Asian Village Economy At The Crossroads An Economic Approach To Institutional Change:

Asian Village Economy at the Crossroads Yūjirō Hayami, Masao Kikuchi, 1981 Asian Village Economy at the Crossroads Yūjirō Hayami, Masao Kikuchi, Agricultural Economics Research, 1982 Empirical Studies in Institutional Change Lee J. Alston, Þráinn Eggertsson, Douglass C. North, 1996-07-28 Empirical Studies in Institutional Change is a collection of nine empirical studies by fourteen scholars Dealing with issues ranging from the evolution of secure markets in seventeenth century England to the origins of property rights in airport slots in modern America the contributors analyse institutions and institutional change in various parts of the world and at various periods of time The volume is a contribution to the new economics of institutions which emphasises the role of transaction costs and property rights in shaping incentives and results in the economic arena To make the papers accessible to a wide audience including students of economics and other social sciences the editors have written an introduction to each study and added three theoretical essays to the volume including Douglass North's Nobel Prize address which reflect their collective views as to the present status of institutional analysis and where it is headed Women in Rice Farming International Rice Research Institute, 1985 Halting Degradation of Natural Resources Jean-Marie Baland, Jean-Philippe Platteau, 1996 Stress is then laid on the global context within which user groups operate including the nature and the forms of state intervention and the effects of increasing market integration To date this context has generally been uncongenial to community based resource management therefore the authors recommend that whenever a co management approach is feasible the concrete institutional form adopted is tailored to the specific features of local cultures Smallholders, Householders Robert McC. Netting, 1993 Contrasting the prevailing theories of the evolution of agriculture the author argues that the practice of smallholding is more efficient and less environmentally degrading than that of industrial agriculture which depends heavily on fossil fuel chemical fertilizers pesticides and herbicides He presents a convincing case for his argument with examples taken from Africa Asia Europe and the Americas and demonstrates that there are fundamental commonalities among smallholder cultures Smallholders Householders is a detailed and innovative analysis of the agricultural efficiency and conservation of resources practiced around the world by smallholders Land Reform and Structural Adjustment in Sub-Saharan Africa Jean-Philippe Platteau, 1992-01-01 Macroeconomic Policies For Stable Growth Delano S Villanueva, 2008-09-29 This volume is a collection of published and unpublished papers that the author has written over the last two decades during part of his tenure at the International Monetary Fund The South East Asian Central Banks Research and Training Center and Singapore Management University The policy oriented book examines the links between macroeconomic policies and noninflationary full employment levels and growth rates of aggregate gross domestic product with particular focus on the application in emerging markets of the tools of growth theory Theoretically sound and grounded in practical wisdom this book is an essential reading for economic financial and developmental policymakers professional economists and undergraduate graduate students in economics and social sciences Basic Procedures for Agroeconomic Research International Rice Research Institute,1991 Ropewalking and Safety Nets Juliette Koning,Frans Hüsken,2006-12-01 This volume discusses how national and local social security in Indonesia has changed over the past decades and in particular during the economic and political crisis of the late 20th and early 21st century The contributions based on case studies from urban and rural Java focus on the evolution of existing formal and informal institutions providing social security and at the ways in which people create access to such institutions and develop strategies to handle insecurities The main conclusion is that informal institutions providing support to those who need it more and more tend to exclude the poor and weak sections of society and that government policy in this field is only beginning to address these major social issues Localizing Development Ghazala Mansuri,Vijayendra Rao,2012-11-01 This book examines the conceptual foundations of the participatory approach to local development assesses the evidence of its efficacy and draws key lessons for policy Rice Biotechnology Gurdev S. Khush,Gary H. Toenniessen,1991 The world rice economy challenges ahead Research priorities for rice biotechnology Genetic diversity of wild and cultivated rice Rice karyotype marker genes and linkage groups Development and use of restriction fragment length polymorphism in rice breeding and genetics Rice tissue culture and its application Transformation and regeneration of rice protoplasts Assessment of rice genetic transformation techniques The identification and characterization of rice nuclear genes Gene expression in rice Potentially useful genes for rice genetic engineering Molecular probes for disease diagnosis and monitoring Prospects for the future Marxism and "really Existing Socialism" Adam Przeworski,Alec Nove,2001 This volume is a comprehensive collection of critical essays on The Taming of the Shrew and includes extensive discussions of the play's various printed versions and its theatrical productions Aspinall has included only those essays that offer the most influential and controversial arguments surrounding the play The issues discussed include gender authority female autonomy and unruliness courtship and marriage language and speech and performance and theatricality Factory Daughters Diane L. Wolf,1992 Looking at the households where Javanese women live and the factories where they labour Diane Wolf reveals the contradictions constraints and changes in women's lives in the Third World and identifies the complex dynamics of class gender agrarian change and industrialization in rural Java

An Everyday Geography of the Global South Jonathan Rigg,2007-06-14 The book is an everyday geography of the Global South that places development in the background and brings detailed grounded understanding of the ways in which individuals and households make a living Land System Reform and China's Economic Development Shouying Liu,2023-12-26 This book brings one of China's most renowned economists' views on systemic reform of the land system the pillar of China's economic growth This book goes through the fundamental logic of China's land system reform and introduces the methods the author uses to study land system Specifically this book covers topics ranging from the logic of China's land system reform including China's rural land system reform and China's land expropriation system reform to the relationship between China's urbanization and land system reform This book is an invaluable introduction to China's land system and to its economy more broadly Population Change and Economic Development in East Asia Andrew Mason, 2001 The fifteen essays in this volume address from several viewpoints the question of what role population change played in East Asia's rapid economic development A Survey of Agricultural Economics Literature Lee R. Martin, 1992 Governing the Commons Elinor Ostrom, 2015-09-23 The governance of natural resources used by many individuals in common is an issue of increasing concern to policy analysts Both state control and privatization of resources have been advocated but neither the state nor the market have been uniformly successful in solving common pool resource problems After critiquing the foundations of policy analysis as applied to natural resources Elinor Ostrom here provides a unique body of empirical data to explore conditions under which common pool resource problems have been satisfactorily or unsatisfactorily solved Dr Ostrom uses institutional analysis to explore different ways both successful and unsuccessful of governing the commons In contrast to the proposition of the tragedy of the commons argument common pool problems sometimes are solved by voluntary organizations rather than by a coercive state Among the cases considered are communal tenure in meadows and forests irrigation communities and other water rights and fisheries
