Blackfellas Whitefellas And The Hidden Injuries Of Race:

Blackfellas, Whitefellas, and the Hidden Injuries of Race Gillian Cowlshaw, 2004-01-09 In December 1997 in a small town in rural Australia a fight broke out among local Aborigines that turned into a full blown riot when police intervened in force In Blackfellas Whitefellas and the Hidden Injuries of Race anthropologist Gillian Cowlshaw uses this vivid incident as a means of launching a larger discussion about race identity and racialized violence Brings indigenous Australians into the contemporary global race discourse in a lively highly readable ethnography Explores the local and national meanings of a race riot in Australia and the entrenched racial binary evident in everyday relationships Raises questions about history memory citizenship respect and abjection as means of considering the politics social science and psychology of race rivalry and indigenous marginality Written by a prominent scholar with clarity verve and accessibility both for beginners and those well versed in contemporary debates

Global Indigenous Horror Naomi Simone Borwein, 2025-04-15 Contributions by Katrin Althans Jayson Althofer Naomi Simone Borwein Persephone Braham Krista Collier Jarvis Shane Hawk Jade Jenkinson June Scudeler and Sabrina Zacharias Global Indigenous Horror is a collection of essays that positions Indigenous Horror as more than just a genre but as a narrative space where the spectral and social converge where the uncanny becomes a critique and the monstrous mirrors the human While contentions swirl around the genre category this exploratory anthology is the first critical edited collection dedicated solely to ways of theorizing and analyzing Indigenous Horror literature The essays curated by scholar Naomi Simone Borwein ask readers to consider what Global Indigenous Horror is and to whom The volume opens with a preface by international bestselling horror writer Shane Hawk enrolled Cheyenne Arapaho Hidatsa and Potawatomi descent followed by an overview of Global Indigenous Horror trends aesthetics and approaches The carefully selected contributions explore Indigenous Horror literature and mixed media narratives worldwide unraveling the intricate dynamics between the local and global traditional and contemporary and human and monstrous Contributor chapters are grouped not by geographical or cultural variation but along a spectrum from a strong emphasis on ways of knowing to a critical inspection of Horror through Indigenous Gothic aesthetics across cultural boundaries and against and beyond nation states

White Backlash and the Politics of Multiculturalism Roger Hewitt, 2005-06-23 The murder of Stephen Lawrence led to the widest review of institutional racism seen in the UK Sections of the white working class communities in south London near to the scene of the murder however displayed deep hostility to the equalities and multiculturalist practice of the local state and other agencies Drawing on extensive ethnographic research this book relates these phenomena to the backlash to multiculturalism evident during the 1990s in the USA Australia Canada the UK and other European countries It examines these within the unfolding social and political responses to race equalities in the UK and the USA from the 1960s to the present in the context of changes in social class and national political agendas This book is unique in linking a detailed study of a community at a time of its critical importance to national debates over racism and multiculturalism to historically wider international economic and social trends Settling with Indigenous People Marcia Langton, 2006 Settling with Indigenous People describes the making of ten contemporary mostly Australian local and regional agreements and details the avenues through which such agreements can be implemented and sustained The Australian regional agreements concern South West Australia the Murray Darling Basin and Cape York There is a chapter about the return of the Maralinga lands to its traditional owners and one detailing two local government agreements in central and southwest Australia Urban agreements in Darwin and Vancouver are compared and there are also chapters on the North West Territories and Northern Quebec in Canada and the Ngai Tahu in the South Island of New Zealand The discussion addresses governance and leadership negotiation strategies including the role of formal negotiating frameworks the importance of process and outcome the crucial impact of politics and timing the significance of private sector engagement implementation mechanisms The chapters show how agreement making has provided a forum in which indigenous groups can negotiate their needs and aspirations including fundamental issues of recognition inclusion and economic opportunity The authors include indigenous and non indigenous academics and others who have been involved in negotiating agreements Declarations of Interdependence Professor Kirsten Anker, 2014-10-28 This book takes up the postcolonial challenge for law and explains how the problems of legal recognition for Indigenous peoples are tied to an orthodox theory of law Constructing a theory of legal pluralism that is both critical of law's epistemological and ontological presuppositions as well as discursive in engaging a dialogue between legal traditions Anker focusses on prominent aspects of legal discourse and process such as sovereignty proof cultural translation and negotiation With case studies and examples principally drawn from Australia and Canada the book seeks to set state law in front of its own reflection in the mirror of Indigenous rights drawing on a broad base of scholarship in addition to legal theory from philosophy literary studies anthropology social theory Indigenous studies and art As a contribution to legal theory the study advances legal pluralist approaches not just by imagining a way to make space for Indigenous legal traditions but by actually working with their insights in building theory The book will be of value to students and researchers interested in Indigenous rights as well as those working in the areas of socio legal studies legal pluralism and law and cultural diversity Encyclopedia of Anthropology H. James Bix, 2006 Focuses on physical social and applied anthropology archaeology linguistics and symbolic communication Topics include hominid evolution primate behaviour genetics ancient civilizations cross cultural studies and social theories Armenian Christians in Iran James Barry, 2019 Examines Iran's Armenian community shedding light on Muslim Christian relations in Iran since the 1979 revolution

