Black Man Red Sand:

Prince Malu and the Red Sands of Armapour Tom Kurtz, 2002 The setting for the story is in the Middle East more than one thousand years ago when magic was still in the air The story opens with Prince Malu fleeing for his life on his twentieth birthday What was supposed to be a joyous occasion with visitors from several nations attending was turned into a terrorist attack by the Caliph of Oman and his men They disguised themselves as guests and entered the palace Then just when Malu's father Ahmed Ben Crishna King of Armapour was about to present Malu to the representatives of the various countries the attack began The King is killed immediately Queen Melina Malu's mother helps him to escape She is killed with an arrow intended for Malu Malu flees on a horse that was a birthday present from his mother Malu pushes his mount as far and as fast as he is able but cannot seem to shake the two relentless pursuers The chase continues until Malu enters mysterious mountains that are rumored to harbor demons evil spirits lions cobra and other dangers The men pursuing him are afraid of the mountains and give up the chase Malu wanders into the mountains He has no food or water and the only weapon he has is a saber a birthday present from his father Malu is so weary that he dismounts and falls asleep on the hard ground and dreams of all that had happened He awakens and is attacked by bandits Just when one of the bandits is about to deliver a killing blow to the unconscious Malu he is shot dead with an arrow seemingly to come from out of thin air Kumar King of the forbidden city of Shayandra and his men had been watching Malu's progress since he entered the mountains Kumar killed the bandit When Malu finally regains consciousness he is surprised to find Kumar and his men have the bandits at their mercy He is greeted by Kumar and asked to identify himself Malu tells Kumar that he is the Prince of the kingdom of Armapour Kumar takes Malu into the forbidden city of Shayandra Malu meets Helita Kumar's granddaughter who later becomes the love of his life Kumar decides to tell Malu the story of Shayandra Malu learns that the city and its people have been under a curse for more than a thousand years The curse fell upon them because a prior king of Shayandra had desecrated the tomb of an Egyptian Lion God Not long after the tomb was desecrated the Lion God was reincarnated and now this half man half lion monster now lives in these mountains with his evil spirits and demons The curse demands that every hundred years on the anniversary of the desecration a human sacrifice must be made to Lion God or all the people of Shayandra would die This person must be a first born of the royal family Shayandra It was now the time again for the sacrifice and Helita would be the next victim Kumar then tells Malu that the legend of the curse told of a prince a savior who would come some day and break the curse Kumar tells Malu that he believes that Malu is that prince Of course Malu does not believe it Malu has already fallen in love with Helita and cannot stand the thought of her dying so he agrees to help He tells Kumar that what he feels he must do is free Armapour from the Caliph Kumar convinces Malu to help the people of Shayandra by promising to raise an army and march on Armapour once the curse broken Kumar's words were we will turn the sands of Armapour red with the blood of your enemies This is where the title of the book originates If you like magic

A New General Collection of Voyages and Travels ,1746 A New General Collection of Voyages and Travels ... in Europe, Asia, Africa and America ..., Also the Manners and Customs of the Several Inhabitants ... ,1746 Women's Experience of Modernity, 1875-1945 Ann L. Ardis,Leslie W. Lewis,2003-05-22 A collection of essays on women s history and literary production at the turn of the twentieth century that centers the feminine phenomena Analyzing such cultural practices as selling and shopping political and social activism urban field work and rural labor radical discourses on feminine sexuality and literary and artistic experimentation this volume contributes to the rich vein of current feminist scholarship on the gender of modernism and challenges the assumption that modernism rose naturally or inevitably to the forefront of the cultural landscape at the turn of the twentieth century During this period women s experience was a rallying cry for feminists a unifying cause that allowed women to work together to effect social change and make claims for women's rights. However, it also proved to be a source of great divisiveness among women for claims about its universality quickly unraveled to reveal the classism, racism, and Eurocentrism of various feminist activities and organizations. The essays in this volume examine both literary and non-literary writings of Jane Addams, Djuna Barnes, Toru Dutt, Radclyffe Hall, H. D., Pauline Hopkins, Emma Dunham Kelley, Amy Levy, Alice Meynell, Bram Stoker, Ida B. Wells, Rebecca West, and others. Instead of focusing exclusively or even centrally on modernism and literature, these essays address a broad array of textual materials from political pamphlets to gynecology textbooks as they investigate women's responses to the rise of commodity capitalism, middle-class women's entrance into the labor force, the welfare state's invasion of the working-class home, and the intensified eroticization of racial and class differences. Clever Men Martin Thomas, 2025-06-03 What really happened when Charles Mountford led a quarrelsome team of Australian and American scientists to explore traditional Aboriginal life in Arnhem Land in 1948? Here was I, with the status of little more than a telephone mechanic, taking out the biggest scientific expedition in history. In this way, the legendary Charles Mountford immodestly described his biggest assignment: to lead an expedition of American and Australian scientists to Arnhem Land in northern Australia, investigating traditional Aboriginal life and the tropical environment. Backed by National Geographic, the Smithsonian Institution, and the Australian government, it was also a display of the friendship between Australia and the US. But the adventure turned out to be anything but friendly. In this compelling account, award-winning historian Martin Thomas tells how they set out with fanfare in 1948 and how quickly the expedition turned toxic. Thomas uncovers the secrets, scandals, and unlikely achievements. He also reveals how Indigenous communities, including the elders known as clever men, dealt with the intrusion of these foreign experts. Drawing on years of collaborative research with Arnhem Land communities, Clever Men is a poignant portrayal of colliding worlds. In this encounter between scientific hubris and the world's oldest surviving cultures, Thomas finds a story of global significance and profound long-term impacts. An epic saga of discovery, intrigue, obsession, and pillage. Margo Ngawa Neale. Absolutely mesmerising. Grace Karskens. Depicted as an epic Shakespearean-like tragedy, Clever Men weaves complex strands in a compelling story of western interaction with Indigenous Australia. Peter Yu. This galloping narrative of Arnhem Land draws on years of intense research by one of Australia's sharpest historians. Peter Read. A deep dive into the fraught interface between the shallow intrusive gaze and rapacious acquisitiveness of the expedition and the profound secret, sacred understanding of its Indigenous subjects.
