Annual Review Of Development Effectiveness 2001 Making Choices:

2001 Annual Review of Development Effectiveness William Battaile, 2002-01-01 This is the fifth annual review which explores long term development effectiveness trends and analyses the choice of lending and non lending instruments and activities to achieve World Bank development objectives The 2001 review confirms a significant improvement in the outcomes of the Banks lending performance It finds that selecting the right combination and sequence of activities for a particular objective can make the difference between success and failure whether at individual project level for country assistance programmes or for global sectoral and thematic priorities At each level there is unexploited potential to maximise strategic selectivity and this is especially important in countries with a poor policy framework or acute institutional development needs

Annual Review of Development Effectiveness Soniya Carvalho, 2003 This is the sixth annual review which assesses the effectiveness of World Bank programmes in helping to achieve the Millennium Development Goals MDGs and related targets designed to address global poverty This year s review finds that the organisation s programmes are consistent with MDG themes but can be greatly enhanced by defining quantified time bound targets for poverty reduction and other development outcomes Areas needing further attention include helping clients to monitor and evaluate development outcomes working to establish cross sectoral strategies and clarifying the role and objectives of itself and other partners Above all the World Bank needs to fully assess MDG implications at the corporate country sector and global levels and to address the implications in its use of lending and administrative resources

2003 Annual Review of Development Effectiveness, 2004-01-01 ARDE 2003 examines the effectiveness of Bank support for developing country policy reform It finds that Bank support has contributed to reform in a number of cases But there are also cases where the Bank s support has not been associated with improvements in the policy environment

Hypocrisy Trap Catherine Weaver, 2008-10-27 As the preeminent international development agency for the past sixty years the World Bank has attracted equal amounts of criticism and praise Critics are especially quick to decry the World Bank s hypocrisy the pervasive gaps between the organization s talk decisions and actions In the wake of the Paul Wolfowitz leadership scandal in May 2006 perceptions of hypocrisy have exacted a heavy toll on the Bank s authority and fueled strong demands for wide scale reform Yet what exactly does the hypocrisy of the World Bank look like and what or who causes it In Hypocrisy Trap Catherine Weaver explores how the characteristics of change in a complex international organization make hypocrisy difficult to resolve especially after its exposure becomes a critical threat to the organization s legitimacy and survival Using a rich sociological model and several years of field research Weaver delves into the political and cultural worlds within and outside of the Bank to uncover the tensions that incite and perpetuate organized hypocrisy She examines the sources and dynamics of hypocrisy in the critical cases of the Bank s governance and anticorruption agenda and its recent Strategic Compact reorganization The first book to unravel the puzzle of organized hypocrisy in relation to reform at the World Bank Hypocrisy Trap ultimately enriches our understanding of culture behavior and change in international organizations Some images inside the book are unavailable due to digital copyright restrictions

Conditionality Revisited Stefan Koeberle, 2005-01-01 Annotation This book brings together different perspectives on the role of conditionality drawing on the experiences and lessons learned by the donor community NGO critics and academic circles and the borrowing countries and provides a board overview of contemporary approaches to conditionality in today s aid architecture

Agriculture Investment Sourcebook World Bank, 2005-04-08 Investing to promote agricultural growth and poverty reduction is a central pillar of the World Bank s current rural strategy Reaching the Rural Poor 2003 This Sourcebook addresses how to implement the rural strategy by sharing information on investment options and identifying innovative approaches that will aid the design of future lending programs for agriculture It provides generic good practices and many examples that demonstrate investment in agriculture can provide rewarding and sustainable returns to development efforts It is divided into eleven self contained modules Each module contains three different types of subunits that can also be stand alone documents I Module Overview II Agricultural Investment Notes III Innovative Activity Profiles The stand alone nature of the subunits allows flexibility and adaptability of the material Selected readings and web links are also provided for readers who seek more in depth information The Sourcebook draws on a wide range of experiences from donor agencies governments institutions and other groups active in agricultural development It is an invaluable reference tool for policy makers professionals academics and students and anyone with an interest in agricultural investments

