simulated suggesting that one of the major issues for the contemporary man is how to deal with the virtual or with the absence of the real Our fast paced technology laden and materialist oriented existence brings about the need to rethink our human identity putting into perspective our relationship to technology the impact of capitalist economy and colonial past as well as consequences of constant warfare The second part of the book New Perspectives on Literary Genres analyzes forms topics and styles in literary texts belonging to specific sometimes marginalized genres Literary analyses in this section also touch upon the idea of crisis be it the crisis of understanding and redefining a particular genre or a crisis that is inherent in the controversial topic or form of the text As a reaction to recent allegations concerning the crisis of humanities as non profitable this book shows that humanist research is indispensable and crucial for understanding the human condition making this book a relevant addition to the contemporary discussion of literature and culture Contemporary American Women Writers Catherine Rainwater,William J. Scheick,2021-05-11 Ann Beattie Annie Dillard Maxine Hong Kingston Toni Morrison Cynthia Ozick Grace Paley Marge Piercy Anne Redmon Anne Tyler and Alice Walker all seem to be especially concerned with narrative management The ten essays in this book raise new and intriguing questions about the ways these leading women writers appropriate and transform generic norms and ultimately revise literary tradition to make it more inclusive of female experience vision and expression The contributors to this volume discover diverse narrative strategies Beattie Dillard Paley and Redmon in divergent ways rely heavily upon narrative gaps surfaces and silences often suggesting depths which are lamentably absent from modern experience or which mysteriously elude language For Kingston and Walker verbal assertiveness is the focus of narratives depicting the gradual empowerment of female protagonists who learn to speak themselves into existence Ozick and Tyler disrupt conventional reader expectations of the anti novel and the family novel respectively Finally Morrison s and Piercy s works reveal how traditional narrative forms such as the Bildungsroman and the soap opera are adaptable to feminist purposes In examining the writings of these ten important women authors this book illuminates a significant moment in literary history when women s voices are profoundly reshaping American literary tradition Burning House Ann Beattie,2011-03-30 The now classic utterly unique voice of Ann Beattie is so dry it throws off sparks her eye endowed with the emotional equivalent of X ray vision Her characters are young men and women discovering what it means to be a grown up in a country that promised them they d stay young forever And here in shapely penetrating stories Beattie confirms why she is one of the most widely imitated yet surely inimitable literary stylists of her generation In The Burning House Beattie s characters go from dealing drugs to taking care of a bereaved friend They watch their marriages fail not with a bang but with a wisecrack And afterward they may find themselves trading confidences with their spouses new lovers The Burning House proves that Beattie has no peer when it comes to revealing the hidden shapes of our relationships or the depths of tenderness grief and anger that lie beneath the surfaces of our daily lives Ann Beattie Correspondence Ann Beattie,Greg Gatenby,1984 Collection contains two folders containing correspondence between Ann

Beattie and Greg Gatenby between 1984 and 2005 The letters are both personal and professional in nature as their writers discuss writing the Harbourfront reading series and the Harbourfront reading festival mentioning authors in attendance such as Margaret Atwood and J K Rowling and their personal lives It is clear from the letters that the two are friends Most of the letters are typed some are print outs of emails and Gatenby and Beattie also exchange photocopies of articles and typescripts of their own writing including a bound draft of Mrs Nixon by Ann Beattie Reading for Storyness Susan

Lohafer,2020-03-03 The short story has been a staple of American literature since the nineteenth century taught in virtually every high school and consistently popular among adult readers But what makes a short story unique In Reading for Storyness Susan Lohafer former president of the Society for the Study of the Short Story argues that there is much more than length separating short stories from novels and other works of fiction With its close readings of stories by Kate Chopin Julio Cort zar Katherine Mansfield and others this book challenges assumptions about the short story and effectively redefines the genre in a fresh and original way In her analysis Lohafer combines traditional literary theory with a more unconventional mode of research monitoring the reactions of readers as they progress through a story to establish a new poetics of the genre Singling out the phenomenon of imminent closure as the genre s defining trait she then proceeds to identify preclosure points or places where a given story could end in order to access hidden layers of the reading experience She expertly harnesses this theory of preclosure to explore interactions between pedagogy and theory formalism and cultural studies fiction and nonfiction Returning to the roots of storyness Lohafer illuminates the intricacies of classic short stories and experimental forms of surreal postmodern and minimalist fiction She also discusses the impact of social constructions such as gender on the identification of preclosure points by individual readers Reading for Storyness combines cognitive science with literary theory to present a compelling argument for the uniqueness of the short story New York Magazine with the tension of things their characters cannot say they are masterly portraits of improvised lives The Best of Ann Beattie Reading Group Guide Ann Beattie,1998-06-01 In her latest novel the author of Another You combines intensely realistic description and an effortless command of mood to examine the treacherous difference between love and fascination between what we know about other people and what we think we know Dara Falcon is someone other people think they know Charismatic and theatrical she has no sooner arrived in a New England town than she is playing footsie with one man inveigling a diamond ring from another and getting her new friend Jean to sell her a car for one dollar As Ann Beattie follows Dara's chaotic progress through the lives of Jean and her family she braids subplots and vibrant characters into a work that is compassionate tartly funny and teeming with life The Short Story Charles May,2013-10-14 The short story is one of the most difficult types of prose to write and one of the most pleasurable to read From Boccaccio's Decameron to The Collected Stories of Reynolds Price Charles May gives us an understanding of the history and structure of this demanding form of fiction Beginning with a general history of the genre he moves on to focus on the nineteenth century when the modern short story began to come into focus From there he moves on to later nineteenth century realism and early twentieth century formalism and finally to the modern renaissance of the form that shows no signs of abating A chronology of significant events works and figures from the genre's history notes and references and an extensive bibliographic essay with recommended reading round out the volume
