Black Women In America Confronting Gender Race And Class:

Oral Narrative Research with Black Women Kim Marie Vaz, 1997-06-17 This book consists of essays on methodological issues by African and African American women scholars who have successfully employed oral narrative methods in their research. Some themes covered in these essays are the strengths of oral narrative research for expanding and transforming knowledge about black women and how these scholars learned to conduct oral narrative research, descriptions of the types of narratives they have gathered, the difficulties they have encountered and how these were overcome, and the ethical dilemmas faced while undertaking their research endeavors. What makes this book a valuable teaching tool are the pedagogical suggestions and research artifacts contained within. Contributors have described one or two activities that may assist instructors' efforts to teach oral narrative methodologies. Methodological essays about the phenomenological and empirical aspects of carrying out oral narrative research from an Afrofeminist womanist standpoint are rare, and book-length works are almost nonexistent. Oral Narrative Research with Black Women participates in the growing movement of Afrofeminist womanist scholarship that fills this void. This is an insightful, thought-provoking resource for researchers, students, and scholars interested in conducting qualitative research or who want to include black women in their research.

Women of Color in U.S. Society Maxine Baca Zinn, Bonnie Thornton Dill, 1994 Women of Color articulate shared experiences of subordination and survival.

Progressive Black Masculinities Athena D. Mutua, 2006 In the struggle for pride and political agency, the imperative to be a man has been central to the lives of black males. Yet what it means to be a black man in terms of both racial and gender identity has been subject to continual debate in public and academic spheres alike. Progressive Black Masculinities brings together leading black cultural critics including Michael Eric Dyson, Mark Anthony Neal, and Patricia Hill Collins to examine an alternatively demonized and mythologized black masculinity. Collectively, they offer a roadmap for new progressive models of black masculinity that may chart the course for the future of black men.

African American Females Eboni M. Zamani-Gallaher, Vernon C. Polite, 2013-07-01 African American Females: Addressing Challenges and Nurturing the Future illustrates that across education, health, and other areas of social life, opportunities are stratified along gender as well as race lines. The unequal distribution of wealth, power, and privilege between men and women intersects with race and class to create multiple levels of disadvantage. This book is one result of a unique forum intended to bring into focus the K-12 and postsecondary schooling issues and challenges affecting African American girls and women. Focusing on the historical antecedents of African American female participation and the contemporary context of access and opportunity for black girls and women, the contributors to this collection pay particular attention to the interaction of gender with race, ethnicity, class, age, and health, with the central aim of encouraging thoughtful reading, critical thinking, and informed conversations about the necessity of exploring the lives of African American females. Additionally, the book frames important implications for recommended changes in policy and practice regarding a number of critical matters presently affecting African American females in schools and communities across the state of Michigan and nationwide Black Women, Academe, and the Tenure Process in the United States and the Caribbean Talia Esnard,Deirdre Cobb-Roberts,2018-08-06 This book explores the meanings experiences and challenges faced by Black women faculty that are either on the tenure track or have earned tenure The authors advance the notion of comparative intersectionality to tease through the contextual peculiarities and commonalities that define their identities as Black women and their experiences with tenure and promotion across the two geographical spaces By so doing it works through a comparative treatment of existing social inequalities educational disparities and injustices in the promotion and retention of Black women academics Such interpretative examinations offer important insights into how Black women's subjugated knowledge and experiences continue to be suppressed within mainstream structures of power and how they are negotiated across contexts Facing the Mirror: Racial Transformation in America Pasquale De Marco,2025-03-10 In Facing the Mirror Racial Transformation in America we embark on a thought provoking journey into the intricate tapestry of race and its profound impact on American society This comprehensive book delves into the historical roots of racial formation processes tracing their evolution from colonization to the present day It sheds light on the construction of racial categories the assignment of meaning to those categories and the shaping of individual and community experiences With a keen eye for detail the book explores the interplay between race class and gender revealing the interconnectedness and mutual constitution of these social categories It examines how race intersects with various aspects of life including education housing criminal justice healthcare and media representation uncovering the systemic barriers and institutional biases that perpetuate racial inequality This book is a clarion call for action urging readers to confront the realities of race and racism and to work towards a future where racial equality is a lived reality It invites readers to engage in critical dialogue to question prevailing narratives and to challenge the status quo Only through collective action and a commitment to justice can we dismantle the structures of racism and build a society where all individuals are valued and respected regardless of their race or ethnicity Thought provoking and meticulously researched Facing the Mirror Racial Transformation in America is an essential resource for scholars students policymakers and anyone seeking a deeper understanding of race and its impact on American society It is a powerful tool for fostering dialogue promoting empathy and inspiring action towards a more just and equitable future If you like this book write a review The Gender Politics of HIV/AIDS in Women Nancy Goldstein,Jennifer L Manlowe,1997-06 From their posts at the center of the pandemic in the laboratory the academy clinics and community based organizations experts such as Evelyn Hammonds Risa Denenberg Michelle Murrain and Paul Farmer criticize blind spots in the recognition and treatment of HIV in women and articulate accessible and practical solutions to specific areas of difficulty Confronting Racism and Sexism Elisabeth Hayes,Scipio Africanus Jordan Colin,1994 A Companion to African-American Philosophy Tommy L. The Womanist Reader Layli Phillips, 2006 Comprehensive in its coverage The Womanist Reader is the first volume to anthologize the major works of womanist scholarship Charting the course of womanist theory from its genesis as Alice Walker's African American feminism through Chikwenye Okonjo Ogunyemi's African womanism and Clenora Hudson Weems' African American womanism to its present day expression as a global anti oppressionist perspective rooted in the praxis of everyday women of color this interdisciplinary reader traces the rich and diverse history of a quarter century of womanist thought Featuring selections from over a dozen disciplines by top womanist scholars from around the world plus several critiques of womanism an extensive bibliography of womanist sources and the first ever systematic treatment of womanist thought on its own terms Layli Phillips has assembled a unique and groundbreaking compilation