Indigenous Crime and Settler Law H. Douglas, M. Finnane, 2012-08-21 In a break from the contemporary focus on the law's response to inter racial crime the authors examine the law's approach to the victimization of one Indigenous person by another Drawing on a wealth of archival material relating to homicides in Australia they conclude that settlers and Indigenous peoples still live in the shadow of empire Indigenous Rights in the Age of the UN Declaration Elvira

Pulitano,2012-05-24 Elvira Pulitano examines the relevance of international law in advancing indigenous peoples struggles for self determination and cultural flourishing Cultural Memory and Literature Diane Molloy,2015-10-20 Cultural memory involves a community s shared memories the selection of which is based on current political and social needs A past that is significant to a national group is re imagined by generating new meanings that replace earlier certainties and fixed symbols or myths This creates literary syncretisms with moments of undecidability The analysis in this book draws on Renate Lachmann s theory of intertextuality to show how novels that blur boundaries without standing in for history are prone to intervene in cultural memory A brief overview of Aboriginal politics between the 1920s and the 1990s in relation to several novels provides historical and political background to the links between and problems associated with cultural memory testimony trauma and Stolen Generations narratives which are discussed in relation to Sally Morgan s My Place and Doris Pilkington s Rabbit Proof Fence There follows an analysis of novels that respond to the history of contact between Aboriginal and settler Australians including Kate Grenville s historical novels The Secret River The Lieutenant and Sarah Thornhill as examples of a traditional approach David Malouf s Remembering Babylon charts how language and naming defined our early national narrative that excluded Aboriginal people Intertextuality is explored via the relation between Thea Astley s The Multiple Effects of Rainshadow Chloe Hooper s The Tall Man and the Royal Commission into Aboriginal Deaths in Custody Kim Scott s Benang from the heart and That Deadman Dance and Alexis Wright s Carpentaria reflect a number of Lachmann s concepts syncretism dialogism polyphony Menippean satire and the carnivalesque Suggested is a new way of reading novels that respond to Australia s violent past beyond trauma studies and postcolonial theory to re imagine a different syncretic past from multiple perspectives Equity, Equality, and Reform in Contemporary Public Education Grant, Marquis C.,2018-03-30 Equality and equity are often mischaracterized as interchangeable terms in public education This may explain why efforts towards reform and restructure are often not met with any real measure of success Equity Equality and Reform in Contemporary Public Education provides emerging research on the reformation of education curriculum to provide proportionate opportunities for marginalized students and support for student achievement in public education While highlighting topics such as achievement gaps gender biases and multicultural responsiveness this book explores the theories and applications of different measures of reform to promote fairness among individual students This book is an important resource for educators professionals school administrators researchers and practitioners in the field of education

