Black Journey A Black American Revue:

The Black Church in the African American Experience C. Eric Lincoln, Lawrence H. Mamiya, 1990-11-07 A nongovernmental survey of urban and rural churches of black communities based on a ten year study Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1977 African Americans in the South Hans A. Baer, Yvonne Jones, 1992 This volume reflects a new commitment by American anthropologists to engage in what has been called the anthropology of racism the analysis of systems of inequality based on biological differences Comprising nine papers and related commentary African Americans in the South examines racism class stratification and sexism as they bear on the African American struggle for social justice equality and cultural identity in the South The essays fall into three broad categories economic survival strategies health and reproductive problems and religious responses to the larger society Essays in the first category discuss African American teen pregnancy and mutual aid societies The second group focuses on health practices and knowledge among blacks in a Georgia town African American midwifery in North Carolina an AIDS education program in a Tennessee city and eating habits in rural North Carolina The essays in the last category emphasize the diversity of the African American religious experience by focusing on black Pentecostals Jews and Mormons in the South Together these writings constitute an important concerted first engagement of issues crucial to an understanding of the Women of Color Political Elites in the U.S. Nadia E. Brown, Christopher J. history and social life of the South Clark, Anna Mitchell Mahoney, 2023-03-31 This volume presents a detailed and in depth examination of women of color political elites in the United States in varying levels of office and non elected positions Through innovative data novel theoretical frameworks and compelling arguments the chapters in this book explore how women of color political elites are changing challenging or upending the status quo in American politics Beyond an additive approach of either race or gender the authors in this volume employ an intersectional lens to explore the complexities of governing running for office and adjudicating in a diversifying America This book will be of great value to upper level students researchers and academics of political science interested in women's and gender studies political leadership as well as race and ethnic studies. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Journal of Women Politics and Policy Race Harmony and Black Progress Mark Ellis, 2013-10-16 Founded by white males the interracial cooperation movement flourished in the American South in the years before the New Deal The movement sought local dialogue between the races improvement of education and reduction of interracial violence tending the flame of white liberalism until the emergence of white activists in the 1930s and after Thomas Jackson Jack Woofter Jr a Georgia sociologist and an authority on American race relations migration rural development population change and social security maintained an unshakable faith in the effectiveness of cooperation rather than agitation Race Harmony and Black Progress examines the movement and the tenacity of a man who epitomized its spirit and shortcomings It probes the movement's connections with late 19th century racial thought Northern
