Irwin,2011-12-15 Honorable Mention Literature 2012 PROSE Awards Professional and Scholarly Publishing Division of the Association of American Publishers2012 Outstanding Academic Title Choice Magazine In one of his letters Hart Crane wrote Appollinaire lived in Paris I live in Cleveland Ohio comparing misspelling and all the great French poet s cosmopolitan roots to his own more modest ones in the midwestern United States Rebellng against the notion that his work should relate to some European school of thought Crane defiantly asserted his freedom to be himself a true American writer John T Irwin long a passionate and brilliant critic of Crane gives readers the first major interpretation of the poet s work in decades Irwin

aims to show that Hart Crane's epic The Bridge is the best twentieth century long poem in English. Irwin convincingly argues that compared to other long poems of the century The Bridge is the richest and most wide ranging in its mythic and historical resonances, the most inventive in its combination of literary and visual structures, the most subtle and compelling in its psychological underpinnings. Irwin brings a wealth of new and varied scholarship to bear on his critical reading of the work from art history to biography to classical literature to philosophy, revealing The Bridge to be the near perfect synthesis of American myth and history that Crane intended. Irwin contends that the most successful entryway to Crane's notoriously difficult shorter poems is through a close reading of The Bridge. Having admirably accomplished this, Irwin analyzes Crane's poems in White Buildings and his last poem The Broken Tower through the larger context of his epic, showing how Crane in the best of these worked out the structures and images that were fully developed in The Bridge. Thoughtful, deliberate and extraordinarily learned, this is the most complete and careful reading of Crane's poetry available. Hart Crane may have lived in Cleveland, Ohio, but as Irwin masterfully shows, his poems stand among the greatest written in the English language.

Bentley, 2014-07-22. This text provides a lucid and accessible introduction to the poetry of Ted Hughes, a major figure in twentieth century poetry whose work is concerned with the forces of nature and their interaction with the human mind. It is also the first full length study to place Hughes's poetry in the context of significant developments in literary theory that have occurred during his life, drawing in particular on the French theorists Jacques Lacan, Julia Kristeva and Roland Barthes. The study sheds new light on Hughes's prosody and on such matters as Hughes's relation to the Movement poets, the influence of Sylvia Plath, his relation to Romanticism, his interest in myth and shamanism and the implications of the Laureateship for his work. The poems are presented in chronological order, tracing the development of Hughes's highly distinctive style. The study also discusses Hughes's recently published non-fiction, Winter Pollen 1994 and Shakespeare and the Goddess of Complete Being 1992. The Poetry of Ted Hughes is indispensable for all students and academics interested in contemporary poetry and culture.

The Sound of Modern Polish Poetry Aleksandra Kremer, 2021-12-07. An illuminating new study of modern Polish verse in performance, offering a major reassessment of the roles of poets and poetry in twentieth century Polish culture. What's in a voice? Why record oneself reading a poem that also exists on paper? In recent decades, scholars have sought to answer these questions, giving due credit to the art of poetry performance in the anglophone world. Now Aleksandra Kremer trains a sharp ear on modern Polish poetry assessing the rising importance of authorial sound recordings during the tumultuous twentieth century in Eastern Europe Kremer traces the adoption by key Polish poets of performance practices intimately tied to new media In Polish hands tape recording became something different from what it had been in the West shaped by its distinctive origins behind the Iron Curtain The Sound of Modern Polish Poetry reconstructs the historical conditions audio technologies and personal motivations that informed poetic performances by such luminaries as Czesław Miłosz Wisława Szymborska Aleksander Wat Zbigniew Herbert Miron Białoszewski Anna Swir and Tadeusz Różewicz Through performances both public and private prepared and improvised professional and amateur these poets tested the possibilities of the physical voice and introduced new poetic practices reading styles and genres to the Polish literary scene Recording became for these artists a means of announcing their ambiguous place between worlds Kremer's is a work of criticism as well as recovery deploying speech analysis software to shed light on forgotten audio experiments from poetic sound postcards to unusual home performances to the final testaments of writer performers Collectively their voices reveal new aesthetics of poetry reading and novel concepts of the poetic self
