Black South African Women:

Black South African Women Kathy A. Perkins, 1999 In this the first anthology to focus exclusively on the lives of black South African women the work of both emerging playwrights and national and international award winners are represented

Women in South African History Nomboniso Gasa, 2007 Accompanying CD ROM contains the complete text of the printed volume
Women in Africa Toyin Falola, Olajumoke Yacob-Haliso, 2025-05-22 This book introduces readers to the rich and diverse experiences of women across the African continent covering their socio cultural political and economic realities from the precolonial era right up to the modern day In many precolonial African societies women were empowered and considered to be important participants in the social structures and political systems that managed their communities but during the colonial era women were often marginalized Now across the continent women are reasserting their agency This book explores the various ways in which gender has been constructed in different African cultures across history and how this has impacted the lived experiences of women The book encompasses a broad range of topics including history health sexualities gender based violence motherhood education economic activities science and technology religion popular culture politics peacebuilding feminism literature social media and migration Engaging and compelling this book invites us to think again about the changing roles identities and contributions of African women across time and space It is the perfect introduction for any student of gender or African studies as well as for anyone looking for a reader friendly guide to the subject

Women in the South African Parliament Hannah Britton, 2010-10-01 Although the international press closely chronicled the dismantling of South Africa's apartheid policies it paid little attention to the unique role women from a variety of political parties played in establishing the new government Utilizing interviews participant observation and archival research Women in the South African Parliament tells an inspiring story of liberation showing how these women achieved electoral success learned to work with lifelong enemies and began to transform Parliament by creating more space for women's voices during a critical time in the life of their democracy Arguing from her detailed analysis of the strategies and political tactics used by these South African women both individually and collectively Hannah Britton contends that contrary claims in earlier studies of the developing world mobilization by women prior to a transition to democracy can lead to gains after the transition including improvements in constitutional mandates party politics and representation At the same time Britton demonstrates that not even national leadership can ensure power for all women and that many who were elected to South Africa's first democratic parliament declined to run again feeling they could have a greater impact working in their own communities

The Vanishing Black African Woman: Volume One Olumide, Yetunde Mercy, 2016-10-06 Skin lightening is currently one of the most common forms of potentially harmful body modification practices in the world and African women are among some of the most widely represented users of skin lightening products The overall objective of this book is to provide up to date evidence based recommendations for reducing the global burden of cosmetic skin bleaching and preventing injuries related to skin bleaching in sub Saharan Africa and Africans in diaspora The book aims to offer an appraisal of all relevant literature on cosmetic bleaching practices to date focusing on any key developments identify and address important medical public health issues as well as historical genetic psychosocial cultural behavioural socioeconomic political institutional and environmental determinants provide guideline recommendations that would help attenuate the burden and possibly eliminate the injuries related to skin bleaching discuss potential developments and future directions

Hear Our Voices Reitumetse Obakeng Mabokela,Zine Magubane,2022-08-01 This book has a twofold goal first the contributors aim to expose the racist and sexist practices that still suffuse the institutional culture of South African universities Secondly they seek to apply the alternative theoretical and methodological frameworks of black feminist thought However particular their individual stories this books offers rich material of interest to women scholars everywhere

Women and Gender in Southern Africa to 1945 Cherryl Walker,1990 South African Social Attitudes Udes Pillay,Benjamin Roberts,Stephen P. Rule,2006 A country s attitudinal profile is as much a part of its social reality as are its demographic make up its culture and its distinctive social patterns It helps to provide a nuanced picture of a country s circumstances its continuities and changes its democratic health and how it feels to live there It also helps to measure the country s progress towards the achievement of its economic social and political goals based on the measurement of both objective and subjective realities South African Social Attitudes Changing Times Diverse Voices is a new series aimed at providing an analysis of attitudes and values towards a wide range of social and political issues relevant to life in contemporary South African society As the series develops we hope that readers will be able to draw meaningful comparisons with the findings of previous years and thus develop a richer picture and deeper appreciation of changing South African social values This the first volume in the series presents the public s responses during extensive nation wide interviews conducted by the HSRC in late 2003 The findings are analysed in three thematic sections the first provides an in depth examination of race class and politics the second gives a critical assessment of the public s perceptions of poverty inequality and service delivery and the last explores societal values such as partner violence and moral attitudes South African Social Attitudes is essential reading for anyone seeking a guide to contemporary social or political issues and debates It should prove an indispensable tool not only for government policy makers social scientists and students but also for general readers wishing to gain a better understanding of their fellow citizens and themselves South African Feminisms M.J. Daymond,2013-05-13 This is the first collection of feminist critical essays by and about women in South Africa to appear outside of that country Many of the pieces were written after February 1990 when President de Klerk lifted the ban on black political organizations The recognition that a just society cannot be achieved without freedom from gender oppression as well as racial oppression informs these essays and has a direct bearing on the creation of a new society in South Africa

Women in African Colonial Histories Susan Geiger,Jean Allman,Nakanyike Musisi,2002-04 While recognising the inherent violence and brutality of the colonial encounter the essays in this anthology show that African women were not simply the hapless victims of European political rule

Narrative Landscapes of Female Sexuality in Africa Samantha van Schalkwyk, 2018-10-06 This book explores the textures of women's narratives of patriarchal oppression of female sexuality Postcolonial feminist scholars in Africa highlight the importance of moving beyond Westernised lenses of African women's powerlessness towards a focus on women's culturally specific sexual agency However few studies explore women's psychological experiences of sexual oppression agency in real depth Narrative Landscapes of Female Sexuality in Africa traces the narratives of heterosexual migrant women from Zimbabwe Kenya and Congo The book offers insight into women's experiences back home travelling through border posts in Africa and life in current post apartheid South Africa Through a unique collectively based methodology and a feminist poststructuralist lens the author examines narrative strategies used by the women to manage and psychologically resist harmful discourses surrounding female sexuality and women's bodies The book offers rich exploration of the intersections of gender and sexuality class race and citizenship situating the narratives within the wider context of poverty and migration in sub Saharan Africa These vectors of oppression are illuminated throughout the text via integrated threads of the researcher's positionality in relation to the women narrators
