Lyall,... Alfred Comyn Lyall,1882 Lvall.1907 Religious and Social Alfred Comyn Lyall, 2015-06-15 Excerpt from Asiatic Studies Religious and Social The single volume of Asiatic Studies published in 1882 has been for some years out of print In preparing a fresh edition with some necessary revision I have thought it might be worth while to add a second volume containing a few selected essays and dissertations chiefly on the subject of Asiatic religions that have been written by me at different times in recent years In order to bring together two essays upon the same subject the relations of the State with Religion in China I have transferred to this new volume chap v of the original Studies The first chapter of the second volume contains three letters which were originally published under the signature of Vamadeo Shastri In these letters I ventured upon the attempt to represent or at least to throw light upon certain religious views feelings and opinions which I believe to exist not without considerable influence among the conservative classes of India but which are apt to escape the attention of Englishmen whether at home or in that country For this purpose the assumption of a pseudonym was convenient and I hope excusable About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www forgottenbooks com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Lyall,1973 Asiatic Studies Religious and Social Alfred Lyall,1906 Asiatic Studies Alfred Comyn Lyall,2017-12-25 Excerpt from Asiatic Studies Religious and Social Tris book contains in the form of chapters eleven essays published by me during the past ten years they were written in such intervals of leisure as could be spared by the constant and occasionally urgent preoccupations of official duties in India and they have been thought to be worth the experiment of republication together Ten of these essays relate to India being mainly the outcome of personal observation in certain provinces and of intercourse with the people one essay relates to China with which country the writer has no direct acquaintance and since they are all so far alike in their subject matter that they deal with the actual character and complexion of religion and society in these countries at the present time they may possibly be considered to have some useful bearing on the general study of Asiatic ideas and institutions For throughout Asia wherever the state of society has not been distinctly transformed by European in uences there is a fundamental resemblance in the social condition of the people in their intellectual level and in their habits of thought And although India is in many respects a peculiar country isolated and fenced off from the rest of the continent by broad belts of high and often impassable mountain country so that it cannot be classed either with Eastern or Western Asia yet it possesses About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www forgottenbooks com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Asiatic Studies: Religious and Social A.C.
