Black Students And Higher Education Rhetorics And Realities:

Access, Participation and Higher Education Annette Hayton, Anna Paczuska, 2003-12-16 With issues such as student fees and high drop out rates still political hot potatoes this book is a timely and important survey of the real issues behind participation and non participation and is sure to be as controversial as it is useful Between the Rhetoric and Reality Gary Simpkins, Frank Simpkins, 2009-08 The Politics of Exclusion in Graduate Education Roslyn Thomas-Long, 2010 How do Canadian graduate students experience institutional funding The Politics of Exclusion in Graduate Education answers this question by offering an in depth examination into the nature of institutional funding arrangements from graduate students standpoint It explores the students perspectives on access to funding and the impact on their learning experience The focus on graduate students is timely in the ongoing discussion of neoliberal education policies and the resulting commercialization of higher education in Canada This study links current discussions about the direction of higher education funding and the impact for accessible and inclusive education How do graduate students negotiate institutional arrangements to accommodate the funding practices they encounter What does their competition for the scarce resources imply The Politics of Exclusion in Graduate Education is both a reflection on the current state of the graduate experience as well as a directive forward to a more inclusive process of allocating resources across graduate faculties and institutions Voices of Conflict Reitumetse Obakeng Mabokela, 2002-05-03 The South African higher education system has historically been characterized by racial and gender inequities inherited from the discriminatory policies of the apartheid era Emerging from a higher education history plagued with deeply entrenched racial disparities Voices of Conflict examines how academic programs and structures at the historically white universities have responded to the increasing enrollment of black students since the enactment of the Universities Amendment Act in 1983 Dr Mabokela specifically seeks to understand the perceptions and attitudes of students faculty and administrators and to determine how these respective constituents have responded to changes in student demographics Her study brings to light with clarity and thoroughness many too often overlooked and neglected issues in higher education in South Africa Enhancing Teaching in Higher Education Peter Hartley, Amanda Woods, Martin Pill, 2005-03-10 This book brings together a collection of ground breaking research and tested techniques in the field of learning and teaching in higher education It provides an accessible authoritative account of the latest developments outlining how to apply learning theory and best practice to everyday teaching and providing advice on overcoming problems of implementation Evidence is drawn from funded projects and innovative practitioners from a wide range of disciplines and backgrounds and covers areas including approaches to learning working with students enhancing the progress and development of students and supporting and developing your own practice Enhancing Teaching in Higher Education sums up the state of learning and teaching in higher education today and is a reliable source of advice and ideas for new as well as experienced lecturers wanting to improve their students learning Higher Education and the Student Robert

Troschitz,2017-05-08 As one of the pioneers and leading advocates of neoliberalism Britain and in particular England has radically transformed its higher education system in recent decades What was once a public good has turned into a market in which universities are required to perform like businesses with students being increasingly referred to as customers The Idea of Higher Education and the Student investigates precisely this relation between the changing function of higher education and how we see the student But instead of offering yet another critique of neoliberalism and marketisation it widens the view beyond the present Black Separatism and Social Reality Raymond L. Hall,2013-10-22 Black Separatism and Social Reality

Rhetoric and Reason deals with the contemporary debate over black separatism in America It brings together for the first time many of the perspectives ideas orientations and ideologies that all directly or indirectly address the question of black separatism pro and con from the vantage point of their own realities It raises fundamental issues that have recurred throughout the last century and continue unabated today such as whether black Americans should seek their political destiny apart from white Americans or whether economic growth within the black community can eventually lead to true black power This book is comprised of 31 chapters and begins with a historical overview and social reality of black separatism in America how and why black separatist movements emerge and why separatism appeals to some individuals and not to others The next section explores the similarities of white racist assumptions and black separatism as well as the arguments for and against separatism The prospects of black separatism are analyzed along with Pan Africanism and black studies A comprehensive review of the history of separatist thought and a bibliography concerning the relation of Afro Americans with Africa are presented The possibility of a violent confrontation between whites and blacks is also considered Finally the book ponders the question of whether there is a need for a distinct black social science This monograph will appeal to sociologists social scientists political scientists politicians blacks and scholars of black studies Equality and Diversity: Embedding

