Animals Helping with Healing Ann O. Squire,2015-03-27 Learn how animals can be trained to work in healthcare positions or used for therapy Heartfelt Connections Phd Anne E Beall,2016-08-04 What is the nature of the connection between people and animals Or put another way how do the relationships that form between humans and our animal companions have profound influences on our lives From beloved family companions to therapy animals search and rescue canines and other animals who help their human partners heal learn and grow there are compelling reasons to believe that animals and people are inextricably and deeply connected to one another In Heartfelt Connections How Animals and People Help One Another author and social psychologist Anne E Beall explores the relationships that occur between humans and animals and she describes the many people whose lives have been changed tremendously by animals With narratives and research about horses who heal dogs who help children read cats who save the lives of their owners and pigs sheep ducks and llamas who help reduce stress and lift the spirits of people Beall shows how animals are in action across the United States at nursing homes at hospitals and at rehabilitation centers and are making a difference in the lives of many people Beall finds that even a household pet can make people feel better about the world and about themselves and these pets can also provide comfort and friendship in times of need And as therapy and rehabilitation animals help victims of abuse trauma and even war overcome their own challenges the bond between humans and animals grows even stronger a deep connection that is truly heartfelt Heartfelt Connections Anne Beall,2018-12-03 What is the nature of the connection between people and animals Or put another way how do the relationships that form between humans and our animal companions have profound influences on our lives From beloved family companions to therapy animals search and rescue canines and other animals who help their human partners heal learn and grow there are compelling reasons to believe that animals and people are inextricably and deeply connected to one another In Heartfelt Connections How Animals and People Help One Another author and social psychologist Anne E Beall explores the relationships that occur between humans and animals and she describes the many people whose lives have been changed tremendously by animals With narratives and research about horses who heal dogs who help children read cats who save the lives of their owners and pigs sheep ducks and llamas who help reduce stress and lift the spirits of people Beall shows how animals are in action across the United States at nursing homes at hospitals and at rehabilitation centers and are making a difference in the lives of many people Beall finds that even a household pet can make people feel better about the world and about themselves and these pets can also provide comfort and friendship in times of need And as therapy and rehabilitation animals help victims of abuse trauma and even war overcome their own challenges the bond between humans and animals grows even stronger a deep connection that is truly heartfelt

Animals as Guides for the Soul Susan Chernak McElroy, 1999-08-31 In her New York Times bestseller Animals as Teachers and Healers Susan Chernak McElroy movingly explored the wide and enriching horizons of human relationships with animals In this new volume of reflections and true animal stories she invites us to broaden and deepen that relationship While living with her husband and animals on a farm in Oregon McElroy pondered the ancient bonds that connect humans and animals the healing gifts of animals the genius of people who talk to them and the power of animal messengers She also asked herself the tough questions that engage every true animal lover How can we soothe our anguish and guilt when a loved animal suffers or dies How do we atone for our mistakes When are animals prisoners and when are they fulfilled Is it moral to eat other beings And how can we go about transforming our relationship with animals Through daily experiences with the animals around her and those in her dreams along with compelling true stories sent to her by readers McElroy began to find answers She discovered that animals are guides in the development of our souls A frail llama teaches lessons of joy and unconditional love a barn cat proves that service need not be imprisonment but fulfillment a mortally injured hawk infuses a cancer patient with renewed strength and faith an attentive rabbit awakens an abused child from a trance of sadness and a skinny white horse does more for a damaged six year old boy in one hour than any human has done in six years In this deeply personal yet universal testament to the profound connection between animals and humans there is wisdom and blessing As the author reminds us the fingerprint of God is often a pawprint

The Compassion of Animals Kristin von Kreisler, 1999 Do Animals Have Feelings According to Kristin von Kreisler the answer is an undeniable yes Here she shares dozens of absorbing true stories of animals who've risked their lives to keep the human they love out of danger You'll read of incredibly heroic acts from the dog who swallows a firecracker to protect a toddler to the horse who runs through traffic to save an injured woman You'll come away from this profoundly moving book with a deeper appreciation for the indispensable role animals play in our daily lives Remember some of the feelings you had as a child for the animals to whom you were closest That is what this book is all about Jeffrey Moussaieff Masson from the foreword An inspiring collection of animal loyalty love and bravery No one can deny the emotional impact of this anecdotal book Publishers Weekly An extraordinary combination of incredible research and deep feeling Cleveland Amory author of Ranch of Dreams and The Cat Who Came for Christmas Through dozens of inspiring true stories Kristin von Kreisler makes a strong case for a controversial premise that animals demonstrate genuine acts of compassion toward others every day This book will remove the controversial from the premise Paul G Irwin president of The Humane Society of the United States Ms von Kreisler is fearless intriguing and herself compassionate Highly recommended Roger A Caras president of the ASPCA
