Imagining the American Death Penalty Birte Christ, 2025-04-29 Imagining the American Death Penalty traces the US American cultural imaginary of capital punishment through popular visual representations from the 1890s to the twenty first century The book focuses on three generic and historical clusters of representations early film from the 1890s through Intolerance 1916 crime film noir of the 1950s and 1960s and legal TV series from the 1990s through the early 2000s The book makes two central arguments First it demonstrates that an increased concern with the death penalty in popular media does not mean that these texts promote an abolitionist agenda their cultural work is ambiguous at best This ambiguity is always contingent upon both the affordances of the particular genre and medium in question and on political legal discursive context The book explores both in detail Early film is enchanted with its own representational possibilities due to the progress of technology and in analogy with the progress in execution technique specifically the electric chair In film noir genre conventions and the legal back and forth before and after Furman predicate ambiguity In legal TV series the genre's ensemble casts and its focus on conversational exchange invite open debate The second argument is that popular visual representations consistently whitewash the death penalty The book demonstrates that this is the case because the most common narrative around executions in film and TV is to cast the condemned man as a hero who defies the violence of the state gains dignity by accepting his fate and faults and in some ways triumphs over death The American imaginary until very recently did or could not imagine Black men to possess that measure of agency that it attributed to its white heroes Through a Noir Lens Sheri Chinen Biesen, 2024-06-18 Shadows Smoke Dark alleys Rain slicked city streets These are iconic elements of film noir visual style Long after its 1940s heyday noir hallmarks continue to appear in a variety of new media forms and styles What has made the noir aesthetic at once enduring and adaptable Sheri Chinen Biesen explores how the dark cinematic noir style has evolved across eras from classic Hollywood to present day streaming services Examining both aesthetics and material production conditions she demonstrates how technological and industrial changes have influenced the imagery of film noir When it emerged in the early 1940s the visual style's distinctive shadowy look was in part a product of wartime cinema conditions and technologies such as blackouts and nitrate film stock Since the 1950s technical developments from acetate film stock and new cameras and lenses to lighting color and digitization have shaped the changing nature of noir style Biesen considers the persistence of the noir legacy discussing how neo noirs reimagine iconic imagery and why noir style has become a touchstone in the streaming era Drawing on a wealth of archival research she provides insightful analyses of a wide range of works from masterpieces directed by Billy Wilder and Alfred Hitchcock to New Hollywood neo noirs the Coen brothers revisionist films and recent HBO and Netflix series A groundbreaking technological and industrial history of an essential yet slippery visual style Through a Noir Lens shines a light into the shadows of film noir Sociology Noir Roger A. Salerno, 2007-05-28 Between 1915 and 1935 the University of Chicago was the center for the production of innovative sociological research that unearthed the marginalized existence of unconventional Americans Referred to as the Chicago school monographs by social historians these works brought acclaim to the country's premiere graduate program in sociology Working at the shadowy margins of the city these Chicago school scholars dramatically examined the lives of delinquents prostitutes gangsters and homeless men Their work harmonized with narratives of proletarian and pulp fiction and the serialized newspaper accounts of urban vice and deviance This book offers a survey of some of these key monographs such as The Unadjusted Girl The Hobo The Jack Roller and The Taxi Dance Hall Into the Dark (Cultural Exegesis) Craig Detweiler, 2008-08-01 In this book Craig Detweiler examines forty five films from the twenty first century that resonate theologically from the Lord of the Rings trilogy to Little Miss Sunshine offering groundbreaking insight into their scriptural connections and theological applications Detweiler writes with the eye of a filmmaker leads Hollywood and religion initiatives at Fuller Seminary and even came to faith through cinema In this book he unpacks the theology of everyday life exploring the Spirit of God in creation redemption and general revelation through sometimes unlikely filmmakers It's the first authoritative book that dissects up to date movies selected by the popular Internet Movie Database This book is recommended for teachers students pastors film fans and those interested in the intersection of Christianity and culture
