Saving the Bay Ann E. Byrnes, 2001 For centuries before the arrival of European settlers the Chesapeake Bay's natural bounty and pristine beauty were self sustaining Today after three centuries of human use and abuse almost everyone agrees that the Bay is fragile and its future uncertain As scientists work to understand the environmental threats and policy makers respond with new regulations ordinary people are increasingly doing their part to ensure a healthier future for the Chesapeake Saving the Bay gathers dozens of these stories and brings them forward as examples of how broadly the coalition to protect the Bay has grown and succeeded Through engaging photographs by Richard A K Dorbin and moving first person accounts compiled by Ann E Dorbin this book celebrates a new chapter in the history of the Bay one in which people in Maryland Virginia Pennsylvania Washington D C Delaware West Virginia and New York work hand in hand to shape the future of a beloved resource From Americorps volunteer Julie Benintendi's work with shoreline restoration to Mike Ogburn's efforts to build a non polluting electric car from the mountainous outer reaches of the watershed to the mouth of the Bay the people working for the Chesapeake are as diverse and dynamic as the resource itself Here are teachers engineers writers farmers parents and naturalists working with grit and imagination Saving the Bay demonstrates how these unprecedented efforts throughout the Chesapeake Bay region are making a real difference toward creating a better future By bringing these stories to the forefront we hope to educate readers show that individual actions are critical and accentuate positive rather than negative human impacts on the environment Just as the wonder of the Bay is not reserved for experts or old timers neither is the work that lies ahead Therein lies the premise of this project that behind the reports and controversy over the human induced decline of the Bay s health and the path of its future are many people doing their part in different and necessary ways for the future of the watershed from Saving the Bay Cruising World ,1986-07 Cruising World ,1986-07 Yachting ,1985-05 Cruising World ,1991-05 Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis ,1989-07 Cumulative List of Organizations Described in Section 170 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 United States. Internal Revenue Service,1989 Coastal and Estuarine Risk Assessment Jr., Morris H. Roberts,Robert C. Hale,2001-09-18 Written by experts in the field Coastal and Estuarine Risk Assessment explores the science of exposure effect and risk This is the first book to address the application of the current risk assessment paradigm from the National Research Council to coastal and estuarine environments It provides the necessary applications for modifying the paradigm and shows how to use it to perform an effective assessment Topics include fate and bioavailability of organic compounds emerging contaminants effects of populations effects to marine mammals risk from multiple stressors European approaches to risk assessment effects of land use and more Oceanography ,1963 Achieving Nutrient and Sediment Reduction Goals in the Chesapeake Bay National Research Council,Division on Earth and Life Studies,Water Science and Technology Board,Committee on the Evaluation of Chesapeake Bay Program Implementation for Nutrient Reduction to Improve Water Quality,2011-10-26 The Chesapeake Bay is North America s largest and most biologically diverse estuary as well as an important commercial and recreational resource However excessive amounts of nitrogen phosphorus and sediment from human activities and land development have disrupted the ecosystem causing harmful algae blooms degraded habitats and diminished populations of many species of fish and shellfish In 1983 the Chesapeake Bay Program CBP was established based on a cooperative partnership among the U S Environmental Protection Agency EPA the state of Maryland and the commonwealths of Pennsylvania and Virginia and the District of Columbia to address the extent complexity and sources of pollutants entering the Bay In 2008 the CBP launched a series of initiatives to increase the transparency of the program and heighten its accountability and in 2009 an executive order injected new energy into the restoration In addition as part of the effect to improve the pace of progress and increase accountability in the Bay restoration a two year milestone strategy was introduced aimed at reducing overall pollution in the Bay by focusing on incremental short term commitments from each of the Bay jurisdictions The National Research Council NRC established the Committee on the Evaluation of Chesapeake Bay Program Implementation for Nutrient Reduction in Improve Water Quality in 2009 in response to a request from the EPA The committee was charged to assess the framework used by the states and the CBP for tracking nutrient and sediment control practices that are implemented in the Chesapeake Bay watershed and to evaluate the two year milestone strategy The committee was also to assess existing adaptive management strategies and to recommend improvements that could help CBP to meet its nutrient and sediment reduction goals The committee did not attempt to identify every possible strategy that could be implemented but instead focused on approaches that are not being implemented to their full potential or that may have substantial unrealized potential in the Bay watershed Because many of these strategies have policy or societal implications that could not be fully evaluated by the committee the strategies are not prioritized but are offered to encourage further consideration and exploration among the CBP partners and stakeholders
