Drunken Master:

Legacies of the Drunken Master Luke White, 2020-04-30 In 1978 the films Snake in the Eagle's Shadow and Drunken Master both starring a young Jackie Chan caused a stir in the Hong Kong cinema industry and changed the landscape of martial arts cinema. Mixing virtuoso displays of acrobatic kung fu with knockabout humor to huge box office success they broke the mold of the tragic and heroic martial arts film and sparked not only a wave of imitations but also a much longer trend for kung fu comedies that continues to the present day. Legacies of the Drunken Master the first book length analysis of kung fu comedy interrogates the politics of the films and their representations of the performing body. It draws on an interdisciplinary engagement with popular culture and an interrogation of the critical literature on Hong Kong and martial arts cinema to offer original readings of key films. These readings pursue the genre in terms of its carnival aesthetic, the utopias of the body it envisions, its highly stylized depictions of violence, its images of masculinity and the registers of its hysterical laughter. The book's analyses are carried out amidst kung fu comedy's shifting historical contexts including the aftermath of the 1960s radical youth movements, the rapidly globalizing colonial enclave of Hong Kong and the emerging consciousness of its 1997 handover to China and the transnationalization of cinema audiences. It argues that through kung fu comedy's images of the body the genre articulated in complex and often contradictory ways political realities relevant to late twentieth century Hong Kong and the wider conditions of globalized capitalism. The kung fu comedy entwines us in a popular cultural history that stretches into the folk past and forward into utopian and dystopian possibilities. Theoretically rich and critical Legacies of the Drunken Master aims to be at the forefront of scholarship on martial arts cinema. It also addresses readers with a broader interest in Hong Kong culture and politics during the 1970s and 1980s, postcolonialism in East Asia and action and comedy films in a global context as well as those fascinated with the performing body in the martial arts.

Kung Fu Cult Masters Leon Hunt, 2003 Chinese Martial Arts films have captured audiences' imaginations around the world. In this wide ranging study Hunt looks at the mythic allure of the Shaolin Temple, the Clones of Bruce Lee, gender bending swordswomen and the knockabout comedy of Sammo Hung bringing new insights to a hugely popular and yet critically neglected genre. 12 photos. Spinegrinder Clive Davies, 2015-03-06 First came video and more recently high definition home entertainment through to the internet with its streaming videos and not strictly legal peer to peer capabilities. With so many sources available today's fan of horror and exploitation movies isn't necessarily educated on paths well trodden. Universal classics 1950s monster movies Hammer as once they were. They may not even be born and bred on DAWN OF THE DEAD. In fact anyone with a bit of technical savvy quickly becoming second nature for the born clicking generation may be viewing MYSTICS IN BALI and S.S. EXPERIMENT CAMP long before ever hearing of Bela Lugosi or watching a movie directed by Dario Argento. In this world H.G. Lewis so called godfather of gore carries the same stripes as Alfred Hitchcock master of suspense. SPINEGRINDER is one man's ambitious exhaustive and utterly obsessive attempt to make sense of over a century of exploitation and cult cinema of a sort that most critics won't care to write about. One opinion: 8 000 reviews or thereabouts.

The Martial Arts Cinema of the Chinese Diaspora Kin-Yan Szeto, 2011-06-29. In The Martial Arts Cinema of the Chinese Diaspora, Kin-Yan Szeto critically examines three of the most internationally famous martial arts film artists to arise out of the Chinese diaspora and travel far from their homelands to find commercial success in the world at large: Ang Lee, John Woo and Jackie Chan. Positing the idea that these filmmakers' success is evidence of a cosmopolitical awareness arising from their cross-cultural ideological engagements and geopolitical displacements, Szeto demonstrates how this unique perspective allows these three filmmakers to develop and act in the transnational environment of media production, distribution and consumption. Beginning with a historical retrospective on Chinese martial arts films as a diasporic film genre and the transnational styles and ideologies of the filmmakers themselves, Szeto uses case studies to explore in depth how the forces of colonialism, Chinese nationalism and Western imperialism shaped the identities and work of Lee Woo and Chan. Addressed in the volume is the groundbreaking martial arts swordplay film that achieves global success Ang Lee's Crouching Tiger Hidden Dragon and its revelations about Hollywood representations of Asians as well as concepts of male and female masculinity in the swordplay film tradition Also investigated is the invigoration of contemporary gangster thriller and war films by John Woo whose combination of artistic and historical contexts has contributed to his global success Szeto then dissects Chan's mimetic representation of masculinity in his films and the influences of his Chinese theater and martial arts training on his work Szeto outlines the similarities and differences between the three artists' films especially their treatments of gender sexuality and power She concludes by analyzing their films as metaphors for their working conditions in the Chinese diaspora and Hollywood and demonstrating how through their works Lee Woo and Chan communicate not only with the rest of the world but also with each other Far from a book simply about three filmmakers The Martial Arts Cinema of the Chinese Diaspora investigates the transnational nature of films the geopolitics of culture and race and the depths of masculinity and power in movies Szeto's interdisciplinary approach calls for nothing less than a paradigm shift in the study of Chinese diasporic filmmakers and the embodiment of cosmopolitical perspectives in the martial arts genre
