Black Society In The New World:

Black Intellectuals and Black Society Martin L. Kilson, 2024-07-09 This book presents the trailblazing political scientist Martin L. Kilson's essays on leading Black intellectuals of the twentieth century. Kilson examines the ideas and careers of several key thinkers, placing their intellectual odysseys in the context of the dynamics that shaped the Black intelligentsia more broadly. He argues that the trajectory of twentieth-century Black intellectuals was determined by the interplay between formal ideas and Black egalitarian struggle. Beginning with the tension between W. E. B. Du Bois's civil rights activism and Booker T. Washington's accommodationism, Kilson explores the formation and evolution of Black intellectuals and activists across generations. Chapters consider Horace Mann Bond's career in higher education, political scientist John Aubrey Davis's transition from civil rights activist to federal policy technocrat, Ralph Bunche's writings on European colonial rule in Africa, Harold Cruse's classic polemic The Crisis of the Negro Intellectual, E. Franklin Frazier's analysis of the Black bourgeoisie, Adelaide M. Cromwell's studies of the challenges facing elite Black women, and Ishmael Reed and Cornel West's advocacy as public intellectuals amid a conservative turn. Offering timely and engaging insights into the lives and work of pivotal Black intellectuals and activists, this book sheds new light on the abiding questions and debates in Black political thought. The Black Studies Reader Jacqueline Bobo, Cynthia Hudley, Claudine Michel, 2004-05-15 First published in 2004, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an information company. Black Society in Spanish Florida Jane Landers, 1999 The first extensive study of the African American community under colonial Spanish rule, Black Society in Spanish Florida provides a vital counterweight to the better-known dynamics of the Anglo slave South. Jane Landers draws on a wealth of untapped primary sources, opening a new vista on the Black experience in America and enriching our understanding of the powerful links between race relations and cultural custom. The Essential Writings of Robert A. Hill Adam Ewing, 2024-02-13

Bringing together Robert A. Hill's most important writings for the first time, this collection serves as a testament to Hill's legacy as a pioneering scholar, activist, archive builder, and editor who shaped the study of Garveyism and pan-Africanism.

Race, Power and Social Segmentation in Colonial Society Brian L. Moore, 2023-05-03 Race, Power and Social Segmentation in Colonial Society (1987) studies Guyanese society after slavery and specifically examines the area of social classes and ethnic groups. It also focuses on the theoretical issues in the debate on pluralism versus stratification and provides a detailed interdisciplinary analysis of the process of structural change in a composite colonial society over a significantly long historical period over half a century. Black Theology--Essays on Global Perspectives Dwight N.

Hopkins, 2017-06-15 Since its start in 1966, Black liberation theology in the United States has continually engaged international developments with Africa and the entire world. But after Nelson Mandela was released from prison in February 1990, there has been an almost twenty-year break in books on Black theology and international affairs. Black Theology: Essays on Global Perspectives bridges that post-1990 gap and makes a vital contact with Africa again. This book conceptualizes Black theology to take on the global reconfigurations and opportunities brought about by the rapidly shrinking earth of fast paced worldwide contacts In other words in the specificity of the genealogy of black theology we need to reforge ties with Africa This claim is based on tradition And in the generality of the larger worldwide intertwining of technologies and economics we need a new type of black theological leadership for the twenty first century This claim is based on today s international challenges The essays in this book draw on tradition and point forward in the midst of today s worldwide challenges and favorable possibilities given the closeness of all nations and the varieties of cultures

Origins of the Black Atlantic

Laurent Dubois,Julius Sherrard Scott (III),2010 Between 1492 and 1820 about two thirds of the people who crossed the Atlantic to the Americas were Africans With the exception of the Spanish all the European empires settled more Africans in the New World than they did Europeans The vast majority of these enslaved men and women worked on plantations and their labor was the foundation for the expansion of the Atlantic economy during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Until relatively recently comparatively little attention was paid to the perspectives daily experiences hopes and especially the political ideas of the enslaved who played such a central role in the making of the Atlantic world Over the past decades however huge strides have been made in the study of the history of slavery and emancipation in the Atlantic world This collection brings together some of the key contributions to this growing body of scholarship showing a range of methodological approaches that can be used to understand and reconstruct the lives of these enslaved people

Critical

Readings on Global Slavery Damian Alan Pargas,Felicia Roşu,2017-12-05 The study of slavery has grown strongly in recent years as scholars working in several disciplines have cultivated broader perspectives on enslavement in a wide variety of contexts and settings Critical Readings on Global Slavery offers students and researchers a rich collection of previously published works by some of the most preeminent scholars in the field With contributions covering various regions and time periods this anthology encourages readers to view slave systems across time and space as both ubiquitous and interconnected and introduces those who are interested in the study of human bondage to some of the most important and widely cited works in slavery studies

