Sustainability: Lessons Learned From Asian Models Leo-paul Dana, Naman Sharma, Sneha Kumari, K K Tripathy, B P

Pillai, R Jayalaxmi, 2023-01-04 The cooperative movement has played a vital role in economic development around the world Cooperatives also contribute to the achievement of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs They generate revenue for economic growth support the development of communities and local culture and help protect the environment

Cooperatives in Asia have been leaders in their approaches with comprehensive and supportive policies Across Asia there are unique models of cooperatives some of which can be replicated internationally They utilise collectivisation as an economic model with the cooperation of their populations Cooperatives from Bangladesh India Israel Japan Nepal and the United Arab Emirates are also well known for their proactive approach to sustainability This book seeks to document the governance leadership and sustainable best practices of cooperatives to pave the way for the development of cooperatives internationally utilising the sustainable cooperatives of Asia as examples Addressing the current gap in research about cooperatives the concerted efforts to build a favorable institutional environment China is a great motivating force in this dynamism and a key player in the development of regional agreements Making Change Happen Kevin Cook, Heather Goodall, 2013-09-11 This book is a unique window into a dynamic time in the politics and history of Australia. The two decades from 1970 to the Bicentennial in 1988 saw the emergence of a new landscape in Australian Indigenous politics. There were struggles, triumphs and defeats around land rights, community control of organisations, national coalitions and the international movement for Indigenous rights. The changes of these years generated new roles for Aboriginal people. Leaders had to grapple with demands to be administrators and managers as well as spokespeople and lobbyists. The challenges were personal as well as organisational, with a central one being how to retain personal integrity in the highly politicised atmosphere of the Aboriginal Industry. Kevin Cook was in the middle of many of these changes as a unionist, educator, land rights campaigner, cultural activist and advocate for liberation movements in Southern Africa, the Pacific and around the world. But Cookie has not wanted to tell the story of his own life in these pages. Instead, with Heather Goodall, a long time friend, he has gathered together many of the activists with whom he worked to tell their stories of this important time. Readers are invited into the frank and vivid conversations Cookie had with forty-five black and white activists about what they wanted to achieve, the plans they made and the risks they took to make change happen. You never doubted Kevin Cook. His very presence made you confident because the guiding hand is always there. Equal attention is given to all. I am one of many who worked with Cookie and Judy through the Tranby days and in particular the 1988 Bicentennial March for Freedom, Justice and Hope. What days they were! I'm glad this story is being told. Linda Burney, MLA, New South Wales. Kevin Cook was a giant in the post-war struggle for Aboriginal rights. His ability to connect the dots and make things happen was important in both the political and cultural resurgence of the 1970s onwards. Meredith Burgmann, former MLC, New South Wales. Kevin has had a transformative effect on the direction of my life and the lives of so many other people. This book is an important contribution to understanding not only Kevin's life but also the broader struggles for social and economic justice, for community empowerment and of the cooperative progressive movement. It will greatly assist the ongoing campaign for full and sustainable reconciliation. Paddy Crumlin, National Secretary, Maritime Union of Australia. Cookie has made great contributions in enhancing the struggles of our people. He is a motivator, an astute strategist and an excellent communicator with wonderful people skills. It's a pleasure to be able to call him a mate and a brother. John Ah Kit, former MLA, Northern Territory.

Mutual, Cooperative and Employee-Owned Businesses in the Asia Pacific Chris Rowley, Jonathan Michie, 2017-10-02. The 25 years leading up to the international financial crisis have been depicted as capitalism unleashed, containing deregulation, privatisation, demutualisation and financialisation. Yet remarkably, given this economic and political context, co-operatives and mutuals appear to have been gaining ground in many countries, albeit modestly, even before the international financial crisis and the resulting global recession from which the global economy is still only slowly recovering. The 2007-2008 international financial crisis called into question how appropriate the shareholder-owned model is, certainly if it is allowed to dominate the financial services sector. However, the International Co-operative Alliance is determined to make the mutual and co operative sector of the economy a dynamic sustainable and increasingly important sector of the global economy This book looks at the contribution of co operative mutual and employee owned firms to the Asia Pacific economy both currently and prospectively and the challenges the standard Western model faces regarding employment and output It also looks at the role of Governments the nature of co operatives in China and the role of the state and the future prospects for cross border growth of co operative and mutual business within Asia Pacific and more widely This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Asia Pacific Business Review      Technical and Economic Assistance to Cooperative Enterprises Under the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Banking and Currency.