Equality and Diversity into a Postgraduate Management Programme for International Students - a case study

Nabeel Zaidi,2015-03-23 This publication originally formed part of a Master s degree dissertation completed in 2011 by Nabeel Research was undertaken over a period of two years at a Further Education college and a small private college where Nabeel delivered a level 7 post graduate management programme accredited by a leading UK awarding organisation A range of curriculum level strategies were deployed by Nabeel and his colleagues in order to embed equality and diversity and reduce barriers to learning for international students undertaking the programme These had a positive pedagogical and performance related impact The findings will be of particular interest to teachers and managers responsible for undergraduate post graduate and professional programmes being delivered to international students or to learners whose first language is not English as well as those considering curriculum level and progression strategies for business and management programmes at level three and above The research may also provide useful insight to managers and teachers of other subject areas which are internally assessed The findings are correct as at February 2011 Minor updates have been made to the case study as well as selective editing and certain stakeholders have been anonymised for ethical reasons Although the national landscape may have changed since 2011 the strategies applied remain valid and independent of such context Research questions considered in this dissertation What constitutes embedding of Equality and Diversity at curriculum level What are the likely barriers to student learning achievement on the PGDMS Level 7 Management programme What elements should be prioritised for embedding at curriculum level in order to improve E D for Blue College PGDMS Level 7 Management students This publication builds on and incorporates the literature review published and entitled Equality and Diversity Embedding Equality and Diversity into the Curriculum a literature review

Teaching and Learning through Problem Solving Methods Shalini Wadhwa,2005 Resources in Education ,1998 Higher Education Policy and Institutional Change Paul Trowler,2002 This book does not see policy and policy making as distinct from or above processes of implementation and change It acknowledges that policy is made in ways other than in formal settings of government or vice chancellors offices Policy is also made as it is received interpreted and implemented in different locales and it is made too as academics go about their daily business whether they are aware of this or not Therefore this volume focuses on three levels of analysis national policy making institutional strategy and the ground level of departments and individual academics Examples from various countries featuring for instance deregulation and new managerialism are analysed in the light of recent theoretical understandings of the policy process and they address the key question of how and why the intentions of policy makers often result in unintended consequences Higher Education Policy and Institutional Change captures the complexities compromises contradictions and localized character of policy making for and change within universities and colleges BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

The Future of Higher Education Frank Newman,Lara Couturier,Jamie Scurry,2010-04-30 A powerful look at the risks inherent in the trend toward making higher education a market rather than a regulated public sector The Future of Higher Education reveals the findings of an extensive four year investigation into the major forces that are transforming our American system of higher education The book explores the challenges of intensified competition among institutions globalization of colleges and universities the expansion of the new for profit and virtual institutions and the influence of technology on learning This important resource offers college and university leaders and policy makers an analysis of the impact of these forces of change and includes suggestions for creating an effective higher education market as well as a call for a renewed focus on the public purposes of higher education

Vision and Reality W. E. Morrow,Kenneth King,1998 This volume of essays critically reflects on modern policy initiatives in South Africa s education and training such as Curriculum 2005 and evaluates the practices of teaching and learning and the integration of education and training

Managing Equal Opportunities in Higher Education Diana Woodward,Karen Ross,2000 How can universities and colleges realistically manage the delivery of equal opportunities for both students and staff how can institutional and structural inequalities be addressed what is the role of higher education managers in realizing the goal of widening participation and what strategies can be employed to achieve that goal what examples of good practice already exist which be adapted to suit the specific environments of different institutions Posh Talk S. Preece,2009-08-28 An in depth study of a group of multilingual students from widening participation backgrounds on a first year undergraduate academic writing programme The book explores ways in which identity positions emerge in the spoken interaction with a particular focus on gender

