Arif, J. Recent Developments in Alcoholism Marc Galanter, 2013-11-21 From the President of the Research Society on Alcoholism In recent years the alcohol research field has matured and is attracting a substantial number of eager and technically sophisticated researchers There is a feeling of excitement and premonitions of breakthroughs as more and more of alcohol s actions are being detailed I however have at times been sobered by the perception that the lure of parsimonious explanations and the appeal of studying easily demonstrable effects obscure the critical issues re garding alcohol abuse and alcoholism Central questions regarding 1 the reinforcing properties of ethanol and other factors responsible for inappropriate consumption of alcohol 2 the heterogenous characteristics both bi ologic and sociologic of the alcoholic population and 3 the differential predisposition of individuals to alcohol induced medical problems needed to be vigorously pursued Researchers who used animals as models for the human condition needed to become more intimately aware of the variety of factors that are of importance in the development of alcoholism in an indi vidual On the other hand researchers studying humans needed to attempt to more clearly define and categorize diagnostic criteria and characteristics of various alcoholic populations Such categorization and continued character ization of alcoholism allows not only for a framework of concepts within which proper animal models for studies of biologic mechanisms can be de veloped but also allows for consideration of the most apt treatment approaches A Guide for Physician Training in Substance Abuse United States. Advances in Alcohol and Drug Problems Howard Cappell, 2013-11-11 This the ninth volume in the series appears some 13 years after the first Like most of its predecessors Volume 9 is deliberately eclectic covering a range of topics that the editors think worthy of inclusion Some of the chapters such as the review of the literature on benzodiazepines represent areas that have received relatively little attention in previous volumes largely because the literature has not previously been ripe for review Others represent literatures that have been reviewed in the past but which continue to advance in sufficient measure that their ripening never ceases Shepard Siegel s contribution represents a relative rarity in previous volumes a chapter not laden with a consideration of current empirical work but a reflective essay designed to stir thought with some provocative ideas The editors trust that readers will continue to find Research Advances to be an important repository of knowledge in the alcohol and drug fields The Editors Toronto IX Contents 1 THE HUMAN PHARMACOLOGY OF NICOTINE Neal L Benowitz 1 Introduction 2 Nicotine in Tobacco Products 2 3 Pharmacokinetics of Nicotine 4 4 Nicotine and Cotinine Blood Levels during Tobacco Use 14 5 Intake of Nicotine during Cigarette Smoking 18 6 Biochemical Markers of Nicotine Intake 18 7 Regulation of Nicotine Intake during Cigarette Smoking 23 8 Pharmacology of Nicotine 28 9 Importance of Nicotine in Human Disease 41 References 45 2 BENZODIAZEPINES AS DRUGS OF ABUSE AND DEPENDENCE 53 Howard D Cappell Edward M Sellers and Usoa Busto 1 Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1992