Indigenous People, Crime and Punishment

Thalia Anthony, 2013-07-24 Indigenous People Crime and Punishment examines criminal sentencing courts changing characterisations of Indigenous peoples identity culture and postcolonial status Focusing largely on Australian Indigenous peoples but drawing also on the Canadian experiences Thalia Anthony critically analyses how the judiciary have interpreted Indigenous difference Through an analysis of Indigenous sentencing remarks over a fifty year period in a number of jurisdictions the book demonstrates how judicial discretion is moulded to dominant white assumptions about Indigeneity More specifically Indigenous People Crime and Punishment shows how the increasing demonisation of Indigenous criminality and culture in sentencing has turned earlier gains in the legal recognition of Indigenous peoples on their head The recognition of Indigenous difference is thereby revealed as a pliable concept that is just as likely to remove concessions as it is to grant them Indigenous People Crime and Punishment suggests that Indigenous justice requires a two way recognition process where Indigenous people and legal systems are afforded greater control in sentencing dispute resolution and Indigenous healing

The Social Sciences in the Asian Century Carol Johnson, Vera Mackie, Tessa Morris-Suzuki, 2015-09-30 In this collection of essays we reflect on what it means to practise the social sciences in the twenty first century The book brings together leading social scientists from the Asia Pacific region We argue for the benefit of dialogue between the diverse theories and methods of social sciences in the region the role of the social sciences in addressing real world problems the need to transcend national boundaries in addressing regional problems and the challenges for an increasingly globalised higher education sector in the twenty first century The chapters are a combination of theoretical reflections and locally focused case studies of processes that are embedded in global dynamics and the changing geopolitics of knowledge In an increasingly connected world these reflections will be of global relevance

Violence in France and Australia Craig Browne, Justine McGill, 2022-05-18 Examines the racial and ethnic dimensions of forms of marginality and the relationships between the welfare state and the postcolonial background to contemporary violence

Politico-ideological Mobilisation and Violence in the Arab World

Ahmed Ajil, 2022-09-06 This book presents a study of politico ideological mobilisation and violence by focusing on the life stories trajectories and narratives of individuals who mobilised for causes and conflicts in the Arab World It provides a greater understanding of the biographical sociological political and historic factors pertinent for their radicalisation processes What makes individuals identify with suffering and injustice often of others and elsewhere Why do individuals feel the need to stand up in the first place and how does violent action become a justifiable or necessary

course of action Why and how do they disengage from violence This book based on interviews conducted in Lebanon Switzerland and Canada answers these questions It presents new theoretical insights about politico ideological mobilisation and violence By focusing on grievances and grounding analysis in the empirical reality as it is shared and narratively constructed by those who are at the heart of the phenomenon it moves beyond the moralistic and politicised debates that characterise the field Interviewees include non violent and violent engagement for causes and conflicts related to the Arab World such as sympathisers or members of groups and causes from a variety of ideological orientations including Shiite militias Salafi jihadist groups radical left wing groups Palestine specific Kurdish groups and others such as right wing or unspecified affiliations By choosing individuals with different forms of political engagement both non violent and violent and different ideological orientations it helps readers to get a better grasp of how similar grievances may lead to different outcomes In focusing on three markedly different geopolitical contexts the book also provides a crosscontextual understanding of mobilisation for political and violent action The interviewees also include experts and peripheral actors such as professionals researchers policymakers friends or family members Their perspectives complement and enrich some of the findings by providing external yet in depth expert knowledge Politico ideological Mobilisation and Violence in the Arab World will be of great interest to criminologists political scientists sociologists and other scholars interested in the study of terrorism radicalisation and extremism It will also appeal to journalists policymakers practitioners working in the field The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
