Asian Financial Crisis New International Financial Architecture Crisis Reform And Recovery:

The Asian Financial Crisis: New International Financial Architecture Shalendra Sharma, 2003-10-03 The Asian financial crisis of 1997-98 shook the foundations of the global economy. What began as a localized currency crisis soon engulfed the entire Asian region. What went wrong and how did the Asian economies long considered miracles respond? How did the United States, Japan and other G 7 countries react to the crisis? What role did the IMF play? Why did China remain conspicuously insulated from the turmoil raging in its midst? What lessons can be learnt from the crisis by other emerging economies? This book provides answers to all the above questions and more. It gives a comprehensive account of how the international economic order operates, examines its strengths and weaknesses and what needs to be done to fix it. The book will be vital to students of economics, international political economy, Asian and development studies.

What went wrong and how did the Asian economies long considered miracles respond? How did the United States, Japan and other G 7 countries respond to the crisis? What role did the IMF play? Why did China, which suffers many of the same structural problems responsible for the crisis, remain conspicuously insulated from the turmoil raging in its midst? What explains the remarkable recovery now underway in Asia? In what fundamental ways did the Asian crisis serve as a catalyst to the current thinking about the new international financial architecture? This book provides answers to all the above questions and more and gives a comprehensive account of how the international economic order operates, examines its strengths and weaknesses and what needs to be done to fix it.

Global Financial Crises and Reforms

B. N. Ghosh, 2000-12-14 This book is a collection of papers that provides deeper insight into the financial crises of the 1990s in Asia and Latin America and explores the possibilities for their solution.

Critical Issues in International Financial Reform R. Albert Berry, Gustavo Indart. Indart, Critical Issues in International Financial Reform addresses weaknesses of the current international financial system and potential beneficial reforms. The focus is on the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean, but the authors also take into account relevant lessons from the experience of Canada, a country highly integrated into world and hemispheric trade and financial markets. Critical Issues offers a new perspective on a discussion too often dominated by interest groups that take strong, even rigid positions on issues with limited understanding of the technical aspects of the issues and little concern for the interests of the developing world. Its chapters have been written by experts in the economic political and social aspects of the international financial integration of developing countries Financial crises and their associated social and economic traumas are the most apparent symptom that something is amiss in the process of world economic integration But there are also broader questions about the nature and magnitude of the benefits and costs of increased international capital flows for different groups of countries in the developing and developed worlds For example even in the absence of turbulence is it optimal for all participants that capital movements be as free as possible Does capital inflow discourage domestic savings to a degree that should cause worry Are some types of flows inherently more beneficial than others for instance direct investment flows versus flows into host stock markets How can the instability of capital movements best be curtailed These questions concern the contributors to this volume This volume demonstrates that the evolution of the world financial system its various problems and what is or is not done about them require an understanding of the links among financial economic and political variables Critical Issues in International Financial Reform is an important contribution to this debate and will be of value to researchers in economic policy history and international politics Albert Berry is professor of economics at the University of Toronto and research director of the Program on Latin America and the Caribbean Gustavo Indart is special lecturer of economics and the coordinator of the Program on Latin America and the Caribbean at the University of Toronto The papers in this conference volume are grounded on solid economic theory and empirical research and take a critical view of the prescriptions of the so called Washington Consensus and of the policies followed in most developing countries under the advice of the international financial institutions IFIs The economics and the political economy of their current financial arrangements in which the IFIs play such an important role are given a thorough treatment This volume is a very valuable contribution to a debate that interests both academics and policymakers The thirteen papers are uniformly of high quality and are often very innovative Juan Antonio Morales president Central Bank of Bolivia A stimulating and balanced set of analyses drawing insightfully upon comparative experiences of national and international financial systems and their reform both actual and potential It is unusual and welcome in its effective blending of political and economic insights and its use of analyses that are refreshingly skeptical of orthodox presumptions Gerald Helliner University of Toronto

Debating the Global Financial Architecture Leslie Elliott Armijo, 2012-02-01 Debating the Global Financial Architecture opens up the contemporary debate surrounding the reform of the global financial architecture Economists and political scientists explore the economic and technical content of alternative global financial regimes as well as the political processes through which such changes are negotiated The contributors though diverse jointly fear that rapid removal of the remaining controls on private international financial transactions risks systematic crisis By initiating a cross disciplinary discussion they hope to see the politics of global financial design examined more honestly yet without discarding or devaluing a solid economic analysis of global money and investment flows causes and consequences of the Asian financial crises The Politics of the New International Financial Architecture Susanne Soederberg, 2004-11 This is a critique of the attempts of the G7 industrialized countries to rewrite the rules of international finance It includes case studies on capital controls from Chile and Malaysia and is aimed at scholars and students of international political economy and development and reform activists East Asian Capitalism Luigi Tomba, 2002 The Rise and Fall of the East Asian Growth System, 1951-2000 Huang Xiaoming, 2004-11-10 Huang gives important and high quality research on the economic growth in East Asia from 1945 to the present assessing the various theories put forward to explain the phenomenon and appraising the various factors which have contributed to economic growth in East Asia Reforming the Global Financial Architecture Yilmaz Akyuz, 2002-04 Instability has become global and systemic Strengthening international institutions and arrangements would reduce the threat of crises and allow those that do occur to be better managed These proposals take the developing world into account China: Two Decades Of Reform And Change Gungwu Wang, John Wong, 1999-09-30 Since the start of reform two decades ago China's economy has experienced spectacular growth Today China has grown to be the world's seventh largest economy or the world's second largest after the USA in terms of purchasing power parity China's society and its political landscape have also been radically changed This volume serves as a convenient handbook for both scholars and laymen to have a good overview of China's major developments and transformations in the political economic legal and social spheres since 1978 Such a review will be useful for appreciating the enormous problems that will challenge China in its next phase of transition All in all China has undoubtedly made impressive progress in most areas of reform in the past but its remaining reform endeavour and future obstacles it has to face can be even more daunting Global Economy, Economic Crisis & Recessions Stavros Mavroudeas, Aylin Soydan, Tulin Altun, 2018 This book is one of the products of the Ninth International Conference on Political Economy ICOPEC held in September 2018 at Panteion University with the main theme 10 years after the Great Recession Orthodox versus Heterodox Economics The conference was coorganised by the Greek Association for Political Economy GAPE the Department of Social Policy of Panteion University and the Faculty of Economics of Marмара University This volume contains eight selected papers that benefited from comments and discussion during the conference and subsequently improved significantly They focus on economic crises and their impact on the global economy and on particular economic sectors and countries Beyond Market-Driven Development Costas Lapavistas, 2007-04-11 Because their economies were regulated their financial systems repressed and their states interventionist for many years the countries of East Asia challenged the Washington consensus offering an alternative development paradigm However in the 1990's Asian capitalism was disrupted following Japan's stagnation and the financial crisis of 1997-98 Treading the unexplored theoretical terrain created by the simultaneous decline of the Washington Consensus and Asian developmentalism this revealing book analyzes the comparative political economy of East Asia and Latin America Divided into four key sections it covers
