The Black Hole of Calcutta Noel Barber, 1989      Calcutta Krishna Dutta, 2003 In the popular imagination Calcutta is a packed and pestilential sprawl made notorious by the Black Hole and the works of Mother Teresa Kipling called it a City of Dreadful Night and a century later V S Naipaul Gunter Grass and Louis Malle revived its hellish image This is the place where the West first truly encountered the East Founded in the 1690s by East India Company merchants beside the Hugli River Calcutta grew into India's capital during the Raj and the second city of the British Empire Named the City of Palaces for its neoclassical mansions Calcutta was the city of Clive Hastings Macaulay and Curzon It was also home to extraordinary Bengalis such as Rabindranath Tagore the first Asian Nobel laureate and Satyajit Ray among the geniuses of world cinema Above all Calcutta renamed Kolkata in 2001 is a city of extremes where exquisite refinement rubs shoulders with coarse commercialism and political violence Krishna Dutta explores these multiple paradoxes giving personal insight into Calcutta's unique history and modern identity as reflected in its architecture literature cinema and music CITY OF ARTISTS Modern India's cultural capital home city of      The Black Hole Jan Dalley, 2006 This book is about a story that entered the national myth bank and lodged there with unusual tenacity As so often with the historical episodes the British take to their hearts it is a story of heroism in failure turning a miserable defeat into a matter of national pride The story was used for good and for ill All tales of exceptional human bravery and resilience have an important place in our minds and this one came with other attractive characteristics the aura of money and battles of exotic places and people of youth and daring and living against the odds There is probably no great harm if a little exaggeration creeps in to such narratives However the way in which this particular episode also resonated as a fear of strangeness and came to epitomize through its very name the savagery of other peoples is much less savoury BOOK JACKET      Britain 1750-1900 Nigel Kelly, Rosemary Rees, Jane Shuter, 1998 Living Through History is a complete Key Stage 3 course which brings out the exciting events in history The course is available in two different editions Core and Foundation Every Core title in the series has a parallel Foundation edition and both are supported by teachers packs      Reading the East India Company 1720-1840 Betty Joseph, 2004-01-15 In Reading the East India Company Betty Joseph offers an innovative account of how archives and the practice of archiving shaped colonial ideologies in Britain and British controlled India during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Drawing on the British East India Company's records as well as novels memoirs portraiture and guidebooks Joseph shows how the company's economic and archival practices intersected to produce colonial fictions or truth effects that strictly governed class and gender roles in effect creating a grammar of power that kept the far flung empire intact And while women were often excluded from this archive Joseph finds that we can still hear their voices at certain key historical junctures Attending to these voices Joseph illustrates how the writing of history belongs not only to the colonial project set forth by British men but also to the agendas and mechanisms of agency of colonized Indian as well as European women In the process she makes a valuable and lasting contribution to gender studies postcolonial theory and the history of South Asia      Armenians in India, from the Earliest Times to the Present Day Mesrobian Jacob Seth,1983      The Black Hole of Empire Partha Chatterjee,2012-04-08 When Siraj the ruler of Bengal overran the British settlement of Calcutta in 1756 he allegedly jailed 146 European prisoners overnight in a cramped prison Of the group 123 died of suffocation While this episode was never independently confirmed the story of the black hole of Calcutta was widely circulated and seen by the British public as an atrocity committed by savage colonial subjects The Black Hole of Empire follows the ever changing representations of this historical event and founding myth of the British Empire in India from the eighteenth century to the present Partha Chatterjee explores how a supposed tragedy paved the ideological foundations for the civilizing force of British imperial rule and territorial control in India Chatterjee takes a close look at the justifications of modern empire by liberal thinkers international lawyers and conservative traditionalists and examines the intellectual and political responses of the colonized including those of Bengali nationalists The two sides of empire s entwined history are brought together in the story of the Black Hole memorial set up in Calcutta in 1760 demolished in 1821 restored by Lord Curzon in 1902 and removed in 1940 to a neglected churchyard Challenging conventional truisms of imperial history nationalist scholarship and liberal visions of globalization Chatterjee argues that empire is a necessary and continuing part of the history of the modern state Some images inside the book are unavailable due to digital copyright restrictions      Constitutional monarchy, William and Mary to William IV., 1689-1837 James Franck Bright,1837      The Early Modern World Judith Kidd,Rosemary Rees,Ruth Tudor,2000 The Heinemann History Scheme uses sources and activities to explain complex issues and helps students think through historical concepts for themselves Every QCA Scheme topic is covered and the tasks offer progression and integrated extended writing for literacy skills      New System of Ventilation Henry Albert Gouge,1881      Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress,2007      Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress.