Literacy in a Long Blues Note Coretta M. Pittman, 2022-11-29 Literacy in a Long Blues Note Black Women's Literature and Music in the Late Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Centuries traces the evolution of Black women's literacy practices from 1892 to 1934 A dynamic chronological study the book explores how Black women public intellectuals creative writers and classic blues singers sometimes utilize singular but other times overlapping forms of literacies to engage in debates on race The book begins with Anna J Cooper's philosophy on race literature as one method for social advancement From there author Coretta M Pittman discusses women from the Woman's and New Negro Eras including but not limited to Angelina Weld Grimké Gertrude Ma Rainey and Zora Neale Hurston The volume closes with an exploration of Victoria Spivey's blues philosophy The women examined in this book employ forms of transformational transactional or specular literacy to challenge systems of racial oppression However Literacy in a Long Blues Note argues against prevalent myths that a singular vision for racial uplift dominated the public sphere in the latter decade of the nineteenth century and the early decades of the twentieth century. Instead, by including Black women from various social classes and ideological positions, Pittman reveals alternative visions. Contrary to more moderate predecessors of the Woman's Era and contemporaries in the New Negro Era, classic blues singers like Mamie Smith advanced new solutions against racism. Early twentieth-century writer Angelina Weld Grimké criticized traditional methods for racial advancement as Jim Crow laws tightened restrictions against Black progress. Ultimately, the volume details the agency and literacy practices of these influential women. Intersectional Pedagogy Kim A.

Case, 2016-07-07 Intersectional Pedagogy explores best practices for effective teaching and learning about intersections of identity as informed by intersectional theory. Formatted in three easy-to-follow sections, this collection explores the pedagogy of intersectionality to address lived experiences that result from privileged and oppressed identities. After an initial overview of intersectional foundations and theory, the collection offers classroom strategies and approaches for teaching and learning about intersectionality and social justice. With contributions from scholars in education, psychology, sociology, and women's studies, Intersectional Pedagogy includes a range of disciplinary perspectives and evidence-based pedagogy. Colored Amazons Kali N. Gross, 2006-06-22 For the state, black female crime and its representations effectively galvanized and justified a host of urban reform initiatives that reaffirmed white middle-class authority. Jacket Feminism Confronts Homo Economicus Martha Fineman, Terence Dougherty, 2018-08-06 The essays in this volume confront the inroads that economics has made into the legal academy. Law and Economics uses principles of neoclassical economics to develop laws and social policies that maintain if not bolster current allocations of power from the Introduction. The Law and Economics school has had a significant impact on the legal and governmental landscape in the United States. It posits a perfectly rational economic man, homo economicus, who is unconstrained by familial and communal ties and who can and should make decisions solely in light of considerations of economic value. Feminism Confronts Homo Economicus offers a major intervention in debates about how law has come under the influence of economic principles. Drawing on the latest thinking in the fields of feminist legal theory, critical legal studies, and feminist economics, the essays critique the notion that legal and policy decisions should be made solely through the lens of economics. While the contributors question the wholesale incorporation of the neoclassical economic model into legal analysis, they do not all discard economic analysis and theory. Situated at the intersection of feminism, law, and economics, Feminism Confronts Homo Economicus will appeal to scholars and students of these disciplines as well as policy analysts and social theorists interested in family, education, labor, and welfare.