Smith,2023-07-01 A crisis of immense magnitude persists in higher education in the United States For this third edition of The Racial Crisis in American Higher Education Kofi Lomotey and William A Smith have gathered outstanding scholars in the field to address this dilemma on several levels In thirteen original essays contributors establish a framework for understanding the current crisis provide historical perspective on the present offer a stark overview of the day to day realities on campuses and illustrate the role and impact of university leadership With a foreword by Donald B Pope Davis and an afterword by Valerie Kinloch as well as an introduction by the editors the volume is provocative up to date and solution driven giving readers both a comprehensive analysis of the racial crisis in American higher education and ideas for addressing it

Journeys through Childhood Studies Ingrid Richter,2019-07-10 Investigating the experiences of a group of female students as they journey into and through higher education and into work with and for children Journeys through Childhood Studies offers a critical analysis of the intersectional influences and effects of social division on experiences of higher education and career trajectories The book explores the influences of gender race and class on the experiences of higher education and the development of professional identities and whether the professionalisation of work in relation to children and childhood opens up opportunities for career development or narrows the range of choices available to women Adopting a distinctive qualitative approach to track strategies used by women participants to accommodate the changing terrain of their journeys this book demonstrates how the women s pathways to university are shaped by factors such as social divisions friends family and school and their experiences of working with children Featuring detailed interviews Journeys through Childhood Studies offers an insightful exploration of the construction and practices of the Children s Workforce It is a must read for academics postgraduate students and those researching Childhood Studies professional identities and experiences of higher education

Moving on Up Yasmin Hussain,Paul Bagguley,2007 South Asian women are narrowing the gender gap and Pakistani and Bangladeshi origin women are catching up with Indian women in their uptake of higher education This title explores how they balance their education with plans for marriage and their experiences of racism and Islamophobia at university and elsewhere

Rhetorical Education In America Cheryl Jean Glenn,2009-03-15 A timely collection of essays by prominent scholars in the field on the past present and future of rhetoric instruction From Isocrates and Aristotle to the present rhetorical education has consistently been regarded as the linchpin of a participatory democracy a tool to foster civic action and social responsibility Yet questions of who should receive rhetorical education in what form and for what purpose continue to vex teachers and scholars The essays in this volume converge to explore the purposes problems and possibilities of rhetorical education in America on both the undergraduate and graduate levels and inside and outside the academy William Denman examines the ancient model of the citizen orator and its value to democratic life Thomas Miller argues that English departments have embraced a literary research paradigm and sacrificed the teaching of rhetorical skills for public participation Susan Kates explores how rhetoric is taught at nontraditional institutions such as Berea College in Kentucky where Appalachian dialect is espoused Nan Johnson looks outside the academy at the parlor movement among women in antebellum America Michael Halloran examines the rhetorical education provided by historical landmarks where visitors are encouraged to share a common public discourse Laura Gurak presents the challenges posed to traditional notions of literacy by the computer the promises and dangers of internet technology and the necessity of a critical cyber literacy for future rhetorical curricula Collectively the essays coalesce around timely political and cross disciplinary issues Rhetorical Education in America serves to orient scholars and teachers in rhetoric regardless of their disciplinary home and help to set an agenda for future classroom practice and curriculum design

Gender, Space, and Time Dorothy Moss, 2006-04-13 Drawing on the work of Henri Lefebvre and Barbara Adam Gender Space and Time is a brilliant study that offers a unique and original threefold conceptualization of how space and time is developed and applied in an empirical study of women s lives Author Dorothy Moss focuses on the everyday practice and experience of women higher education students at a community college in northern England Women s action is considered in relation to the complex and interconnected spheres of paid work home leisure community and higher education Through highlighting concepts of space and time the complex relationship between networks of power and personal action gains visibility Moss conceptualizes women as centers of action and demonstrates the ways in which they construct personal pathways connect different spheres of experience integrate new time demands into the multiple rhythms of their everyday lives and carve out personal space Gender Space and Time is a timely and compelling work certain to be of interest to scholars of sociology women s studies and anthropology
