Assessment Mental Handicap James Hogg,1986-12-01 Assessment of Behavior Problems in Persons with Mental Retardation Living in the Community Eleanor Dibble,David B. Gray,1990 Dictionary of Mental Handicap Mary P. Lindsey,2002-03-11 Over recent years the policy of isolating and institutionalizing mentally handicapped people has gradually been dismantled and a major shift to community care has taken place But integration within the general community and access to special services has greatly increased the number of people with a need to know about mental handicap Each profession or discipline has its own terminology nowadays one must be conversant with all of them In this comprehensive dictionary Mary Lindsey has brought together terms and concepts from a wide variety of fields Approximately 2 400 entries are included ranging in length from concise explanations to encyclopaedic essays but always expressed in clear simple language Where appropriate suggestions for further reading are made and possible sources of further information given An extensive system of cross references leads the interested reader further and makes valuable connections between entries The medical aspects of mental handicap its causes prognoses and treatments are of course covered in detail But although the cause of mental handicap may be medical subsequent interventions may be sociological psychological educational medical paramedical or psychiatric This is reflected in the choice of entries making the Dictionary an invaluable source of reference for all those involved with mentally handicapped people in any capacity whatsoever Assessing Adults with Intellectual Disabilities James Hogg,Arturo Langa,2008-04-15 This handbook helps professionals working with adults with intellectual disabilities to establish the needs of individuals through systematic assessment and to monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the service they provide A comprehensive handbook for professionals working with adults with intellectual disabilities Enables these professionals to establish the needs of individuals Helps them to monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the service they provide Expert contributions include conceptual chapters and descriptions of selected assessment instruments Covers the full spectrum of need including adults with mental health difficulties behavioural problems forensic needs and assessment of people with profound intellectual and multiple disabilities and those suspected of developing dementia Ageing and Mental Handicap James Hogg,Steve Moss,Diana Cooke,2024-05-10 In the 1980s there was growing interest in the topic of ageing and learning disabilities for two principal reasons First the life expectancy of people with learning disabilities had risen significantly over the previous decades and many once infancy had been survived could expect a life span similar to that of non disabled people Secondly a growing commitment on the part of the government and service providers to make provision for people with disabilities in the community rather than in institutions had focused attention on this group Originally published in 1988 reissued here with a new foreword this book was one of the first on this subject It examines epidemiology and mortality and medical and psychiatric issues compared with non disabled older people It considers how people with learning disabilities change in intellectual and adaptive function with age the nature of family relationships relevant therapeutic programmes and policy and the development of services The book represented a major review of a hitherto neglected topic and would interest gerontologists psychologists and professional health social and educational staff concerned with the welfare of older people with learning disabilities This book is a re issue originally published in 1988 The language used is a reflection of its era and no offence is meant by the Publishers to any reader by this re publication Assessment and Treatment of Patients with Coexisting Mental Illness and Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse

Richard Ries,1996-09 International Review of Research in Mental Retardation ,2007-08-30 Autism Spectrum Disorder is one of the most researched and popular topics in the fields of psychology psychiatry and special education In the last 30 years the amount of new information on assessment and treatment has been astounding The field has moved from a point where many considered the condition untreatable to the current position that it may be curable in some cases and that all persons with this condition can benefit from treatment Intervening with school age children continues to be a major focus of assessment or intervention However expanding the ages of those receiving more attention from younger children to older adults is becoming more prevalent The consensus is that intensive treatment at the earliest recognized age is critical and that many adults evince symptoms of the disorder and warrant care The field is full of many proposed treatments many of which offer promise but no data Thus a book on evidence based assessments and interventions across the life span should be of value in helping to sort out the more credible interventions as defined by the research and what methods have the best support Given the popularity of the topic and the vast array of potential assessments and treatments available this volume will be aimed at delineating what the researchers have shown has the best evidence to support particular methods International Review of Research in Mental Retardation is now available online at ScienceDirect full text online of volumes 23 onwards Elsevier book series on ScienceDirect gives multiple users throughout an institution simultaneous online access to an important compliment to primary research Digital delivery ensures users reliable 24 hour access to the latest peer reviewed content The Elsevier book series are compiled and written by the most highly regarded authors in their fields and are selected from across the globe using Elsevier s extensive researcher network For more information about the Elsevier Book Series on ScienceDirect Program please visit <http://www.info.sciencedirect.com/bookseries> Mental Health in Mental Retardation Nick Bouras,1995-08-24 Dual diagnosis current and evolving aspects of treatment and service provision are addressed by an interdisciplinary international team of professionals The Education of People with Profound and Multiple Handicaps Judy Sebba,1988 Designed as a basis for in service courses for staff working with people who have profound and multiple handicaps Topics covered include assessment curriculum teaching methods microelectronics problem behaviour and physiotherapy Camberwell Assessment of Need for Adults with Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities
