Researching Language, Text and Technology in Translation Tengku Sepora Tengku Mahadi, 2022-11-03 With the intention to show to the world the rigor of translation research Researching Language Text and Technology in Translation came forward with a collection of recent translation studies focusing on the aspects of language text and technology in relation to translation There is a total of seven studies with the first chapter presenting the validity of translation research while the rest portraying many different topics such as the difference between human and machine translation when translating the memoir of Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad the translation of cultural humor for animated comedies a look into the colonial perspective when it comes to translating literature from the east and various other topics that are both interesting and bring many different cultures around the world into view This book can benefit academics students particularly research and graduate students translators and those who are interested in language and translation It is hoped that its casual yet educational content can open minds and stimulate ideas among its readers especially in the terms of translation and of how it connects the world together

Translating the European House Stefan Baumgarten, Chantal Gagnon, 2016-08-17 This anthology of papers written by Christina Schäffner brings together a selection of articles on the theme of translation and politics Written from the perspective of translation studies and critical discourse analysis it provides an overview of the textual and ideological factors that determine processes of translation within the arena of international politics The selected articles afford a fascinating insight into the dynamics of intercultural exchange against the backdrop of European politics from the fall of the Berlin Wall to debates on EU enlargement By taking a context sensitive approach to linguistic description this book will be of interest to scholars in various adjacent fields of research such as applied linguistics intercultural communication studies media studies political science and the sociology of globalisation as well as to relevant higher education programmes around the world The discipline of translation studies has made its mark by conceptualising translation as a form of cross cultural communication that transcends asymmetrical relations of power foregrounding issues such as colonial domination cultural hegemony and ideology To date however there has been no compelling evidence of the linguistic implications of transnational political communication and little research has been done to help us to understand how political discourse at the international level presupposes translation Featuring a wealth of examples from political text and talk each article here links contextual features to the linguistic choices of political actors By moving beyond national and cultural boundaries these analyses help the reader to get to grips with the discursive implications of power politics and to open up a new debate for a novel area of studies that might be termed cross cultural political discourse analysis

The Routledge Handbook of Translation Studies Carmen Millán, Francesca Bartrina, 2013-03-05 The Routledge Handbook of Translation Studies provides a comprehensive state of the art account of the complex field of translation studies Written by leading specialists from around the world this volume brings together authoritative original articles on pressing issues including the current status of the field and its interdisciplinary nature the problematic definition of the object of study the various theoretical frameworks the research methodologies available The handbook also includes discussion of the most recent theoretical descriptive and applied research as well as glimpses of future directions within the field and an extensive up to date bibliography The Routledge Handbook of Translation Studies is an indispensable resource for postgraduate students of translation studies
