Abrams,1984 Adolescent Health Care Lawrence S. Neinstein,2008 This practical easy to use guide is a staple in health care facilities that treat adolescents is widely used for board preparation and is recommended by the American College of Physicians for their internal medicine library The substance abuse section has been completely reorganized and new chapters cover psychosomatic illness as well as complementary medicine Psychology of Alcohol and Other Drugs John Jung,2001 This study offers a psychological perspective in the coverage of alcohol and drug related issues It examines the contribution of research methodology to outcomes and offers alternative explanations to alcohol and drug related issues Adolescent Drinking and Family Life Geoff Lowe,David R. Foxcroft,David Sibley,1993 A major feature of this approach is the interaction of ideas from family life psychology and human geography The authors present a typology of domestic regimes illustrated by case studies of boundary enforcement and transgression The general theme of boundary transgression applied here to both the psychosocial environment and built form represents an interesting new theoretical perspective The integration of these two fields is an innovation which should stimulate further interdisciplinary work in adolescence and addiction research Adolescent Drinking and Family Life will be invaluable to researchers and practitioners in adolescence family dynamics and alcohol as well as any social scientist with an interest in the link between behaviour and the home environment This new approach has important implications for health education and for interventions concerned with adolescent alcohol use This highly illustrated and tabulated book portrays teenage drinking not as a symptom of pa Alcohol and Substance Abuse in Adolescence Judith Brook,Barry Stimmel,2014-05-22 This timely volume explores the possible reasons that young people turn to drugs the most effective methods to manage those who are afflicted and ways to educate youth to prevent their initial drug involvement

The Adolescent in the Family Patricia Noller, Victor Callan, 2015-12-22 Adolescence can be a difficult time for all concerned Issues such as high youth unemployment sexual behaviour and drug abuse have made it a matter of great concern for the community at large whether as parents politicians or those working with adolescents in education and welfare In addition many parents fear that these problems could affect their own families Originally published in 1991 the authors explore the complex needs of adolescents emphasising the importance of the family environment in helping adolescents cope with the many difficulties and changes they face during this period of their lives The central theme is that adolescents through conflict and negotiation establish new but different relationships with their parents relationships that can endure for a lifetime The authors provide wide coverage of the key issues of adolescence such as identity separation from the family and conflict and look closely at the difficulties produced by events such as the divorce and re marriage of parents and social problems such as long term unemployment With its positive approach to the family and adolescents this clear concise and helpful book will be invaluable both to parents and to the many professionals whose work involves them with adolescents

Adolescent Alcoholism Peggie S. Tillman, 1992 Adolescents, Alcohol, and Drugs Judith H. Jaynes, Cheryl A. Rugg, 1988 Abstract This book is designed to thoroughly acquaint therapists school counselors and nurses teachers psychologists psychiatrists family therapists social workers recreation leaders and youth workers and those in the juvenile court system with the phenomenon of chemical dependency The book explains not only the characteristics and dynamics of chemical abuse and dependency but also discusses the complex interrelationship of chemical dependency and other adolescent problems The school setting is focused upon since young people spend much of their time in schools and their academic performance is increasingly being affected by chemical abuse problems

Binge Drinking in the Adolescent and Young Brain Eduardo López-Caneda, Fernando Cadaveira, Salvatore Campanella, 2019-03-20 Binge drinking BD is a highly prevalent pattern in most Western countries characterized by the intake of large amounts of alcohol in a short time followed by periods of abstinence This abusive form of alcohol consumption is a regular practice in around a third of European and American youths The high prevalence of BD at this age is of particular concern since adolescence and youth are in a period of special vulnerability to neurotoxic effects of alcohol mainly due to the structural and functional changes going on in the brain throughout this key developmental stage Evidence gathered during the last decade from animal and human studies seems to point to multiple brain anomalies associated with BD In this Research Topic we have collated a compendium of articles that address multiple aspects of BD during adolescence and young adulthood such as identification prevalence gender differences and neurocognitive anomalies associated with this excessive alcohol consumption pattern These articles collectively highlight the breadth of current research conducted in this field but also the need to join efforts to improve the screening of the BD pattern the characterization of its consequences as well as the translation of knowledge acquired in the laboratory into clinical practice We remain confident that this Research Topic will contribute significantly to the understanding of BD and its consequences and will further stimulate high quality investigation in this relatively new research field

Family Life in Adolescence Patricia Noller, Sharon Atkin, 2014-01-01 Many parents fear the time when their beautiful happy children will become unmanageable adolescents continually engaging in risky or destructive behaviour Unfortunately this view of adolescents is the focus of the media even though it relates to just a small proportion of young people As the large amount of research we report shows most adolescents are responsible young people who care about their families and crave the support of their parents It is also true however as much research indicates that the quality of the relationship parents have with their adolescents is crucial to the wellbeing of those young people We discuss the need for parents to set reasonable limits on their adolescents and to expect appropriate behavior We also show on the basis of research that children who have experienced positive caring relationships with their parents are more likely than other adolescents to behave responsibly In other words behavior in adolescence does not come out of nowhere but builds on earlier experiences in the family Because of the large amount of research reported in this volume we expect that it will be useful to practitioners from a range of professions that are likely to focus on adolescents social workers youth leaders welfare workers religious leaders psychologists and psychiatrists and contribute to a better understanding of young people and their development and the importance of families to that development
