Black Initiative And Governmental Responsibility:

Black Initiative and Governmental Responsibility, 1987 Pervasive and persistent poverty has eroded but not destroyed the strong deep value framework that for so long sustained black people These values among them family education and hard work are so deeply held that they remain and can be explicitly tapped today The black value system together with the variety of historic and existing self initiated activities for self help and advancement can be the basis for a newly energized and expanded effort from within the black community to tackle a new variety of problems But the disparities would never have arisen at all if official and societal discrimination had not denied blacks earlier access to equality and to opportunity They can be eradicated only if the government comes to the assistance of a community in crisis AA

Countervailing Forces in

African-American Civic Activism, 1973-1994 Fredrick C. Harris, Valeria Sinclair-Chapman, Brian D. McKenzie, 2005-12-12

In this study assessing black civic participation after the civil rights movement Fredrick C Harris Valeria Sinclair Chapman and Brian D McKenzie demonstrate that the changes in black activism since the civil rights movement is characterized by a tug of war between black political power on one side and economic conditions in black communities on the other As blacks gain greater access and influence within the political system black participation in political activities increases while downward turns in the economic conditions of black communities produce less civic involvement in black communities Examining changes in black activism from the early 1970s to the 1990s this tug of war demonstrates that the quest for black political empowerment and the realities of economic and social life act as countervailing forces in which negative economic and social conditions in black communities weaken the capacity of blacks to organize so that their political voices can be heard

The American Kaleidoscope Lawrence H. Fuchs, 2012-01-01 Winner of the John Hope Franklin Prize 1991 Winner of the Theodore Saloutos Award from the Immigration History Society 1993 Do recent changes in American law and politics mean that our national motto e pluribus unum is at last becoming a reality Lawrence H Fuchs searches for answers to this question by examining the historical patterns of American ethnicity and the ways in which a national political culture has evolved to accommodate ethnic diversity Fuchs looks first at white European immigrants showing how most of them and especially their children became part of a unifying political culture He also describes the ways in which systems of coercive pluralism kept persons of color from fully participating in the civic culture He documents the dismantling of those systems and the emergence of a more inclusive and stronger civic culture in which voluntary pluralism flourishes In comparing past patterns of ethnicity in America with those of today Fuchs finds reasons for optimism Diversity itself has become a unifying principle and Americans now celebrate ethnicity One encouraging result is the acculturation of recent immigrants from Third World countries But Fuchs also examines the tough issues of racial and ethnic conflict and the problems of the ethno underclass the new outsiders The American Kaleidoscope ends with a searching analysis of public policies that protect individual rights and enable ethnic diversity to prosper Because of his lifelong involvement with issues of race relations and ethnicity Lawrence H Fuchs is singularly qualified to write on a grand scale about the interdependence in the United States of the unum and the pluribus His book helps to clarify some difficult issues that policymakers will surely face in the future such as those dealing with immigration language and affirmative action

Black Families In Crisis Alice F. Coner-Edwards, Jeanne Spurlock, 2014-06-17 First published in 1989 The idea for this volume grew out of discussions held by a group of Black psychiatrists based in Washington D C and the responses of a number of colleagues who attended a symposium Black Families in Crisis at Howard University Medical Center in November 1985

Teenage Pregnancy Dionne J. Jones,Stanley F. Battle,1990-01-01 Pregnancy childbearing among teenagers in the United States is an increasing concern For minority communities the consequences are particularly adverse for although minority teenagers do not account for the majority of births to teenagers they are disproportionately likely to give birth Developed as a special issue of The Urban League Review this collection of essays presents current thinking of an interdisciplinary group of professionals      Race, Politics, and Economic Development James Jennings,1992 In April 1992 the world witnessed a renewal in South Central Los Angeles of the urban violence that exploded over a quarter of a century earlier As in 1965 the spark that ignited the firestorm was Black rage over police brutality But in both eras the tinder was prepared by decades of social neglect and political disenfranchisement that have left the predominantly non white urban poor trapped and virtually without hope Race Politics and Economic Development strips away the veneer of mass media images to examine the underlying causes of Black urban poverty and to recommend means to escape the seemingly endless cycle of retributive violence that it spawns The book brings together Black activists and scholars including two former mayors of American cities to analyse the theoretical and practical problems currently facing the Black community in the United States The essays collected here are dominated by three key themes that political influence power and wealth are major factors in determining social welfare policies directed at Blacks the poor and the working class that both liberal and conservative policies over the last fifty years are no longer effective in alleviating a growing human service crisis among Blacks and that the political mobilization of impoverished sectors of the Black community is absolutely critical in resolving the problem of poverty in urban America Drawing on new work in the social sciences political theory and economics and also on the contributors activist experiences these essays represent a pathbreaking new agenda for the participation of grassroots Black leaders in developing and implementing urban policy Contributors Jeremiah Cotton Julianne Malveaux Mack H Jones Charles P Henry Walter Stafford William Fletcher Jr Eugene Newport Sheila Ards Jacqueline Pope Keith Jennings Lloyd Hogan Richard Hatcher      Ohio's African-American Males: Education, health, employment and criminal justice ,1990

Gender, Governance and International Security Nicola Pratt,Sophie Richter-Devroe,2016-04-08 The United Nations Security Council in 2000 unanimously passed a resolution calling for women s increased participation in conflict prevention and peacebuilding as well as their protection during conflict This marked the first time that the UN Security Council explicitly addressed gender issues in conflict and post conflict situations But what difference has this international agenda on Women Peace and Security made to women s lives on the ground and to the governance of international peace and security This volume provides a critical evaluation of the mainstreaming of gender issues in matters of international peace and security resulting from the passage of Resolution 1325 in 2000 It considers how this agenda actually plays out in different contexts and with what implications for women s activism and for peace and security The picture that emerges is not uniform obliging us to reconsider the links between gender conflict different visions of peace and consequently different projects of peacebuilding Consequently the book poses new questions for transnational feminist scholars and activists This book was based on a special issue of the International Feminist Journal of Politics Poverty and Hunger in the Black Family United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Hunger,1986 Housing, Race and Law Martin MacEwen,2002-09-11 Equality of opportunity in housing is a key issue in social justice in Britain today To the extent that it patterns an individual s educational social and economic development housing constitutes a crucial battleground in the fight against racial discrimination Housing Race and Law is the first publication to examine the law in relation to issues of housing and race in both the private and public sector It places these issues in the broader context of the development of anti discrimination legislation outlines the current legislation and examines its impact in relation to owner occupation public housing housing association tenancies and private lets Throughout the book emphasizes the practical impact of the various legislative provisions and discusses the responses of the principle institutions from government departments and relevant professions to the Commission for Racial Equality and the Community Relations Councils or Racial Equality Councils It argues a case for a new approach to appraisal review and enforcement By collating material from a wide variety of sources the author provides an original assessment of the Race Relations Act of 1976 and its impact on housing which in its provision of cogent material and arguments for reforms is designed to be of value to practitioners academics and those concerned with racial discrimination The State of Black America Janet Dewart,National Urban League,1988 Innovations, New Directions, and New Convergences in Poverty Alleviation United States.