How the New World Became Old

Caroline Winterer,2024-10 How the idea of deep time transformed how Americans see their country and themselves During the nineteenth century Americans were shocked to learn that the land beneath their feet had once been stalked by terrifying beasts T rex and Brontosaurus ruled the continent North America was home to saber toothed cats and woolly mammoths great herds of camels and hippos and sultry tropical forests now fossilized into massive coal seams How the New World Became Old tells the extraordinary story of how Americans discovered that the New World was not just old it was a place rooted in deep time In this panoramic book Caroline Winterer traces the history of an idea that today lies at the heart of the nation s identity as a place of primordial natural beauty Europeans called America the New World and literal readings of the Bible suggested that Earth was only six thousand years old Winterer takes readers from glacier capped peaks in Yosemite to Alabama slave plantations and canal works in upstate New York describing how naturalists explorers engineers and ordinary Americans unearthed a past they never suspected a history more ancient than anyone ever could have imagined Drawing on archival evidence ranging from unpublished field notes and letters to early stratigraphic diagrams How the New World Became Old reveals how the deep time revolution ushered in profound changes in science literature art and religion and how Americans came to realize that the New World might in fact be the oldest world of all

Plantation Church Noel Leo Erskine, 2014-03 In Plantation Church Noel Leo Erskine investigates the history of the Black Church as it developed both in the United States and the Caribbean after the arrival of enslaved Africans Typically when people talk about the Black Church they are referring to African American churches in the U S but in fact the majority of African slaves were brought to the Caribbean It was there Erskine argues that the Black religious experience was born The massive Afro Caribbean population was able to establish a form of Christianity that preserved African Gods and practices but fused them with Christian teachings resulting in religions such as Cuba s Santería Despite their common ancestry the Black religious experience in the U S was markedly different because African Americans were a political and cultural minority The Plantation Church became a place of solace and resistance that provided its members with a sense of kinship not only to each other but also to their ancestral past Despite their common origins the Caribbean and African American Church are almost never studied together This book investigates the parallel histories of these two strands of the Black Church showing where their historical ties remain strong and where different circumstances have led them down unexpectedly divergent paths The result will be a work that illuminates the histories theologies politics and practices of both branches of the Black Church This project presses beyond the nation state framework and raises intercultural and interregional questions with implications for gender race and class Noel Leo Erskine employs a comparative method that opens up the possibility of rethinking the language and grammar of how Black churches have been understood in the Americas and extends the notion of church beyond the United States The forging of a Black Christianity from sources African and European allows for an examination of the meaning of church when people of African descent are culturally and politically in the majority Erskine also asks the pertinent question of what meaning the church holds when the converse is true when African Americans are a cultural and political minority

The Paradox(es) of Diasporic Identity, Race and Belonging Benjamin Maiangwa, 2023-10-22 This book explores how questions about home and belonging have been framed in the discourses on race migration and social relationships It does this with the aim of envisioning alternative modes of living and reimagining our political communities in ways that question the legacy of colonization and constructed identities which detract from our sense of obligation to each other and the planet The book questions problematic categories of difference to transform human relations beyond the materialism of our global political economy Questions addressed in the volume include In what ways are combative colonial identities of difference manufactured within our national and global spaces of encounter How can we expel the racialized and tribalized political identities that seek to purify and deny the complexities and sacredness of being human How do we embrace the notion that everyone we encounter is a mirror reflecting our fears of suffering and our desires for happiness The book is set in the context of re emerging ultra nationalists and anti migrant politicians on the national and international stage advancing various strands of extreme right and protectionist ideology couched as redemptive welfarist strategies The adverse impacts of these strategies seem to be reifying a possessive idea of citizenship and identity engendering a national fantasy that portrays communities as homogenous entities inhabiting enclosed borders This is essentially a compendium of conversations across the intersection of the racial national ethnic spiritual and sexual boundaries in which we live Transatlantic

