Rose,Stuart Sime,Derek French,2006 Provides authoritative expert description and analysis of the process of civil litigation in the county courts and in the High Court Combines a unique narrative commentary with the full text of the Civil Procedure Rules Practice Directions and Pre Action Protocols and Practice Guides Civil Procedure in EU Competition Cases Before the English and Dutch Courts George Cumming,Mirjam Freudenthal,2010-01-01 For decades it seemed clear that EC competition law was enforceable effectively at the national level and ECJ case law has continued to bear this out In recent years however the Commission has been proposing harmonization of national rules of procedure in competition cases implying that procedural autonomy is insufficient on its own to produce an effective enforcement system in this area As the authors of this book clearly demonstrate this suggests a binary system governing the enforcement of EC Articles 81 and 82 namely that led by the Commission through directives and eventual regulations and that built on ECJ principles in areas not dealt with by such Community instruments This book describes and analyzes not only the specific Commission recommendations but also the manner and extent to which these recommendations are or may be implemented in civil procedure In particular the authors consider changes which may be required if these recommendations are incorporated into Dutch and English rules of civil procedure Also addressed are elements of procedure not mentioned by the Commission but which might usefully be considered in the context of ECJ principles of effectiveness equivalence and effective judicial protection of rights At the heart of the study is a detailed analysis of the Commission White Paper on Damages Actions and the Commission Staff Working Paper both issued early in 2009 The in depth analysis ranges over procedural aspects of such elements as the following and standing and disclosure and access to evidence and burden of proof and fault no fault and costs of damages actions and injunctions and civil versus administrative enforcement and limitations and leniency programmes and collective actions and confidentiality and forms of compensation Anticipating as it does a looming impasse in European competition law this remarkable book sheds defining light on the real implications of EC competition law for parties to damages actions not only in the national systems studied but for all Member States For practitioners and jurists it offers a particularly useful approach to the handling of cases involving European competition law and also serves as a guide to current trends and as a clarification of doctrine

Dimensions of Evidence in European Civil Procedure Vesna Rijavec,Tomaž Keresteš,2015-12-29 Greater efficiency in civil dispute resolution is very much dependent on organized but fair fact finding Under European law however no clear cut categorisation of means of evidence exists as yet and significantly diverging interpretations persist of what is considered evidence in the sense of the foundational Council Regulation EC No 1206/2001 EER The EER fails to provide comprehensive rules for many other aspects of evidence taking pointing instead to national legislation for solutions As long as evidentiary rules remain different from country to country there is an inherent risk of conflict of laws between different systems in the course of cooperation between courts in cross border matters leading to mistrust amongst judiciary and other participants in the proceedings Focusing on national rules and using a comparative method which takes into consideration legal experiences from all legal circles in the EU this book explains and analyses how the law of evidence works in Europe today The authors draw on the vast base of relevant information collected in twenty seven Member States by national reporters Following the classical enumeration of types of evidence production of documents examination of witnesses expert evidence inspection by the judge and examination of the parties chapters encompass such issues and topics as the following judicial cooperation in cross border cases general principles in evidence taking the right to be heard oral vs written form directness of evidence burden of proof judges case management powers regarding evidence means of evidence extent of influence of traditional principles and evidentiary rules on electronic evidence application of communication technology in cross border proceedings legal costs language inadmissible evidence and instances in which a court can refuse a request for evidence The authors offer well grounded recommendations on requested judge s entitlements direct and convenient communication cost issues revised provisions concerning language obstacles unification of presumptions and much more Armed with the wide ranging knowledge presented here practitioners handling civil cases anywhere in Europe will derive great practical benefit from this book As a masterful synthesis of how evidence is used in national courts in EU Member States and of how that use is changing the book will be greatly valued as a unique resource by legal scholars and academics With featured recommendations it can contribute to the development of mutual trust among the national courts inside the EU as well as trust among policymakers and national courts

Civil Procedure A. A. S. Zuckerman,2003 This is detailed and consistent account of the whole CPR system dealing with how the overriding objective and other principles underlying civil procedure are applied and how judicial discretion and case management powers are exercised Complementing the Green Book and other leading civil procedure titles it analyses reported and unreported case law drawing out the principles to the applied advising on areas where clear precedent has not yet been established or where the authority is open to question It applies principles and human rights considerations to guide practitioners on how judges are or should be exercising their powers and provides arguments to use before them Endorsed by Lord Woolf this text is designed for efficient task oriented access to key information

Blackstone's Guide to the Extradition Act 2003 Julian B. Knowles, 2004 The Blackstone's Guide Series is a well established series of practical guides to the latest new legislation The Guides all contain a full copy of the Act together with commentary on the effects extent and scope of the legislation The Guides are concise accessible and clearly laid out essential tools for those practising in the area The Extradition Act 2003 came into force on 1st January 2004 The Act is a major piece of legislation and will radically overhaul current extradition procedure with the aim of simplifying and speeding up the extradition process It will give effect to the European Arrest Warrant which for the first time will allow foreign warrants to be directly enforced in the UK The Act also contains important human rights protections for the fugitive and so the inter relationship between extradition and human rights is fully covered in the text This Guide places the new Act in the context of the previous extradition regime and provides a full commentary on the Act Although the Act will replace the current wide array of provisions contained in the Extradition Act 1989 many of its provisions are derived from the existing regime The Guide therefore draws on existing case law in order to make sense of the new Act for the reader The Guide deals with the extradition process in chronological order and is fully cross referenced allowing for easy use in court In addition the Guide will contain useful appendices including the European Arrest Warrant making it an essential reference work for all those practising in the extradition and international crime field

Why Not Torture Terrorists? Yuval Ginbar, 2008-03-27 The book addresses a dilemma at the heart of the War on Terror is it ever justifiable to torture terrorists in order to save the lives of innocent civilians the so called ticking bomb scenario The book first analyzes the ticking bomb dilemma as a pure moral one facing the individual would be torturer A never say never utilitarian position is pitted against a minimal absolutist view that some acts are never justifiable and that torture is one such act It then looks at the issues that arise once a state has decided to sanction torture in extreme situations when how and whom to torture the institutionalization of torture its effects on society and its efficacy in combatting terrorism in the shorter and longer runs Four models of legalized torture are next examined including current ones in Israel and the USA and the idea of torture warrants Finally related legal issues are analyzed among them the lawfulness of coercive interrogation under international law and attempts to allow torture only after the fact for instance by applying the criminal law defence of necessity A minimal absolutist view under which torture whether by private individuals or by state officials must be prohibited absolutely in law policy and practice and allowing no exceptions for ticking bomb situations is defended