2001 Annual Review of Development Effectiveness William Battaile, 2002

Handbook of Agricultural Economics Robert E. Evenson, Prabhu Pingali, 2009-10-20 Advances in agriculture offer many countries the best and only chance of reducing poverty Yet economic growth and population increases are driving higher demand for food and rising real prices What solutions have successfully promoted agriculture This volume examines national and international food agriculture policies and how they enhance agricultural productivity growth It provides unique historical reviews on policies and their effects and it clearly articulates both positive and negative lessons for promoting agriculture lead growth With chapters written by international authorities this book recognizes that agriculture is not just about providing food for today but about growing it in an environmentally sustainable way that can help people work their ways out of poverty Chapters cover international macro economic policies and trade farm structure in developing countries regional experiences in agriculture and regional studies on agricultural productivity policies

The Next Ascent Ridley Nelson, 2002-01-01 The Aga Khan Rural Support Program AKRSP in northern Pakistan has become a model for rural development programmes throughout the country and worldwide This is the fourth independent evaluation of the AKRSP by the World Bank which seeks to assess how the programme can best meet present and future challenges and development needs The assessment covers the period since the programme s initiation in 1982 as well as the period since the last evaluation in 1995 It concentrates on four programme components community organisations infrastructure development natural resource management and microfinance Development Results in Middle-income Countries ,2007-01-01 The World Bank's support in fostering growth and reducing poverty has contributed to the considerable economic success of MIC countries. But to produce greater development benefits it has to become more agile and draw upon MICs own capacity much more systematically connecting such capabilities to help low income countries and to tackle global challenges. The Bank's work has to more clearly demonstrate best practice to deliver impact beyond its limited direct role The Hypocrisy of International Organizations Catherine Elizabeth Weaver,2003 Bridging Troubled Waters George Keith Pitman,2002-01-01 Today 166 million people in 18 countries lack access to adequate water resources and it is estimated that by 2025 the number of people affected will increase to approximately three billion or 40 per cent of the world's population. There is now an international consensus that the severity of the problem requires a strategic approach that emphasises the equitable and sustainable management of water resources. This report examines the implementation of the World Bank's 1993 Water Resources Management policy and evaluates the effectiveness of strategies adopted which seek to address identified problems. It also makes recommendations for improving World Bank policy and strategy in the water sector Assisting Russia's Transition Gianni Zanini,2002-01-01 This evaluation assesses the development effectiveness of the World Bank's lending and non lending assistance to the Russian Federation since 1991 a 10 year period of tumultuous political economic and social change. This report concludes that an assistance strategy concentrating on analytical and advisory services with limited financial support for Russia would have been more appropriate than one involving large volumes of adjustment lending Lesotho Fareed M. A. Hassan,2002-01-01 In an effort to develop global environmental policies there is a clear division between developed and developing countries. Developing countries are faced with significant issues such as poverty reduction and economic growth stimulation. These countries may also harbor resentment toward the developed countries as the source of environmental damage. Additionally environmental problems can impact countries differently. This paper a cooperative effort by the World Bank Institute and the Development Bank of Japan seeks to further discussion of the connection between environmental concerns and national development policies. By outlining three specific examples from the steel power and forestry sectors in Japan it demonstrates how remarkable environmental improvements can occur while improving production efficiency World Bank Group Publications ... Catalog World Bank Group,2002 Economies in Transition Alice Galenson,2004-01-01 The Latin American Development Forum promotes debate and disseminates knowledge and analysis on economic and social development issues in Latin America and the Caribbean. The Institutional Sponsors of this series are the World Bank, United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC) and Inter American Development Bank (IADB). The transition economies of the Europe and Central Asia Region faced unprecedented political economic and social change after the break up of the Soviet Union. With assistance from the World Bank and other donors many countries quickly accomplished a number of reforms but progress in others has been slower.

Much has been achieved the private share of GDP in the transition countries is nearly 70 percent and 8 countries have joined the EU but much remains to be completed Cahiers de la Femme ,2003
