Assignment Shanghai Pictures On The Eve Of Revolution:

Visualising China, 1845-1965, 2012-11-09 How does China project its image in the world Why and how has the world come to form certain impressions of the Chinese and their way of life These are issues that preoccupy Chinese citizens in the globalizing 21st century as they travel overseas riding on the capacity of the country's newly acquired economic power In Visualizing China the authors join forces to launch a broader inquiry aimed at a synergistic understanding of the larger story of visuality in modern China The essays cluster around several nodal points including photographs advertising posters and movies spanning from the 1840s to the 1960s and devote special attention to modern Chinese practices in the visualization of things Chinese

The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield, 2011-05-27 In The Cruel Radiance Susie Linfield challenges the idea that photographs of political violence exploit their subjects and pander to the voyeuristic tendencies of their viewers Instead she argues passionately that looking at such images and learning to see the people in them is an ethically and politically necessary act that connects us to our modern history of violence and probes the human capacity for cruelty Grappling with critics from Walter Benjamin and Bertolt Brecht to Susan Sontag and the postmoderns and analyzing photographs from such events as the Holocaust China's Cultural Revolution and recent terrorist acts Linfield explores the complex connection between photojournalism and the rise of human rights ideals In the book's concluding section she examines the indispensable work of Robert Capa James Nachtwey and Gilles Peress and asks how photography should respond to the increasingly nihilistic trajectory of modern warfare A bracing and unsettling book The Cruel Radiance convincingly demonstrates that if we hope to alleviate political violence we must first truly understand it and to do that we must begin to look

'Intoxicating Shanghai' - An Urban Montage Paul Bevan, 2020-04-14 In Intoxicating Shanghai Paul Bevan explores the work of a number of Chinese modernist figures in the fields of literature and the visual arts with an emphasis on the literary group the New sensationists and its equivalents in the Shanghai art world examining the work of these figures as it appeared in pictorial magazines It undertakes a detailed examination into the significance of the pictorial magazine as a medium for the dissemination of literature and art during the 1930s The research locates the work of these artists and writers within the context of wider literary and art production in Shanghai focusing on art literature cinema music and dance hall culture with a specific emphasis on 1934 The Year of the Magazine

Chinese Painting and Its Audiences Craig Clunas, 2023-10-17 A history of the reception of Chinese painting from the sixteenth century to the present What is Chinese painting When did it begin And what are the different associations of this term in China and the West In Chinese Painting and Its Audiences which is based on the A W Mellon Lectures in the Fine Arts given at the National Gallery of Art leading art historian Craig Clunas draws from a wealth of artistic masterpieces and lesser known pictures some of them discussed here in English for the first time to show how Chinese painting has been understood by a range of audiences over five centuries from the Ming Dynasty to today Chinese Painting and Its Audiences demonstrates that viewers in China and beyond have irrevocably shaped this great artistic tradition Arguing that audiences within China were crucially important to the evolution of Chinese painting Clunas considers how Chinese artists have imagined the reception of their own work By examining paintings that depict people looking at paintings he introduces readers to ideal types of viewers the scholar the gentleman the merchant the nation and the people In discussing the changing audiences for Chinese art Clunas emphasizes that the diversity and quantity of images in Chinese culture make it impossible to generalize definitively about what constitutes Chinese painting Exploring the complex relationships between works of art and those who look at them Chinese Painting and Its Audiences sheds new light on how the concept of Chinese painting has been formed and reformed over hundreds of years Published in association with the Center for Advanced Study in the Visual Arts National Gallery of Art Washington DC Please note All images in this ebook are presented in black and white and have been reduced in size Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2003 Archives and Images ,2004 The Literary Review ,2003 Last Boat Out of Shanghai Helen Zia,2019-01-22 The dramatic real life stories of four young people caught up in the mass exodus of Shanghai in the wake of China s 1949 Communist revolution a heartrending precursor to the struggles faced by emigrants today A true page turner Helen Zia has proven once again that history is something that happens to real people New York Times bestselling author Lisa See NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY NPR AND THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR FINALIST FOR THE PEN JACQUELINE BOGRAD WELD AWARD FOR BIOGRAPHY Shanghai has historically been China s jewel its richest most modern and westernized city The bustling metropolis was home to sophisticated intellectuals entrepreneurs and a thriving middle class when Mao s proletarian revolution emerged victorious from the long civil war Terrified of the horrors the Communists would wreak upon their lives citizens of Shanghai who could afford to fled in every direction Seventy years later members of the last generation to fully recall this massive exodus have revealed their stories to Chinese American journalist Helen Zia who interviewed hundreds of exiles about their journey through one of the most tumultuous events of the twentieth century From these moving accounts Zia weaves together the stories of four young Shanghai residents who wrestled with the decision to abandon everything for an uncertain life as refugees in Hong Kong Taiwan and the United States Benny who as a teenager became the unwilling heir to his father s dark wartime legacy must decide either to escape to Hong Kong or navigate the intricacies of a newly Communist China The resolute Annuo forced to flee her home with her father a defeated Nationalist official becomes an unwelcome exile in Taiwan The financially strapped Ho fights deportation from the U S in order to continue his studies while his family struggles at home And Bing given away by her poor parents faces the prospect of a new life among strangers in America The lives of these men and women are marvelously portrayed revealing the dignity and triumph of personal survival Herself the daughter of immigrants from China Zia is uniquely equipped to explain how crises like the Shanghai transition affect children and their families students and their futures and ultimately the way we see ourselves and those around us Last Boat Out of Shanghai brings a poignant personal angle to the experiences of refugees
