Drought In Bulgaria A Contemporary Analog For Climate Change:

Drought in Bulgaria Ivan Raev, 2018-01-18 Given the different geographical and human contexts in which climate change impacts will be experienced thinking by analogy provides one useful way to explore dimensions of such change This landmark book based on the human dimensions of global change paradigm examines climate impacts through the study of a contemporary society's response to a drought period analogous to expected future climate Bulgaria suffered severe drought from 1982 to 1994 conditions which models suggest better reflects future climate than existing norms The Center for Integrated Regional Assessment at Penn State and the Bulgarian Academy of Sciences collaborated to research this drought period as an analogy for future climate This book shows their assessment of what can be learned from the impacts of and responses to contemporary drought in Bulgaria It therefore makes an important contribution to the literature on regional climate change and methods used to address anticipated impacts of that change Drought in Bulgaria C. Gregory Knight, Ivan Raev, Marieta P. Staneva, 2004 Bulgaria suffered severe drought from 1982 1994 The Center for Integrated Regional Assessment at Penn State and the Bulgarian Academy of Sciences collaborated to research this drought period as an analogy for future climate This book shows their assessment of what can be learnt from the impacts of and responses to contemporary drought in Bulgaria Climate Change and Groundwater Walter Dragoni, Balbir S. Sukhija, 2008 There is a general consensus that for the next few decades at least the Earth will continue its warming This will inevitably bring about serious environmental problems For human society the most severe will be those related to alterations of the hydrological cycle which is already heavily influenced by human activities Climate change will directly affect groundwater recharge groundwater quality and the freshwater seawater interface The variations of groundwater storage inevitably entail a variety of geomorphological and engineering effects In the areas where water resources are likely to diminish groundwater will be one of the main solutions to prevent drought In spite of its paramount importance the issue of Climate Change and Groundwater has been neglected This volume presents some of the current understanding of the topic Global Environmental Change: Challenges to Science and Society in Southeastern Europe Vesselin Alexandrov, Martin Felix Gajdusek, C. Gregory Knight, Antoaneta Yotova, 2010-06-17 Selected papers from the International Conference Global Environmental Change Challenges for Science and Society in South Eastern Europe held 19 21 May 2008 in Sofia Bulgaria Covers changes in climate land use carbon and water cycles air quality etc Drought in Bulgaria Ivan Raev, 2018-01-18 Given the different geographical and human contexts in which climate change impacts will be experienced thinking by analogy provides one useful way to explore dimensions of such change This landmark book based on the human dimensions of global change paradigm examines climate impacts through the study of a contemporary society's response to a drought period analogous to expected future climate Bulgaria suffered severe drought from 1982 to 1994 conditions which models suggest better reflects future climate than existing norms The Center for Integrated Regional Assessment at Penn State and

This book integrates the different prospective scientific and practical experience of researchers as well as beneficiaries and stakeholders in the field of forest conservation in Southeast Europe. The book stresses the importance of improving the adaptability of these ecosystems to the impacts of climate change. Gathered around a common idea, the book presents the latest results in forest genetic resources conservation at national and regional level. The chapters are written by experts from Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, FYR Macedonia, Greece, Montenegro, Romania, Serbia, and Slovenia. The book presents the current state legal and institutional framework for conservation and management of forest genetic resources, case studies, and best practices in the application of different conservation methods and techniques in situ and ex situ, as well as climate change aspects in this area. This book will be of particular interest to scientists and experts in the field of forestry, environmental protection, and rural development, bachelor, master, and doctoral students, as well as for anyone interested in the conservation issues fuelled by ethical and economic motives. Drought and the Human Story R.L. Heathcote, 2016-05-13. Drought has been a long companion in the human story. Mythologised as the devastating Bull of Heaven in one of the earliest heroic legends to come out of Mesopotamia, drought has continued to wreak havoc upon societies in many cases, playing a significant role in their final demise. For societies in the 21st Century, drought hovers on all horizons; the ultimate drought proofing of society long sought remains elusive. This study of the human conceptualization of drought in a global setting examines the historical record from early human society through to present day concerns to explore how and why attitudes to drought have changed and why the mitigation of its impacts has become more difficult. To offer a more lasting strategy for protection against drought, the author argues that physical scientists need to combine their skills in understanding global ecology and their technological expertise with the social scientists' awareness of the socio-economic, political, and cultural contexts in which modern societies operate. Both will have to ensure that their cooperative strategies for drought management will be understood and supported by the public. If this cooperation can be achieved, the future rampages of the Bull of Heaven may be contained. Information Technology in Disaster Risk Reduction Yuko Murayama, Dimiter Velez, Plamena Zlateva, 2021-07-30. This volume constitutes the refereed and revised post-conference proceedings of the 5th IFIP WG 5.15 International Conference on Information Technology in Disaster Risk Reduction (ITDRR 2020) in Sofia, Bulgaria, in December 2020. The 18 full papers and 6 short papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 52 submissions. The papers focus on various aspects and challenges of coping with disaster risk reduction. forging a new place in Europe The A to Z of Bulgaria contains more than 600 cross referenced entries on Bulgarian historical periods places terms organizations events and personalities The number of entries dealing with historical figures and events has been considerably enlarged and all of the entries of the first edition that have remained were carefully updated The newest insights of Bulgarian historiography as practiced in Bulgaria and abroad are also reflected In addition the book includes a brief introduction into Bulgarian history from the earliest times until mid 2005 including the formation of the current cabinet an easy reference chronology of Bulgarian history several maps and lists of Bulgarian political parties administrations and leaders A comprehensive bibliography is included to facilitate further reading on Bulgaria and Bulgarian history

Translocal Ageing in the Global East Deljana Iossifova, 2020-11-21 This book is about ageing in Bulgaria How do Bulgaria's elderly abandoned by the state and left behind by their adult children and grandchildren adapt to their continuously shifting environment and a state of perpetual uncertainty Drawing on dozens of interviews with older people in Bulgaria's capital Sofia as well as a village in the Bulgarian Balkans Iossifova unravels how the dramatic socio political transitions of the past eighty years have influenced the lifecourse of older people today She carefully traces their patterns of everyday life in order to draw out the mechanisms through which older people cope with their meagre pensions sustain their ailing bodies and make do in their tattered homes Iossifova argues that ageing in place as a popular paradigm underpinning neoliberal policy agendas has no place in Bulgaria and the wider Global East where translocal ageing is the norm

Forest Management and the Water Cycle Michael Bredemeier, Shabtai Cohen, Douglas L. Godbold, Elve Lode, Viliam Pichler, Patrick Schleppe, 2010-10-25 The protective function of forests for water quality and water related hazards as well as adequate water supplies for forest ecosystems in Europe are potentially at risk due to changing climate and changing land management practices Water budgets of forest ecosystems are heavily dependent on climate and forest structure The latter is determined by the management measures applied in the forestry sector Various developments of forest management strategies imposed on a background of changing climate are considered in assessing the overall future of forest water interactions in Europe Synthesizing recent research on the interactions of forest management and the water regime of forests in Europe and beyond the book makes an important contribution to the ongoing dialogue between scientists dealing with different scales of forest water interactions This collaborative endeavour which covers geographic and climatic gradients from Iceland to Israel and from southern Spain to Estonia and Finland was made possible through the COST Action Forest Management and the Water Cycle FORMAN which was launched in 2007 <http://www.forestandwater.eu> The book will be of particular interest to the research community involved in forest ecosystem research and forest hydrology as well as landscape ecologists and hydrologists in general It will also provide reference material for forest practitioners and planners in hydrology and land use