Slavery Anthony Tibbles, Anthony H. Tibbles, 2005-01-01 Between 1500 and 1870 European traders transported millions of Africans to the Americas to work as slaves yet despite the wealth of scholarship on this period many people remain uninformed about the history of the slave trade and its implications for the modern black experience Published to accompany a permanent gallery in the Merseyside Maritime Museum Transatlantic Slavery documents this era through essays on women in slavery the impact of slavery on West and Central Africa and the African view of the slave trade Richly illustrated it reveals how the slave trade shaped the history of three continents Africa the Americas and Europe and how all of us continue to live with its consequences Should Race Matter? David Boonin, 2011-11-14 In this book philosopher David Boonin attempts to answer the moral questions raised by five important and widely contested racial practices slave reparations affirmative action hate speech restrictions hate crime laws and racial profiling Arguing from premises that virtually everyone on both sides of the debates over these issues already accepts Boonin arrives at an unusual and unorthodox set of conclusions one that is neither liberal nor conservative color conscious nor color blind Defended with the rigor that has characterized his previous work but written in a more widely accessible style this provocative and important new book is sure to spark controversy and should be of interest to philosophers legal theorists and anyone interested in trying to resolve the debate over these important and divisive issues

Africana Anthony Appiah, Henry Louis Gates (Jr.), 2005 Ninety years after W E B Du Bois first articulated the need for the equivalent of a black Encyclopedia Britannica Kwame Anthony Appiah and Henry Louis Gates Jr realized his vision by publishing Africana The Encyclopedia of the African and African American Experience in 1999 This new greatly expanded edition of the original work broadens the foundation provided by Africana Including more than one million new words Africana has been completely updated and revised New entries on African kingdoms have been added bibliographies now accompany most articles and the encyclopedia's coverage of the African diaspora in Latin America and the Caribbean has been expanded transforming the set into the most authoritative research and scholarly reference set on the African experience ever created More than 4 000 articles cover prominent individuals events trends places political movements art forms business and trade religion ethnic groups organizations and countries on both sides of the Atlantic African American history and culture in the present day United States receive a strong emphasis but African American history and culture throughout the rest of the Americas and their origins in African itself have an equally strong presence The articles that make up Africana cover subjects ranging from affirmative action to zydeco and span over four million years from the earliest known hominids to Sean Diddy Combs With entries ranging from the African ethnic groups to members of the Congressional Black Caucus Africana Second Edition conveys the history and scope of cultural expression of people of African descent with unprecedented depth The Mazruiana Collection Revisited Ali Al'Amin Mazrui, 2005 Consists of 650 annotated entries covering Mazrui's books dissertations edited works about him major essays in books academic journals and conference papers This work contains essays including pamphlets magazine and newspaper articles and audio visual recordings A Spirit of Dialogue Christopher N. Okonkwo, 2008 A groundbreaking study A Spirit of Dialogue examines through extensive interdisciplinary research theory and close reading the intricate reconstructions extensions and resonances of the West African myth of spirit children the Born to Die in contemporary African American neo slave narratives Arguing that the myth called Ogbaje in Igbo language and b k in Yoruba has had over thirty years of uncharted presence in African American literature Okonkwo advances a compelling case absent in extant scholarship He traces Ogbaje the Born to Die's appearance in African American texts to a convergence of factors They include but are not limited to the impact of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart the 1960s emergence of the contemporary neo slave narrative the 1960s and 1970s black consciousness Black Power movement and the cultural agenda gendered politics and centripetal philosophy of the Black Arts movement's nationalist aesthetic African American identity questions of the post civil rights and the multicultural eras and the thematic shifts as well as the African diaspora orientation of African American fiction of the post nationalist aesthetic period A Spirit of Dialogue focuses on the sometimes neglected and understudied works of four canonical African American writers Octavia E Butler's Wild Seed and Mind of My Mind Tananarive Due's The Between John Edgar Wideman's The Cattle Killing and Toni Morrison's Sula and Beloved Okonkwo demonstrates persuasively how the mythic spirit child informs the content and form of these novels offering Butler Due Wideman and Morrison a non occidental code by which to engage collectively with the various issues integral to the history experience of African descended people The paradigm functions then as the nexus of a life affirmative dialogue among the six novels as well as between them and other works of African religious and literary imagination particularly Things Fall Apart and Ben Okri's The Famished Road Praying with Every Heart Claudio Carvalhaes, 2021-08-26 This book develops an understanding of prayer from a liberation theological perspective Praying with offers a distinctive way of praying that can help orient our prayers around the where we pray and with whom we pray as the locus of the body's and heart's theological praxis The book helps create language to pray with people and in situations we are not used to praying with it insists on praying amidst racism poverty violence and suffering it calls us to pray at night and at the end of the world when we are overcome by fear hurt climate disaster or economic impoverishment it ventures into interfaith prayer settings and it claims a sense of self that is not discrete encapsulated in its own thinking or feeling rather it understands the notion of the self as entangled with the whole earth and each sentient and nonsentient being Thus to pray with in this book is to take the location of one s prayer more seriously and individually and collectively to gain an awareness of our grounding and positionality therefore creating a theological structure that assumes both the listening of our own heart and the voices of everything around us
