African Migrants on the Road ,2013-06-15 Trapped inside lorries or huddled aboard unseaworthy boats irregular African migrants make for troubling headlines in western media fueling fever pitch fears of an impending African exodus to Europe Despite the increasing albeit sensational attention irregular migration attracts on both sides of the Mediterranean little is known about what shapes and influences the lives of these Africans before during and after their migratory projects By privileging migrants narratives and drawing on evidence based field research from different disciplinary backgrounds the volume demystifies and dislodges many common assumptions about the human ecology of irregular African migration to Europe arguably one of the most widely debated yet least understood phenomenon of our time urban growth of the African continent which has the highest urban growth rate on the planet in the next decades. Considerable investment will be needed to sustain this level of growth and to clear up accumulated backlogs. At the same time decentralization has resulted in increased responsibilities for local government but in most cases institutional reforms were carried out without the transfer of a sufficient level of resources and local capacities in governance and project management are weak. Which mechanisms will finance these extensive needs and how will African local governments meet these needs? Specifics on how to finance African cities have not been studied. The actual scale of this market has not been fully grasped. A systemic approach to this market is difficult because of its diversity, country size, institutional context, characteristics of urban network, availability of capital market, currency etc. and a lack of data. Donors' assistance methods in the sector are disparate, marked by disputes between different schools of thought. Special purpose vehicles created by donors operate according to a variety of methods and with wide ranging and sparsely disseminated results. What is the best way to transform these systems, often antiquated in many respects, into modern financing systems that facilitate access to domestic markets, mobilize local savings and reinforce local government autonomy? There is no single answer to this question in regard to such a variety of institutional and economic contexts. The main objective of the study is to clarify the debates and to enlighten the choices of African decision makers at local and national level.
