affirmer que la matière chappe dans son entier au droit de l'Union. De nombreux aspects de la famille sont sous influence européenne au point que l'on voit se dessiner les contours d'une famille européenne. L'ouvrage propose de mettre en lumière l'acquis européen en matière de droit de la famille au prisme du droit matériel citoyennet européen, politique sociale de l'Union, fonction publique européenne comme du droit international privé. Le droit de la famille de l'Union s'identifie alors comme un droit spécial complétant la diversité des droits nationaux de la famille. Sa signification théorique et politique dans l'Union est débattue par les auteurs autant que son devenir. Loin de demeurer fragmentaire c'est des droits nationaux des États membres il a probablement vocation se densifier pour offrir aux citoyens et résidents européens un droit commun de la famille au sein de l'Union. Family law with its civil law tradition and strong roots in the national cultures of the Member States does not normally fall within the scope of European law. However it is no longer possible to argue that family law is outside European law entirely. There are many aspects of the family which are subject to European influence to the point that the outlines of a European family are starting to emerge. This book is intended to highlight the European experience of family law and its substantive i.e. European citizenship, EU social policy, EU civil service and private international law aspects. Union law therefore contains a form of special family law which is shared between the Member States and supplements their national family laws. Its theoretical and political importance in the Union as well as its future are discussed by the authors. Far from remaining fragmented alongside the national laws of Member States it will likely develop to offer European citizens and residents a common family law within the EU.

Contractualisation of Family Law - Global Perspectives Frederik Swennen, 2015-07-06. This volume presents global and comparative perspectives on the perpetual pendular movement of family law between status and contract. It contributes to the topical academic debate on family law exceptionalism by exploring the blurred lines between public law, private law and family law and sheds light on the many shades of grey that exist. The contributions focus on both substantive and procedural family law on parents and children and on life partners with particular attention for contractual arrangements of family formations and of conflict resolution. The hypothesis underlying all contributions was the trend towards contractualisation of family law. A convergent research outcome resulting from the comparison of national reports was the ambivalent position of family law in legal systems worldwide. That comparison shows that whereas family law is clearly moving towards contract with regard to old family formations the contrary is true for new family formations. The movement towards contract is rarely considered to be contractualisation pur sang with civil effect. The movement towards status finally does not necessarily witness family law exceptionalism vis-à-vis private law in view of the increasing State interventionism in private law relations in general. In sum as the volume shows the high permeability of the demarcations between the State, the family and the market impedes a categorical approach. This volume is based on the general and selected national reports on the topic Contractualisation of Family Law that were presented at the XIXth International Congress of Comparative Law in Vienna in July 2014.

Droit civil Marie-Pierre Camproux-Duffrène, P. Hilt, I. Rhim, 2000 Autour de l'enfant Anne Lefebvre-Teillard, 2008-09-30

The present revolution in biological technology is leading lawyers to fundamentally reconsider the laws of human reproduction. What is at stake is not only the transmission of life but also the transmission of a certain order of the things on which society is based. This is the reason why the law has always sought to regulate the transmission of life. Covering themes from Canon and medieval Roman Law to the 1804 Code civil, the work includes twenty-three articles on the history of law about a number of modern-day questions. They deal with the close connections long maintained between marriage and procreation with natural and legal filiation, especially regarding the very delicate problems of evidence with the institution of legitimation but also of the child as a person. There is also an article on the important matter of the conceived child.
