributors Ann Albuyeh Zermarie Deacon Alicia C Decker Am na Mo nfar Kayode Omoniyi Ogunfolabi Sabrina Parent Susan Rasmussen Michael Sharp Cheryl Sterling Hetty ter Haar Melissa Tully Pamela Wadende Metasebia Woldemariam Jonathan Zilberg Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin Hetty ter Haar is an independent researcher in England

L. Daniel Defoe and the Representation of Personal Identity Christopher Borsing,2016-08-25 The concept of a personal identity was a contentious issue in the early eighteenth century John Locke s philosophical discussion of personal identity in An Essay Concerning Human Understanding fostered a public debate upon the status of an immortal Christian soul This book argues that Defoe like many of this age had religious difficulties with Locke s empiricist analysis of human identity In particular it examines how Defoe explores competitive individualism as a social threat while also demonstrating the literary and psychological fiction of any concept of a separated lone identity This foreshadows Michel Foucault s assertion that the idea of man is a recent invention a figure not yet two centuries old a new wrinkle in our knowledge The monograph s engagement with Defoe s destabilization of any definition or image of personal identity across a wide range of genres including satire political propaganda history conduct literature travel narrative spiritual autobiography piracy and history economic and scientific literature rogue biography scandalous and secret history dystopian documentary science fiction and apparition narrative is an important and original contribution to the literary and cultural understanding of the early eighteenth century as it interrogates and challenges modern presumptions of individual identity      Here Be Dragons Stefan Ekman,Stefar Ekman,2013-02-19 First in depth study of the use of landscape in fantasy literature Winner of the Mythopoeic Scholarship Award for Myth and Fantasy Studies 2016 Fantasy worlds are never mere backdrops They are an integral part of the work and refuse to remain separate from other elements These worlds combine landscape with narrative logic by incorporating alternative rules about cause and effect or physical transformation They become actors in the drama interacting with the characters offering assistance or hindrance and making ethical demands In Here Be Dragons Stefan Ekman provides a wide ranging survey of the ubiquitous fantasy map as the point of departure for an in depth discussion of what such maps can tell us about what is important in the fictional worlds and the stories that take place there With particular focus on J R R Tolkien s The Lord of the Rings Ekman shows how fantasy settings deserve serious attention from both readers and critics Includes insightful readings of works by Steven Brust Garth Nix Robert Holdstock Terry Pratchett Charles de Lint China Mi ville Patricia McKillip Tim Powers Lisa Goldstein Steven R Donaldson Robert Jordan and Neil Gaiman and Charles Vess

Imaginative Prophecy in the B-text of Piers Plowman Ernest N. Kaulbach, 1993 Exploration of the Arabic psychological theory underlying Piers Plowman and the interpretive insights this offers The psychology underlying Passus 8 20 of Piers Plowman remains unexplored in its entirety despite single articles on separate psychological personifications Professor Kaulbach aims to remedy this huge gap in our understanding of Langland s poem by adducing a psychology which not only illuminates previously mysterious relations between psychological actants but also reveals that many apparently non psychological figures Piers Plowman for example are best explained by reference to psychological theory The body of psychological theory on which the author draws is that of Arabic specifically Avicennan theory of the prophetic mental act the vis imaginativa or ymaginatif in Middle English Beyond the original interpretative insights offered by this book Professor Kaulbach also describes the intellectual and manuscript context in which Arabic psychology was made available to a late fourteenth century English poet ERNEST N KAULBACH is Associate Professor of English Classics and occasionally Philosophy at the University of Texas at Austin
